Carradine and the rise and fall of his Shakespearean Repertory Company 12 The Shock Theatre television phenomenon And 13 A Tribute to Carl Laemmle Jr producer of the original Universal horror classics including an interview with his lady friend of almost 40 years Hollywood on the Hudson Richard Koszarski,2008-08-27 In Hollywood on the Hudson Richard Koszarski rewrites an important part of the history of American cinema During the 1920s and 1930s film industry executives had centralized the mass production of feature pictures in a series of gigantic film factories scattered across Southern California while maintaining New York as the economic and administrative center But as Koszarski reveals many writers producers and directors also continued to work here especially if their independent vision was too big for the Hollywood production line Backstory 2 Patrick McGilligan,1991 Interviews with screenwriters Susan Hayward Kim R. Holston,2015-07-11 This biography of Susan Hayward one of Hollywood s leading ladies of the 1940s and 1950s covers her childhood school years early modeling career and development as an actress It also documents her personal life including her marriages and attempted suicide and her illness and death at the age of 56 It provides an analysis of each of her feature films with comments from contemporary reviewers and places Hayward and her films in the context of Hollywood and motion picture history The filmography gives cast and production credits for both motion pictures and television movies More than Night James Naremore,2008-01-14 Film noir evokes memories of stylish cynical black and white movies from the 1940s and 50s melodramas about private eyes femmes fatales criminal gangs and lovers on the run James Naremore s prize winning book discusses these pictures but also shows that the central term is more complex and paradoxical than we realize It treats noir as a term in criticism as an expression of artistic modernism as a symptom of Hollywood censorship and politics as a market strategy as an evolving style and as an idea that circulates through all the media This new and expanded edition of More Than Night contains an additional chapter on film noir in the twenty first century Pictures at a Revolution Mark Harris,2008-02-14 The epic human drama behind the making of the five movies nominated for Best Picture in 1967 Guess Who s Coming to Dinner The Graduate In the Heat of the Night Doctor Doolittle and Bonnie and Clyde and through them the larger story of the cultural revolution that transformed Hollywood and America forever It s the mid 1960s and westerns war movies and blockbuster musicals Mary Poppins The Sound of Music dominate the box office The Hollywood studio system with its cartels of talent and its production code is hanging strong or so it would seem Meanwhile Warren Beatty wonders why his career isn t blooming after the success of his debut in Splendor in the Grass Mike Nichols wonders if he still has a career after breaking up with Elaine May and even though Sidney Poitier has just made history by becoming the first black Best Actor winner he s still feeling completely cut off from opportunities other than the same noble black man role And a young actor named Dustin Hoffman struggles to find any work at all By the Oscar ceremonies of the spring of 1968 when In the Heat of the Night wins the 1967 Academy Award for Best Picture a cultural revolution has hit Hollywood with the force of a tsunami The unprecedented violence and nihilism of fellow nominee Bonnie and Clyde has shocked old guard reviewers but helped catapult Warren Beatty and Faye Dunaway into counterculture stardom and made the movie one of the year's biggest box office successes Just as unprecedented has been the run of nominee The Graduate which launched first time director Mike Nichols into a long and brilliant career in filmmaking to say nothing of what it did for Dustin Hoffman Simon and Garfunkel and a generation of young people who knew that whatever their future was it wasn't in plastics Sidney Poitier has reprised the noble black man role brilliantly not once but twice in Guess Who's Coming to Dinner and In the Heat of the Night movies that showed in different ways both how far America had come on the subject of race in 1967 and how far it still had to go What City of Nets did for Hollywood in the 1940s and Easy Riders Raging Bulls for the 1970s Pictures at a Revolution does for Hollywood and the cultural revolution of the 1960s As we follow the progress of these five movies we see an entire industry change and struggle and collapse and grow we see careers made and ruined studios born and destroyed and the landscape of possibility altered beyond all recognition We see some outsized personalities staking the bets of their lives on a few films that became iconic works that defined the generation and other outsized personalities making equally large wagers that didn't pan out at all The product of extraordinary and unprecedented access to the principals of all five films married to twenty years worth of insight covering the film industry and a bewitching storyteller's gift Mark Harris's Pictures at a Revolution is a bravura accomplishment and a work that feels iconic itself

Hollywood Genres and Postwar America Mike Chopra-Gant, 2005-10-28 This is a clear and engrossing account of how popular films in America just after the close of the Second World War played out America's mood at that crucial time It is also a revisionist challenge to received scholarly understanding of this mood which has tended to be seen as characterized by an abiding pessimism most clearly manifested in the films noir of the period Chopra Gant makes here an important contribution to film genre which proposes that the noir and Zeitgeist reading is based on the retrospective promotion of selected movies He turns to the top box office successes of the period including Best Years of our Lives The Jolson Story and Two Years Before the Mast finding that these films emphasise rather the triumph of American beliefs in democracy classlessness and individualism They deploy positive performative masculinities and the pleasures of male friendships and celebrate the traditional American family while recognising the problems of momism and absent fathers
