Legation was Mr Meyrick Hewlett who we do not think we are wrong in saying had during his school life here a larger number of friends than anyone else in the School Through the long anxiety over the fate of the Legations all Harrow boys who knew Mr Meyrick Hewlett felt that if the worst befell and the Legations were taken they would have a deep private sorrow in addition to the general mourning which would have stricken the nation Happily the siege ended well The quiet steadfastness and confidence of the men who helped to save the Legations are revealed in the pages that follow We may leave Mr Meyrick Hewlett to tell his own story merely saying that the Diary really took the shape of a long letter home it was not in any sense written for publication but as a plain straightforward narrative by one who went through this most trying siege we believe it will commend itself not only to Mr Meyrick Hewletts brother Harrovians but to many others We may add that it was Mr Meyrick Hewletts own request that if any part of the diary was published it should be done by the Editors of his School paper About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The siege of the Peking legations: a diary, ed Lancelot Giles, A Diary of the Siege of the Legations in Peking; During the Summer Of 1900 Nigel Oliphant, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1901 edition Excerpt SIEGE OF TBI FOREIGN LEGATIONS AT PEKING SUMMARY OP EVENTS PEIOE TO THE BEGINNING OP JUNE 1900 All through the winter the missionaries throughout North China have persistently been anticipating trouble owing to the continual and unchecked increase in the numbers and power of the I Ho Tuan an anti foreign society having for its patrons some of the highest officials in the realm There had been many cases of attacks on inland missionary stations and in December an English priest was brutally killed by these people In this case the murderers were punished but in the numerous other cases where only Chinese converts were slain no action was taken The first outbreak directly affecting the foreigners in Peking and Tientsin took place on May 28th when a band of Boxers burnt some stations on the Luhan Belgian railway line and the employes had to fly to Peking The Imperial Chinese railway authorities in Tientsin received the news that the Boxers were marching on fengtai the junction between the Luhan line and the Peking branch of the Imperial Eailway f North China They accordingly asked the ientsin Viceroy to send up some troops but the usual delay was shown and the next day the station and workshops at Fengtai were burnt and the foreign ofiicials all up the line had to be called in The train to Peking of course did not get through that day On the following day 500 Chinese soldiers went up by special train and for the time being the line was safe By noon on May 31st some 550 of the foreign troops which were wired for by the Ministers had arrived in Tientsin and 350 left for Peking the same day I also left for Peking where I found things fairly quiet though there had been cases of abuse of foreigners in the streets The A Diary of the Siege of the Legations in Peking During the Summer of 1900 Nigel Oliphant,2023-07-18 This gripping firsthand account by British diplomat Nigel Oliphant provides a unique perspective on the famous Boxer Rebellion in China at the turn of the 20th century Oliphant describes in vivid detail the siege of the British legation in Peking now Beijing by Chinese nationalist rebels which lasted for 55 days His diary entries offer a fascinating glimpse into the daily struggles of the besieged foreign diplomats and their Chinese Christian allies against overwhelming odds The book provides a valuable historical record of a pivotal event in modern Chinese history This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant A Diary of the Siege of the Peking Legations, During the Summer of 1900 Nigel Oliphant,1901 DIARY OF THE SIEGE OF THE LEGATIONS IN PEKING. NIGEL. thousands of books in our collection have been sourced from libraries and private collections around the world. The titles that Trieste Publishing has chosen to be part of the collection have been scanned to simulate the original. Our readers see the books the same way that their first readers did decades or a hundred or more years ago. Books from that period are often spoiled by imperfections that did not exist in the original. Imperfections could be in the form of blurred text, photographs, or missing pages. It is highly unlikely that this would occur with one of our books. Our extensive quality control ensures that the readers of Trieste Publishing's books will be delighted with their purchase. Our staff has thoroughly reviewed every page of all the books in the collection, repairing or if necessary rejecting titles that are not of the highest quality. This process ensures that the reader of one of Trieste Publishing's titles receives a volume that faithfully reproduces the original and to the maximum degree possible gives them the experience of owning the original work. We pride ourselves on not only creating a pathway to an extensive reservoir of books of the finest quality but also providing value to every one of our readers. Generally, Trieste books are purchased singly on demand; however, they may also be purchased in bulk. Readers interested in bulk purchases are invited to contact us directly to enquire about our tailored bulk rates.
