Reform Of Time Magic And Modernity:

The Reform of Time Maureen Perkins, 2001-03-20 Perkins communication and cultural studies Curtin U of Technology challenges the idea that the decline of magic is the result of the rise of scientific knowledge and the spread of education She argues that 19th century marginalization of superstition is part of a social history of time management In the course of her discussion she relates differing concepts of time to colonial discourse surveys technological developments in the calculation of time and assesses the role of popular beliefs in astrology books of fate and prophetic dreaming Distributed by Stylus Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

The Magical Imagination Karl Bell, 2012-02-23 Innovative history of the popular magical imagination and ordinary people's experience of urbanization in nineteenth century England

Magical Thinking Stuart McWilliams, 2011-12-08 Examining how scholarly writing has contended or conspired with discourses of enchantment from the Middle Ages to the present

On Time On Barak, 2013-07-19 In this pioneering history of transportation and communication in the modern Middle East On Barak argues that contrary to accepted wisdom technological modernity in Egypt did not drive a sense of time focused on standardization only Surprisingly the introduction of the steamer railway telegraph tramway and telephone in colonial Egypt actually triggered the development of unique timekeeping practices that resignified and subverted the typical modernist infatuation with expediency and promptness These countertempos predicated on uneasiness over dehumanizing European standards of efficiency sprang from and contributed to non linear modes of arranging time Barak shows how these countertempos formed and developed with each new technological innovation during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries contributing to a particularly Egyptian sense of time that extends into the present day exerting influence over contemporary political language in the Arab world The universal notion of a modern mechanical standard time and the deviations supposedly characterizing non Western settings from time immemorial On Time provocatively argues were in fact mutually constitutive and mutually reinforcing

Making Magic Randall Styers, 2004-01-15 Since the emergence of religious studies and the social sciences as academic disciplines the concept of magic has played a major role in defining religion and in mediating the relation of religion to science Across these disciplines magic has regularly been configured as a definitively non modern phenomenon juxtaposed to distinctly modern models of religion and science Yet this notion of magic has remained stubbornly amorphous In Making Magic Randall Styers seeks to account for the extraordinary vitality of scholarly discourse purporting to define and explain magic despite its failure to do just that He argues that this persistence can best be explained in light of the Western drive to establish and secure distinctive norms for modern identity norms based on narrow forms of instrumental rationality industrious labor rigidly defined sexual roles and the containment of wayward forms of desire Magic has served to designate a form of alterity or deviance against which dominant Western notions of appropriate religious piety legitimate scientific rationality and orderly social relations are brought into relief Scholars have found magic an invaluable tool in their efforts to define the appropriate boundaries of religion and science On a broader level says Styers magical thinking has served as an important foil for modernity itself Debates over the nature of magic have offered a particularly rich site at which scholars have worked to define and to contest the nature of modernity and norms for life in the modern world New Perspectives in British Cultural History Rosalind Crone, David Gange, Katy Jones, 2021-03-04 This book is composed of a selection of papers presented at a conference in Cambridge in December 2005 Cultural history is a relatively new sub discipline Over the past few decades it has become increasingly apparent that a new generation of historians has emerged These scholars have become concerned with research sources and questions traditionally beyond the scope of the discipline of history Indeed recent monographs in history have demonstrated a growing awareness of the cultural imagination in analyses of patterns of change and continuity in the past Such a movement has also encouraged the development of new networks between different disciplines in the Arts and Social Sciences The authors of these chapters come from a wide range of academic backgrounds While all are concerned with crucial issues of the past they represent a substantial variety of disciplines In addition to the historians are those trained and working in literary studies art history design music and science As early career scholars the research they present is cutting edge these contributions represent the very latest trends in cultural studies and demonstrate the attempts of new researchers to answer the most current and challenging questions that are being proposed in this field

The colonisation of time Giordano Nanni, 2020-10-20 The Colonisation of Time is a highly original and long overdue examination of the ways that western European and specifically British concepts and rituals of time were imposed on other cultures as a fundamental component of colonisation during the nineteenth century Based on a wealth of primary sources it explores the intimate relationship between the colonisation of time and space in two British settler colonies Victoria Australia and the Cape Colony South Africa and its instrumental role in the exportation of Christianity capitalism and modernity thus adding new depth to our understanding of imperial power and of the ways in which it was exercised and limited All those intrigued by the concept of time will find this book of interest for it illustrates how western European time s rise to a position of global dominance from the clock to the seven day week is one of the most pervasive enduring and taken for granted legacies of colonisation in today s world The Cambridge History of Magic and Witchcraft in the West David J. Collins, S. J., 2015-03-02 This book presents twenty chapters by experts in their fields providing a thorough and interdisciplinary overview of the theory and practice of magic in the West Its chronological scope extends from the Ancient Near East to twenty first century North America its objects of analysis range from Persian curse tablets to US neo paganism For comparative purposes the volume includes chapters on developments in the Jewish and Muslim worlds evaluated not simply for what they contributed at various points to European notions of magic but also as models of alternative development in ancient Mediterranean legacy Similarly the volume highlights the transformative and challenging encounters of Europeans with non Europeans regarding the practice of magic in both early modern colonization and more recent decolonization In the Mean Time Erin Murrah-Mandril, 2020-04-01 The 1848 Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo which transferred more than a third of Mexico's territory to the United States deferred full U.S. citizenship for Mexican Americans but promised in the mean time to protect their property and liberty Erin Murrah Mandril demonstrates that the U.S. government deployed a colonization of time in the Southwest to insure political and economic underdevelopment in the region and to justify excluding Mexican Americans from narratives of U.S. progress In In the Mean Time Murrah Mandril contends that Mexican American authors challenged modern conceptions of empty homogenous linear and progressive time to contest U.S. colonization Taking a cue from Latina/o and borderlands spatial theories Murrah Mandril argues that time like space is a socially constructed ideologically charged medium of power in the Southwest In In the Mean Time draws on literature autobiography political documents and historical narratives composed between 1870 and 1940 to examine the way U.S. colonization altered time in the borderlands Rather than reinforce the colonial time structure early Mexican American authors exploited the internal contradictions of Manifest Destiny and U.S. progress to resist domination and situate themselves within the shifting political economic and historical present Read as decolonial narratives the Mexican American cultural productions examined in this book also offer a new way of understanding Latina/o literary history

The Spectralities Reader Maria del Pilar Blanco, Esther Peeren, 2013-08-29 Ghosts spirits and specters have played important roles in narratives throughout history and across nations and cultures A watershed moment for this area of study was the publication of Derrida's Specters of Marx in 1993 marking the inauguration of a spectral turn in cultural criticism Gathering together the most compelling texts of the past twenty years the editors transform the field of spectral studies with this first ever reader employing the ghost as an analytical and methodological tool The Spectralities Reader takes ghosts and haunting on their own terms as wide ranging phenomena that are not conscripted to a single aesthetic genre or style Divided into six thematically discreet sections the reader covers issues of philosophy politics media spatiality subject formation gender race and sexuality and historiography It anthologizes the previously published work of theoretical heavyweights from different disciplinary and cultural backgrounds such as Jacques Derrida Gayatri Spivak and Giorgio Agamben alongside work by literary and cultural historians such as Jeffrey Sconce and Roger Luckhurst
