My Old Kentucky Homes Cookbook, 1990 Kentucky's Cookbook Heritage John van Willigen, 2014-11-12 A Southern historian combs through Kentucky cookbooks from the mid nineteenth century through the twentieth to reveal a fascinating cultural narrative In Kentucky's Cookbook Heritage John van Willigen explores the Bluegrass State's cultural and culinary history through the rich material found in regional cookbooks He begins in 1839 with Lettice Bryan's The Kentucky Housewife which includes pre Civil War recipes intended for use by a household staff instead of an individual cook along with instructions for serving the family Van Willigen also shares the story of the original Aunt Jemima the advertising persona of Nancy Green born in Montgomery County Kentucky who was one of many African American voices in Kentucky culinary history Kentucky's Cookbook Heritage is a journey through the history of the commonwealth showcasing the shifting attitudes and innovations of the times Analyzing the historical importance of a wide range of publications from the nonprofit and charity cookbooks that flourished at the end of the twentieth century to the contemporary cookbook that emphasizes local ingredients van Willigen provides a valuable perspective on the state's social history The Blue Grass Cook Book Minnie C. Fox, 1911 African American cooks were not strangers in the kitchens of the Old South but white southerners often failed to acknowledge their contributions One of the first exceptions was Kentucky socialite Minnie C Fox who recognized the significant influence and importance of the African American cooks and wrote The Blue Grass Cook Book first published in 1904 From biscuits and hams to ice creams and puddings this cookbook is a collection of over three hundred recipes from family and friends including black cooks near Minnie Fox's Bourbon County Kentucky family estate and her Big Stone Gap Virginia home In Fox's time the culinary history of black women in the South was usually characterized by demoralizing portraits of servants toiling in big house kitchens In contrast The Blue Grass Cook Book with its photographs of African American cooks at work and a passionate introduction by Fox's brother respected Kentucky novelist John Fox Jr offers insight into the complex bond between well to do mistresses and their cooks at the turn of the century Toni Tipton Martin's new introduction provides in depth commentary on the social cultural and historical context of this significant cookbook She presents background information on the Fox family and their apparently uncommon appreciation for the African Americans of their time She reveals the vital role of the black cooks in the preparation and service required in establishing the well known Southern hospitality tradition Burgoo, Barbecue, & Bourbon Albert W.A. A Century of Restaurants Rick Browne, 2013-10-15
From the public television host a tour of the US's oldest and greatest dining spots with delightful tales, delicious recipes, and hundreds of photographs. Ted Allen, host of Food Network's Chopped, comes along on a pilgrimage to some of the oldest, most historic restaurants in America. Each is special, not only for its longevity but also for its historic significance, interesting stories, and, of course, wonderful food. The oldest Japanese restaurant in the country is profiled along with stagecoach stops, elegant eateries, barbecue joints, hamburger shops, cafes, bars, and grills, and two dueling restaurants that both claim to have invented the French dip sandwich. The bestselling author and host producer of Barbecue America shares the charm, history, and appeal that made these establishments some as many as three hundred years old. Each profile contains a famous recipe, the history of the restaurant, a look at the restaurant today, descriptions of some of its signature dishes, fun facts that make each place unique, and beautiful photos. It's all you need for an armchair tour of one hundred restaurants that have made America great. Browne spent three years traveling more than 46,000 miles to profile the 100 restaurants, inns, taverns, and public houses he selected as being the most historic, most interesting, and most successful. Orlando Sentinel

It is Browne's exploration of the history behind each place that I found most interesting. The White Horse Tavern gave him the Beef Wellington recipe. Peter Luger, the legendary

Brooklyn Steakhouse shared one for German Fried Potatoes and Katz's Delicatessen in New York City offered Katz's Noodle Kugel And Ferrara in Little Italy in New York City parted with its cannoli recipe Sioux City Journal Ask any chef It's not easy keeping a restaurant alive for a week let alone a year or a decade So what does it take to last a century After five years of criss crossing the country and gobbling up regional specialties from chowder to chili Rick Browne reveals the answer to that question Ted Allen host of Food Network's Chopped The Second Man Wally Beebe,1997
