New Hungarian Peasants East Central European Experience With Collectivization East European Monographs:

East Central Europe Lawrence D. Orton, 1989 Peasants And Power Joan Sokolovsky, 2019-05-28 Focusing on events in Hungary and Poland from 1948 to 1962 Dr Sokolovsky shows why collectivization can best be understood as an element in state building for the new regimes of Eastern Europe For these countries policy options were constrained by dependence upon the Soviet Union and the economic demands of a newly industrializing society Econom East European Communities David A. Kideckel, 2019-03-07 This book focuses on communities in the east European transition and the diverse issues which people face in them on a daily basis It is organized around three themes economic change and privatization the transformation of social and political organization and changing community belief system Parallel Lives Calin Goina, 2024-12-15 This book explores the articulation between macro social historical transformations and the opportunities and constraints that the resultant political and property regimes presented for villagers It builds on ethnographic analyses of rural Eastern Europe by adding an historical analysis of the configurations and reconfigurations of life trajectories across three successive generations The villagers studied lived a succession of property and political configurations democratic and authoritarian regimes grounded in free market and private property until 1947 a totalitarian regime of state socialism until 1989 and a liberal democracy re building a free market economy from 1990 until today It also brings forward an empirical exploration of the concept of generation grounded on a re reading of Karl Mannheim The book is distinctive in its historical breath covering a century via a detailed rich ethnographic study that includes a diversity of social positions from the richest members of the community to those of very poor means and a diversity of three ethnicities and religions Privatization in Rural Eastern Europe David Turnock, 1998 Focuses on a major challenge facing countries in Eastern Europe the creation and maintenance of jobs in the agricultural sector The work argues that future employment may depend on the completion of the privatization process as well as improved efficiency and market opportunity Communism Unwrapped Paulina Bren, Mary Neuburger, 2012-09-20 Communism Unwrapped is a collection of essays that unwraps the complex world of consumption under communism in postwar Eastern Europe featuring new work by both American and European scholars writing from variety of disciplinary perspectives The result is a fresh look at everyday life under communism that explores the ways people shopped ate drank smoked cooked acquired exchanged and assessed goods These phenomena the editors argue were central to the way that communism was lived and experienced in its widely varied contexts in the region Consumption pervaded everyday life far more than most other political and social phenomena From design to production to retail sales and black market exchange Communism Unwrapped follows communist goods from producer to consumer tracing their circuitous routes In the communist world this journey was rife with its own meanings shaped by the special political and social circumstances of these societies In examining consumption behind the Iron Curtain this volume builds on a new field of study It brings dimension and nuance to our understanding of the communist period and a new perspective to our current analyses of consumerism

The Postsocialist Agrarian Question C. M. Hann, 2003 This is an age of neo liberalism in which the advantages and virtues of private property are often taken for granted Post socialist governments have privatized and broken up state farms and socialist cooperatives However economic outcomes and the social insecurity now experienced by many rural inhabitants highlight the need for a broader anthropological analysis of property relations which go beyond changes of legal form A century after Kautsky addressed The Agrarian Question in Germany it is necessary to address a post socialist Agrarian Question throughout Central and Eastern Europe the former Soviet Union and China The studies collected here derive from the first cycle of projects carried out at the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology They are prefaced by a substantial introduction by Chris Hann Chris Hann is Director of the Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology Halle Saale

Post-Socialist Peasant? D. Kaneff, 2001-12-03 During the past decade life in post socialist states has been fraught with instability and conflict This book focuses on changing rural urban relations and growing divisions between them in the context of the reforms Contributions to this volume explore responses to capitalist oriented policies and reasons for rural disenfranchisement The work takes an ethnographic approach to exploring how global processes engage with local rural concerns in the post socialist world

Transforming Peasants, Property and Power Constantin Iordachi, Dorin Dobrinicu, 2009-06-15 The subject matter of the volume is part of larger research agenda on the process of land collectivization in the former communist camp focusing on state identity and property The main innovation of the volume is to apply recent interdisciplinary approaches to the study of the collectivization process asking what types of new peasant state relations it formed and how it transformed notions of self persons and things such as land The project conceived of changes in the system of ownership as causing changes in the identity and attitude of people similarly it regarded the study of personal identities as essential for understanding changes in the system of ownership This perspective is rare in the area studies approaches to the topic

Does East Go West? Christian Giordano, Francois Ruegg, Andrea Boscoboinik, 2014 Does East Go West examines the study of post socialism from an anthropological perspective These social systems have posed a challenge to anthropological theory that has been the subject of lively exchanges for over 20 years now Can post socialism as a concept adequately apply to the current situation in Eastern Europe One of the answers proposed here is that specific elements derived from postcolonial studies may prove very useful in analyzing Eastern Europe s post socialist countries Series Freiburg Studies in Social Anthropology Freiburger Sozialanthropologische Studien Etudes d Anthropologie Sociale de l Universite de Fribourg Vol 38
