Inhabiting Borders, Routes Home Ala Sirriyeh, 2016-05-23 In recent years there has been growing interest in the experiences of young people seeking asylum in Europe While the significance of the role of age is recognized both youth transitions and trajectories beyond the age of eighteen are still largely unexplored the role and impact of mobility predominantly centering on experiences of movement from country of origin to country of settlement Inhabiting Borders Routes Home contends that in considering migration and settlement experiences of young refugees it is also important to consider the role of their mobility through age and transitions in the country of settlement Based on narrative research with young refugees this book explores how migration journeys are intertwined with life course journeys and transitions into adulthood shedding light on the manner in which gender intersects with age in experiences of migration and settlement with close attention to the processes by which home is understood and constructed Through the concept of home the book draws together and reflects on interconnections between integration in areas such as education or housing and experiences of social networks Examining experiences of the asylum process and the manner in which they are interwoven within a wider narrative of home both within and beyond Inhabiting Borders Routes Home will be of interest to social scientists working in the areas of migration asylum intersectionality and the life course Publication ,1993 Bulletin of Bibliography and Dramatic Index ,1917 Annual Reports of the Officers of State of the State of Indiana Indiana,1908 Power from the People Greg Pahl,2012-08-13 Over 90 percent of US power generation comes from large centralized highly polluting nonrenewable sources of energy It is delivered through long brittle transmission lines and then is squandered through inefficiency and waste But it doesn't have to be that way Communities can indeed produce their own local renewable energy Power from the People explores how homeowners co ops nonprofit institutions governments and businesses are putting power in the hands of local communities through distributed energy programs and energy efficiency measures Using examples from around the nation and occasionally from around the world Greg Pahl explains how to plan organize finance and launch community scale energy projects that harvest energy from sun wind water and earth He also explains why community power is a necessary step on the path to energy security and community resilience particularly as we face peak oil cope with climate change and address the need to transition to a more sustainable future This book the second in the Chelsea Green Publishing Company and Post Carbon Institute's Community Resilience Series also profiles numerous communitywide initiatives that can be replicated elsewhere Internal Revenue Bulletin United States. Internal Revenue Service,1979 The New Education ,1896 The Citizen-Powered Energy Handbook Greg Pahl,2007-03-07 In the wake of Hurricane Katrina Al Gore's summer blockbuster An Inconvenient Truth and crude oil prices soaring to all time highs more people than ever know the truth about our oil addiction Global warming is here M King Hubbert's oil peak is fast approaching or may already have arrived The secret's out fossil fuel reserves are dwindling and popular interest has created the need for accessible realistic solutions The Citizen Powered Energy Handbook a clear eyed view of the critical situation we face offers ways out Greg Pahl examines energy technologies currently available and homes in on renewable energy strategies that can be adopted by individuals and communities Such cooperative initiatives have been common in Europe for years and are beginning to gain a foothold in the US Each chapter focuses on a different renewable energy category solar wind water biomass liquid biofuels and geothermal then reviews their advantages and disadvantages and describes numerous examples of successful proven local initiatives The Citizen Powered Energy Handbook is an eloquent appeal for community and regional action to initiate an array of solutions to energy needs until now controlled by large distant utilities and consortiums It is time to take back control of the energy and environmental challenges ahead this book will help people do just that It is a handbook for anyone ready to take the first steps towards a more sustainable future Heating, Cooling, Lighting Norbert Lechner, 2014-10-13 Sustainable environmental control through building design Heating Cooling and Lighting is the industry standard text on environmental control systems with the emphasis on sustainable design By detailing the many factors that contribute to the comfort in a building this book helps architects minimize mechanical systems and energy usage over the life of the building by siting building design and landscaping to maximize natural heating cooling and lighting This new fourth edition includes new information on integrated design strategies and designing for the Tropics Resources include helpful case studies checklists diagrams and a companion website featuring additional cases an image bank and instructor materials Designing buildings that require less energy to heat cool and light means allowing the natural energy of the sun and wind to reduce the burden on the mechanical and electrical systems Basic design decisions regarding size orientation and form have a great impact on the sustainability cost and comfort of a building Heating Cooling and Lighting provides detailed guidance for each phase of a design project Readers will Understand the concept of sustainability as applied to energy sources Review the basic principles of thermal comfort and the critical role of climate Learn the fundamentals of solar responsive design including active and passive solar systems as well as photovoltaics Discover how siting architectural design and landscaping can reduce the requirements for mechanical and electrical systems In sustainable design mechanical and electrical systems should be used to only accomplish what the architect could not by the design of the building itself With this in mind designers require a comprehensive understanding of both the properties of energy and the human factors involved in thermal comfort Heating Cooling and Lighting is the complete industry leading resource for designers interested in sustainable environmental control
