Shropshire Postcards From The Past:

Shropshire Postcards from the Past Ray Farlow, David Trumper, 2005-09 Shropshire is a large inland county that has been influenced by countless generations from the Celts Romans Saxons and Normans through to the present day Towards the end of the 19th century and into the 20th century many enterprising national and local photographers travelled around the country taking thousands of photographs of people places and events that were then turned into postcards Thankfully many of these cards still survive tucked away in old albums or stored in attics and at the back of drawers and cupboards They give us a glimpse of how life was at this time and how things have altered during the last century as progress has accelerated The area covered in this volume is south of Shrewsbury and roughly west of a line from the county town down through Ludlow It is a land containing a huge variety of scenery rich fertile valleys open barren moors and heathland undulating foothills to the heights of the Long Mynd and the boulder strewn Stiperstones Within this section there is the beautiful town of Ludlow as well as the smaller market towns of Bishop s Castle Clun Craven Arms and Church Stretton This volume of many previously unseen postcard views of the county is sure to appeal to anyone with an interest in this beautiful corner of the world

Shropshire Postcards from the Past Ray Farlow, David Trumper, 2006 Appealing to anyone with an interest in Shropshire s local history the photographs in this title are taken from Ray Farlow s unique collection of old picture postcards and show the buildings countryside and the lives of the people who lived in the area long before the new town of Telford was envisaged
