Islamist Militancy in Bangladesh Ali Riaz,2012-08-21 In an unprecedented show of force organization and skill two proscribed Islamist militant organizations exploded more than 450 bombs within a span of less than an hour throughout Bangladesh on 17 August 2005 sending a strong message that they were a force to be reckoned with This catastrophic event followed by a number of suicide attacks forced the then reluctant Bangladeshi government a coalition of center right parties with two Islamists among them to acknowledge the existence of a network of militants and take action against this threat Against this backdrop this book is the first academic study on the growing Islamist militancy in Bangladesh It examines the relevance significance and trajectories of militant Islamist groups in Bangladesh exploring the complex web of domestic regional and international events and dynamics that have both engendered and strengthened Islamist militancy in Bangladesh The three factors domestic regional and international aspects are each discussed separately and their connection and links are analyzed It goes on to consider possible future trajectories of militant Islamism in Bangladesh This book addresses an issue of great importance for contemporary Bangladeshi politics and will be of interest to scholars of international politics and security studies including terrorism and the politics of South Asia

Islam and International Relations Faiz Sheikh,2016-07-11 International Relations tends to rely on concepts that developed on the European continent obscuring the fact that its history is far less international than one might expect But in today s global world who does this ignore and marginalize And what impact does that have on the discipline s potential to assess world politics This book explores an Islamic approach to the international showing that Islam can contribute keen insights into how we do IR and how we might change that practice to be more inclusive while also highlighting the limits of an Islamic International Relations Exploring conceptualizations of community and difference in Islamic traditions the book relates these notions to concepts that are considered universal in IR such as state based politics and the necessity for secularism In this way the book shows how the study of political Islam might help to interrogate and redefine key concepts within international politics In a world of continuing polarization between Islam and the West this book offers IR a chance to engage in a constructive dialogue with Islamic traditions in order to better understand global politics
