Howells,2006 Ragged Lady William Dean Howells,2015-06-26 Excerpt from Ragged Lady A Novel It was their first summer at Middlemount and the Landers did not know the roads When they came to a place where they had a choice of two she said that now he must get out of the carry all and ask at the house standing a little back in the edge of the pine woods which road they ought to take for South Middlemount She alleged many cases in which they had met trouble through his perverse reluctance to find out where they were before he pushed rashly forward in their drives Whilst she urged the facts she reached forward from the back seat where she sat and held her hand upon the reins to prevent his starting the horse which was impartially cropping first the sweet fern on one side and then the blueberry bushes on the other side of the narrow wheel track She declared at last that if he would not get out and ask she would do it herself and at this the dry little man jerked the reins in spite of her and the horse suddenly pulled the carry all to the right and seemed about to upset it About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
