Richard Hammond, 2020-06-25 This is a major reassessment of the causes of Allied victory in the Second World War in the Mediterranean region Drawing on a unique range of multinational source material Richard Hammond demonstrates how the Allies ability to gain control of the key routes across the sea and sink large quantities of enemy shipping denied the Axis forces in North Africa crucial supplies and proved vital to securing ultimate victory there Furthermore the sheer scale of attrition to Axis shipping outstripped their industrial capacity to compensate leading to the collapse of the Axis position across key territories maintained by seaborne supply such as Sardinia Corsica and the Aegean islands As such Hammond demonstrates how the anti shipping campaign in the Mediterranean was the fulcrum about which strategy in the theatre pivoted and the vital enabling factor ultimately leading to Allied victory in the region History of United States Naval Operations in World War II.
