Colonialism and Homosexuality Robert Aldrich, 2008-01-28 Colonialism and Homosexuality is a thorough investigation of the connections of homosexuality and imperialism from the late 1800s the era of new imperialism until the era of decolonization Robert Aldrich reconstructs the context of a number of liaisons including those of famous men such as Cecil Rhodes E M Forster or Andr Gide and the historical situations which produced both the Europeans and their non Western lovers Colonial lands which in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century included most of Africa South and Southeast Asia and the islands of the Pacific and Indian Oceans and the Caribbean provided a haven for many Europeans whose sexual inclinations did not fit neatly into the constraints of European society Each of the case studies is a micro history of a particular colonial situation a sexual encounter and its wider implications for cultural and political life Students both of colonial history and of gender and queer studies will find this an informative read

Tropical Medicine in the Twentieth Century Helen J. Power, 2012-11-12 First published in 1998 Despite the upsurge of interest in the history of tropical medicine international public health and the provision of health care in colonial and post colonial tropical countries no major text discusses the history of the academic discipline in the twentieth century In Britain the two Schools of Tropical Medicine opened within six months of each other in the final year of the nineteenth century They have played a pivotal role in developing tropical medicine as an academic discipline in postgraduate medicine with an active research profile The Schools also affected the development of health care in the tropical colonies They trained the Medical Officers of the Colonial Medical Service and the indigenous doctors whose training failed to include infectious endemic diseases and lacked an emphasis on community health The Schools also contributed to a body of knowledge applied by the colonial powers international agencies and independent nation states as part of their health care programmes Ultimately the Schools helped the developing world to establish its own priorities for health This volume charts the history of the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine from 1898 to 1990

Madness in the Family C. Coleborne, 2009-11-18 Madness in the Family explores how colonial families coped with insanity through a trans colonial study of the relationships between families and public colonial hospitals for the insane in New South Wales Victoria Queensland and New Zealand between 1860 and 1914

Planting Empire, Cultivating Subjects Lynn Hollen Lees, 2017-12-21 Planting Empire Cultivating Subjects examines the stories of ordinary people to explore the internal workings of colonial rule Chinese Indians and Malays learned about being British through the plantations towns schools and newspapers of a modernizing colony Yet they got mixed messages from the harsh racial hierarchies of sugar and rubber estates and cosmopolitan urban societies Empire meant mobility fluidity and hybridity as well as the enactment of racial privilege and rigid ethnic differences Using sources ranging from administrative files court transcripts and oral interviews to periodicals and material culture Professor Lees explores the nature and development of colonial governance and the ways in which Malayan residents experienced British rule in towns and plantations This is an innovative study demonstrating how empire brought with it both oppression and economic opportunity shedding new light on the shifting nature of colonial subjecthood and identity as well as the memory and afterlife of empire

The Transformation of Southeast Asia Ronald W. Pruessen, Marc Frey, Tan-Tai Yong, 2015-05-22 Providing the basis for a reconceptualization of key features in Southeast Asia's history this book examines evolutionary patterns of Europe's and Japan's Southeast Asian empires from the late 19th century through to the 1960s

Prostitution, Race, and Politics Philippa Levine, 2003 Publisher description The History of Indians in Zanzibar from the 1870s to 1963 Saada Wahab, 2022 This research examines the social political and economic history of Indians in Zanzibar in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries specifically between 1870s and 1963 Based on evidence collected from oral interviews and written archival documents this research work argues that the Indian migration history in Zanzibar during this period was impacted by their religious diversity economic factors and social factors as well as the British colonial interest This research analysis yielded a number of the following key findings First there were heterogeneous migration patterns among the Indian migrants in East Africa influenced by various factors including religion caste and the historical contexts in which particular migrants arrived Second numerous different social physical economic and political processes in India and East Africa motivated Indians to leave their homeland and form a migration community in Zanzibar from 1800 to 1963 Third the desire to pass on their religion traditions and customs to their descendants was a significant motivation for Indians to open their own private schools in Zanzibar Fourth the change of administration in 1890 had a major impact on the Indians in Zanzibar especially investors who had already invested heavily in the local economy Finally despite their minority status compared to other communities such as Africans and Arabs Indians participated in the politics of Zanzibar that led towards independence
