innovative and fast paced world of contemporary nonfiction television and film The Sixties Paul Monaco,2003-06 This book covers the 1960 s as part of the definitive history of American cinema from its emergence in the 1800s to the present day In the Mind's Eye Mary A. Peterson,Barbara Gillam,H. A. Sedgwick,2007-01-04 How can we best describe the processes by which we visually perceive our environment Contemporary perceptual theory still lacks a coherent theoretical position that encompasses both the limitations on the information that can be retained from a single eye fixation and the abundant phenomenal and behavioral evidence for the perception of an extended and coherent world As a result many leading theorists and researchers in visual perception are turning with new or renewed interest to the work of Julian Hochberg For over 50 years in his own experimental research in his detailed consideration of examples drawn from a wide range of visual experiences and activities and most of all in his brilliant and sophisticated theoretical analyses Hochberg has persistently engaged with the myriad problems inherent in working out the kind of coherent theoretical position the field currently lacks The complexity of his thought and the wide range of areas into which Hochberg has pursued the solution to this central problem have however limited both the accessibility of his work and the appreciation of his accomplishment In this volume we seek to bring the full range of Hochberg s work to the attention of a wider audience by offering a selection of his key works many taken from out of print or relatively inaccessible sources To facilitate the understanding of his accomplishment and of what his work has to offer to contemporary researchers and theorists in visual perception we include commentaries on salient aspects of his work by 20 noted researchers In the Mind s Eye will be of interest to researchers working on topics such as perceptual organization visual attention space perception motion perception visual cognition the relationship between perception and action picture perception and film who are striving to obtain a deeper understanding of their own fields and who want to integrate this understanding into a broader unified view of visual perceptual processing goals rather than searching for a unified theory Post Theory offers fresh directions for understanding film presenting new essays by twenty seven scholars on topics as diverse as film scores audience response and the national film industries of Russia Scandinavia the U S and Japan They use historical philosophical psychological and feminist methods to tackle such basic issues as What goes on when viewers perceive a film How do filmmakers exploit conventions How do movies create illusions How does a film arouse emotion Bordwell and Carroll have given space not only to distinguished film scholars but to non film specialists as well ensuring a wide variety of opinions and ideas on virtually every topic on the current agenda of film studies Full of stimulating essays published here for the first time Post Theory promises to redefine the study of cinema

The Complete Guide to Low-Budget Feature Filmmaking Josh Becker, Bruce Campbell, 2006-02-01 Most books about film production assume that you have an idea and a script to shoot Most screenwriting books are geared to how to write a script that you can sell to Hollywood as though the authors of these books had the slightest clue and do not take into consideration that you might be shooting the script yourself possibly with your own money This book is about how to write a script properly that you can rationally shoot how to shoot it how to finish it how to sell it and also how to get it shown

Lighting for Cinematography David Landau, 2014-06-19 We can't shoot good pictures without good lighting no matter how good the newest cameras are Shooting under available light gives exposure but lacks depth contrast contour atmosphere and often separation The story could be the greatest in the world but if the lighting is poor viewers will assume it is amateurish and not take it seriously Feature films and TV shows commercials and industrial videos reality TV and documentaries even event and wedding videos tell stories Good lighting can make them look real while real lighting often makes them look fake Lighting for Cinematography the first volume in the new CineTech Guides to the Film Crafts series is the indispensable guide for film and video lighting Written by veteran gaffer and cinematographer David Landau the book helps the reader create lighting that supports the emotional moment of the scene contributes to the atmosphere of the story and augments an artistic style Structured to mimic a 14 week semester the chapters cover such things as lighting for movement working with windows night lighting lighting the three planes of action and non fiction lighting Every chapter includes stills lighting diagrams and key advice from professionals in the field as well as lighting exercises to help the reader put into practice what was covered www.lightingforcinematography.com Resources in Education, 1996
