New Directions In Religious Education:

New Directions in Religious Education John Hull, 2018-12-21 First published in 1982 This book brings together some of the most influential articles which had moulded British religious education The articles are divided into specialised sections dealing with various aspects of the subject so that the main developments are clearly indicated The first section of the book deals with research into the religious psychology of childhood This is followed by two collections of articles dealing with the search for a philosophy of religious education and with the problems created for the teaching of religion in Britain by our pluralist society The fourth section deals with the problems of designing a curriculum in religious education while the final part gives some examples of methods in the teaching of religion The book thus provides both the general reader the student teacher and the specialist religious education teacher an easily accessible collection of many of the materials which had created British religious education

New Directions in Religious and Values Education Leslie J. Francis, David W. Lankshear, Stephen Parker, 2021 This volume brings together 15 studies reporting the latest international research on developments and trends in religious education Together these 15 studies illustrate recurrent themes affecting the development of religious education in diverse locations and also illustrate the distinctive trajectories of locations shaped by different histories and by different contemporary contexts These contributions were brought together in a recent seminar convened by the International Seminar on Religious Education and Values the leading international association for religious educators and values educators across the world This volume has selected key contributions made to the seminar spanning both conceptual and empirical perspectives rooted in both religious and secular traditions

New Directions in Religious Education Finola Cunnane, 2004 Is religious education a thing of the past or is it something whose time has not yet arrived In New Directions in Religious Education Finola Cunnane details her conviction that religious education is one of the most important issues facing our world to

Religious Education L. Philip Barnes, Andrew Davis, 2015-08-27 Religious Education Educating for Diversity raises issues that are central to the theory and practice of education and in particular religious education in modern liberal democracies characterized by diversity in its different forms What kind of religious education is best equipped both to challenge prejudice and intolerance in society and to develop responsible and respectful relationships between people from different communities or with different commitments Two eminent educators address this question and propose contrasting answers Attention is given to the aims of education and the contribution of religious education to the curriculum historical forms of religious education the nature of diversity in society the roots of prejudice different methodologies in religious education and their philosophical and religious commitments and to positive strategies to enable religious education to realise its potential and contribute to the social and moral aims of liberal education

Rethinking Religious Education and Plurality Robert Jackson, 2004 How should schools deal with religions in matters of curriculum procedure and policy As Western society becomes increasingly multicultural in character schools must reassess the provision of religious education and look at how they might adapt in order to accommodate students diverse experiences of plurality This book offers a critical view of approaches to the treatment of different religions in contemporary education in order to devise approaches to teaching and learning and to formulate policies and procedures that are fair and just to all Beginning with a contextual overview of the religious social and cultural changes of the past fifty years the book goes on to illuminate and assess six different responses to the challenges posed by religious plurality in schools Conclusions are drawn from the various positions explored in this book identifying what the character of religious education should be how it should be taught and addressing the issues raised for policy practice and research Rethinking Religious Education and Plurality argues for a plural approach to education and will be a valuable resource for students and researchers studying courses in religious education as well as teachers education advisers and policy makers

International Handbook of Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam Gearon, 2010-08-17 This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance of as well as collaboration between religions has essential educational value The development of this Handbook rests on the further assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights justice and peace Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world's religions teach about spiritual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understanding An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beginning is usually identified with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893 This was the first time in history that leaders of the eastern and western religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity

Teaching for Commitment Elmer John Thiessen, 1993 Elmer Thiessen provides a comprehensive critical survey of the debate concerning indoctrination especially in the context of confessional religious education His central aim is to establish that indoctrination as a result of religious instruction is neither inevitable nor as probable as is often assumed by advocates of liberal education Thiessen recognizes that indoctrination can occur in Christian homes and schools He believes however that before the charge of indoctrination can be correctly evaluated we need to develop a more coherent concept of the term He provides a critical examination of the four criteria traditionally associated with indoctrination content method intention and consequences and of the institutional context of indoctrination

The Religious Education of Adults Leon McKenzie, R. Michael Harton, 2002 Increasingly adults do not see the church as a credible provider of quality religious education This revision by R Michael Harton of the classic work by Leon McKenzie addresses the foundational issues of what constitutes such an education for adults and how ministers and teachers can determine and understand the needs of learners It also offers ways to involve learners in the planning and execution of their own religious education A must read for ministers and seminarians who care about the religious education of adults Leon McKenzie is a retired professor of adult education at Indiana University where he also served as Director of Human Resource Development for Indiana University Hospital He received his Ed D in adult education from IU and has authored several books including Adult Education and the Burden of the Future and Adult Education and World View Construction He lives in Indianapolis R Michael Harton has authored several articles on local church adult education and contributed to A Church's Ministry to Adults and Handbook on Adult Religious Education A former congregational educator and seminary professor he now serves the Virginia Baptist Resource Center in Richmond Virginia and teaches adjunctively at the Baptist Theological Seminary at Richmond He received his Ed D in adult education and instructional systems technology from Indiana University

Spirituality and Education Andrew Wright, 2003-09-02 Spirituality and Education introduces the basic contours of current debate in a form accessible to both classroom teachers across the curriculum range and to school managers It covers all key areas including problems of defining spirituality government legislation and supporting documentation relevant empirical research the social dimension of spirituality secular and religious manifestations of spirituality in contemporary society theories of childhood spiritual development contemporary approaches to spiritual education including collective worship and cross curricular teaching A variety of different perspectives and approaches will be offered and readers are encouraged to be reflective through a number of tasks which relate all issues raised directly back to their own specific circumstances The author includes questions quotes and lists of further reading

The Future of Protestant Religious Education in an Age of Globalization Hyun-Sook Kim, Richard R. Osmer, Friedrich Schweitzer, 2018 Global developments have come to shape our lives economically culturally and even religiously Young people growing up in a global age have to be prepared for living in this age Economic and technological demands are important but there also is a need for personal and social orientations that go beyond them This book provides both insights into the Protestant tradition in education as well as its meaning for the future of the church for society and for individual persons It follows an innovative approach by combining perspectives from three different contexts Germany with its important Protestant starting points in the Reformation the United States as a country which has been strongly influenced by Protestantism and South Korea with its comparatively young Protestant tradition The book is based on a combination of international points of view on transnational cooperation on comparative insights and on making constant reference to a global horizon Its presentations and ideas not only address globalization as a driving force behind many future developments but also demonstrate an exercise of global educational thinking Hyun Sook Kim is professor of Christian Education at the College of Theology Yonsei University Korea
