S. Committee On Governmental Affairs, 2019-02-16 Excerpt from Reforming Government What Really Needs to Be Done Hearing Before the Committee on Governmental Affairs United States Senate One Hundred Third Congress Second Session January 27 1994 Yet we have gone hearing after hearing year after year and the inertia of government prevails I think we must be tough The system must be changed and we must respond to these problems Let me give you just a couple of examples The government now has at least 878 financial management systems more than applications Only 30 percent of these systems come up to normally accepted business standards Let me repeat that Only 30 percent of these systems come up to normally accepted business standards The Internal Revenue Service has an estimated 120 billion owed to it A lot of that is from businesses that are bankrupt or individual bankruptcies and not collectible but there is billion in accounts receivable that are actually collectible right now if we just go after it That is by their own estimate In the first 9 months of fiscal 1993 contractors returned billion to the Defense Department saying they hadn't been sent a bill to begin with or were not owed the money These were payments made where no bill was submitted About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
