Reframing Abstract Expressionism Michael Leja, 2017 In the wake of World War II the paintings of Jackson Pollock Mark Rothko Barnett Newman Willem de Kooning and other New York School artists participated in a culture wide initiative to reimagine the self At a time when widely held beliefs about human nature and the human condition were coming to seem to many commentators increasingly outdated and inadequate Abstract Expressionism gave compelling visual form to a new subjectivity a new experience and idea of self In this original and wide ranging study Michael Leja argues that the interest of these artists in tapping primitive and unconscious components of self aligns them with many contemporary essayists Hollywood filmmakers journalists and popular philosophers who were turning like the artists to psychology anthropology and philosophy in the effort to reformulate individual identity Taking Pollock s paintings and their reception as a case study Leja shows that critics located in Pollock s abstract forms a web of metaphors including spatial entrapment conflicted production energy flow gendered opposition and unconsciousness that situated the paintings in mainstream cultural discourses on the individual s sense of self and identity In this interpretative frame the cultural and ideological character of the art is illuminated According to Leja Abstract Expressionism effectively enacted and represented the new conflicted layered subjectivity a feature that helps to account for the support and interest it garnered from cultural and political institutions alike Publisher s description

Existential America

George Cotkin, 2003 As Cotkin shows not only did Americans readily take to existentialism but they were already heirs to a rich tradition of thinkers from Jonathan Edwards and Herman Melville to Emily Dickinson and William James who had wrestled with the problems of existence and the contingency of the world long before Sartre and his colleagues After introducing the concept of an American existential tradition Cotkin examines how formal existentialism first arrived in America in the 1930s through discussion of Kierkegaard and the early vogue among New York intellectuals for the works of Sartre Beauvoir and Camus
