Staging Memory and Materiality in Eighteenth-Century Theatrical Biography Amanda Weldy Boyd, 2017-12-15 Staging Memory and Materiality in Eighteenth Century Theatrical Biography examines theatrical biography as a nascent genre in eighteenth century England This study specifically focuses on Thomas Davies 1780 memoir of David Garrick as the first moment of mastery in the genre's history the three way war for the right to tell Charles Macklin's story at the turn of the century and James Boaden's theatrical biography spree in the 1820s and 1830s including the lives of John Philip Kemble Sarah Siddons Dorothy Jordan and Elizabeth Inchbald This project investigates the extent to which biographers envisioned themselves as artists inheriting the anxiety of impermanence and correlating fear of competition that plagued their thespian subjects It traces a suggestive but not determinative outline of generic development noting the shifting generic features that emerge in context of a given work's predecessors Drawing heavily on primary sources then contemporary reviews and archival material in the form of extra illustrated or scrapbooked editions of the biographies this text is invested in the ways that the increasing emphasis on materiality was designed to consolidate but often challenged the biographer's authority. This turn to materiality also authorized readerly participation allowing readers to co-author biographies through the use of material insertions asserting their own presence in the texts about beloved thespians.

Going Places Robert Burgin, 2013-01-08 Successfully navigate the rich world of travel narratives and identify fiction and nonfiction read-alikes with this detailed and expertly constructed guide. Just as savvy travelers make use of guidebooks to help navigate the hundreds of countries around the globe, smart librarians need a guidebook that makes sense of the world of travel narratives. Going Places: A Reader's Guide to Travel Narratives meets that demand, helping librarians assist patrons in finding the nonfiction books that most interest them. It will also serve to help users better understand the genre and their own reading interests. The book examines the subgenres of the travel narrative genre in its seven chapters, categorizing and describing approximately 600 titles according to genres and broad reading interests and identifying hundreds of other fiction and nonfiction titles as read-alikes and related reads by shared key topics. The author has also identified award-winning titles and spotlighted further resources on travel lit, making this work an ideal guide for readers, advisors, as well as a book general readers will enjoy browsing.

Romantic Biography Arthur Bradley, 2017-03-02 Romantic biography lives! Despite the so-called death of the author, popular interest in the lives of the major Romantic writers has reached a new peak. Romantic Biography brings together Romantic biographers and critics to consider some of the key questions surrounding this publishing phenomenon: What precisely is Romantic biography? What is the relationship between it and Romantic writings more generally? And to what extent is Romantic biography itself the product of Romantic ideas about the self, time, and creativity? Romantic Biography examines a range of canonical and non-canonical biographical subjects from a variety of practical and theoretical standpoints. Michael O'Neill opens the collection with an analysis of the relationship between Romantic biography and Romantic poetry. Jonathan Bate, Mark Storey, and Kenneth R. Johnston reassess Clare, Southey, and Wordsworth from their position as authors of recent forthcoming biographies of the poets. Joe Bray and Alan Rawes explore the Romantic assumptions at work within contemporary biographies of Austen and Byron. Gerard Carruthers, Julian North, Jennifer Wallace, and Arthur Bradley put biographies of Burns, Scott, Coleridge, Byron, Keats, and Shelley into the context of contemporary historicist and theoretical ideas about national and gender identity, the body, and difference. Ralph Pite brings the collection to a close with a further examination of the vexed question of Romantic biography's relation to Romanticism itself. Romantic Biography is a major new survey of Romantic life writing and an important contribution to biographical studies more generally.

Magnificent Obsessions Jean Fornasiero, Rosemary Lloyd, 2014-08-11 This volume is a tribute to the life and work of Hazel Rowley, internationally acclaimed biographer who died unexpectedly in March 2011. Her passions were many and varied: biography, politics, questions of race and sexuality, the ways in which couples negotiate the dilemmas posed by the need to retain their individuality while building a life as a couple the deleterious effects of imposing a corporate mentality on universities all these and more were subjects of intense interest to her This collection combines essays responding to many of those interests with creative writing to honour the complexity and variety of her own magnificent contribution Hazel Rowley whose life and work are honoured in this collection was the author of many articles and essays and four outstanding biographies Christina Stead A Biography Richard Wright The Life and Times T te T te Simone de Beauvoir and Jean Paul Sartre and Franklin and Eleanor An
