Baodong Liu, James M. Vanderleeuw

New Electoral Politics Of Race:

The New Electoral Politics of Race Matthew Justin Streb, 2002 Almost 40 years later segregation is no longer legal tensions between blacks and whites may have lessened and the influx of large numbers of African Americans into the electorate has forced politicians to court black voters Race And British Electoral Politics Shamit Saggat, 2004-01-14 Providing both an historical and theoretical analysis of race and ethnicity in politics the contributors examine the participation and influence of ethnic communities in electoral politics at both ends of the political spectrum The New Electoral Politics of Race Matthew J. Streb, 2000 Race, Ethnicity, and the Politics of City Redistricting Joshua G. Behr, 2004-03-11 Nationwide study of the proposal and adoption of minority opportunity districts at the local level Closest of Strangers: Liberalism and the Politics of Race in New York Jim Sleeper, 1991-09-17 In this study of race relations in N Y C Sleeper an editorial writer for New York Newsday harshly criticizes both black leaders and their liberal supporters for pointing a finger at America s racist society rather than setting concrete goals to overcome inequality Kirkus Reviews A report of the current state of race relations in New York City which examines the differing views of militants liberals and forgotten minorities and presents suggestions for racial common sense that attempt to demolish long standing stereotypes Everyday Identity and Electoral Politics Adam S. Harris, 2022 In Everyday Identity and Electoral Politics Adam S Harris explores how social identities such as ethnicity and race influence politics economic development and voting behavior in Sub Saharan Africa Drawing upon original survey data interviews focus groups and participant observations Harris conceptualizes a theory of identity construction that both predicts differences in vote choice and theorizes how the identity construction process shapes differential outcomes in vote choice within ethnic groups It is one of the first studies that directly links the every day ethnic identity construction process with voting behavior and it is the first to do so using a continuous conceptualization of ethnicity i e one capable of shifting over time Race, Politics and Social Change Les Back, John Solomos, 2002-01-31 Drawing on a wealth of original sources this book explores the changing contours of the politics of race in the present social and political environment This will appeal to students of British politics and society Race Rules Baodong Liu, James M. Vanderleeuw, 2007-10-15 Race Rules Electoral Politics in New Orleans 1965 2006 examines one of the innumerable ramifications of Hurricane Katrina a reversal in the decades long process of racial transition from white dominant to black dominant The electoral consequences of such a racial change in a city where race has historically played a pronounced social economic and political role are potentially dramatic In light of the 2006 New Orleans mayoral election the following emerges as a significant question Does a change in the population s racial composition mean a reversal in the political status of African Americans in New Orleans To address this question Liu and Vanderleeuw investigate racial voting patterns in New Orleans municipal elections over a forty year span from 1965 to 2006 Race Rules argues that as an enduring influence in urban politics race manifests as either electoral conflict or electoral accommodation but not as acceptance of the political empowerment of other race members What Can You Say? John Hartigan Jr.,2010-06-10 We are in a transitional moment in our national conversation on race Despite optimistic predictions that Barack Obama s election would signal the end of race as an issue in America the race related news stories just keep coming Race remains a political and polarizing issue and the sprawling unwieldy and often maddening means we have developed to discuss and evaluate what counts as racial can be frustrating In What Can You Say John Hartigan Jr examines a watershed year of news stories taking these events as a way to understand American culture and challenge our existing notions of what is racial or not The book follows race stories that have made news headlines including Don Imus s remarks about the Rutgers women s basketball team protests in Jena Louisiana and Barack Obama s presidential campaign to trace the shifting contours of mainstream U S public discussions of race as they incorporate new voices words and images Focused on the underlying dynamics of American culture that shape this conversation this book aims to make us more fluent in assessing the stories we consume about race Advancing our conversation on race hinges on recognizing and challenging the cultural conventions governing the ways we speak about and recognize race In drawing attention to this curious cultural artifact our national conversation on race Hartigan ultimately offers a way to to understand race in the totality of American culture as a constantly evolving debate As this book demonstrates the conversation is far from over Immigrants and Electoral Politics Heath Brown,2016-08-31 In Immigrants and Electoral Politics Heath Brown shows why nonprofit electoral participation has emerged in relationship to new threats to immigrants on one hand and immigrant integration into U S society during a time of demographic change on the other Immigrants across the United States tend to register and vote at low rates thereby limiting the political power of many of their communities In an attempt to boost electoral participation through mobilization some nonprofits adopt multifaceted political strategies including registering new voters holding candidate forums and phone banking to increase immigrant voter turnout Other nonprofits opt to barely participate at all in electoral politics preferring to advance the immigrant community by providing exclusively social services Brown interviewed dozens of nonprofit leaders and surveyed hundreds of organizations To capture the breadth of the immigrant experience Brown selected organizations operating in traditional centers of immigration as well as new gateways for immigrants across the South Florida Illinois Michigan New Jersey New York and North Carolina The stories that emerge from his research include incredible successes in mobilizing immigrant communities including organizations that registered sixty thousand new immigrant voters in New York They also reveal efforts to suppress nonprofit voter mobilization in Florida and describe the organizational response to hate crimes directed at immigrants in Illinois
