Reflections on
George F. Kennan F. Joseph Dresen, 2008 Melancholy and the Otherness of God Alina N. Feld, 2011-12-16 An impressive study that prompts the reader toward philosophical reflection on the hermeneutics of melancholy in its relation to maturing theological understanding and cultivation of a profound self consciousness Melancholy has been interpreted as a deadly sin or demonic temptation to non being yet its history of interpretation reveals a progressive coming to terms with the dark mood that ultimately unveils it as the self's own ground and a trace of the abysmal nature of God The book advances two provocative claims that far from being a contingent condition melancholy has been progressively acknowledged as constitutive of subjectivity as such a trace of divine otherness and pathos and that the effort to transcend melancholy like Perseus vanquishing Medusa is a necessary labor of maturing self consciousness Reductive attempts to eliminate it besides being dangerously utopian risk overcoming the labor of the soul that makes us human This study sets forth a rigorous scholarly argument that spans several disciplines including philosophy theology psychology and literary studies
