Sifra An Analytical Translation Volume Two:

The Social Study of Judaism Jacob Neusner, 1988 Inner-Midrashic Introductions and Their Influence on Introductions to Medieval Rabbinic Bible Commentaries Michel G. Distefano, 2009-02-26 The opening sections of some exegetical Midrashim deal with the same type of material that is found in introductions to medieval rabbinic Bible commentaries The application of Goldberg's form analysis to these sections reveals the new form Inner Midrashic Introduction IMI as a thematic discourse on introductory issues to biblical books By its very nature the IMI is embedded within the comments on the first biblical verse 1:1 Further analysis of medieval rabbinic Bible commentary introductions in terms of their formal thematic and material characteristics reveals that a high degree of continuity exists between them and the IMIs including another newly discovered form the Inner Commentary Introduction These new discoveries challenge the current view that traces the origin of Bible introduction in Judaism exclusively to non Jewish models They also point to another important link between the Midrashim and the commentaries i.e. the decomposition of the functional form midrash in the new discursive context of the commentaries Finally the form analysis demonstrates how larger discourses are formed in the exegetical Midrashim Mekhilta De-Rabbi Shimon Bar Yo (Edward E. Elson Classic) W. David Nelson, 2006-10-09 The Mekhilta de Rabbi Shimon bar Yohai is a collection of classical midrashic interpretation of the biblical Book of Exodus Lost for centuries the text was reconstructed and recovered in the 19th and 20th centuries by both German and Israeli scholars from a variety of source materials including medieval manuscripts of the text and midrashic anthologies As one of the first collections of rabbinic biblical interpretation the Mekhilta de Rabbi Shimon bar Yohai is an indispensable source for understanding the history beliefs and practices of the earliest rabbis This edition translated and explicated for the first time in English by W. David Nelson is The Jewish Publication Society's latest contribution to making ancient Jewish literature accessible to modern readers A critical introduction provides the reader with a firm grounding in the historical setting of the text as well as its source material reconstruction subject matter and significance for understanding the history of Judaism Set in a modern readable typeface the Hebrew text faces the English translation with the author's annotation beneath Indexes include scriptural verse citations and rabbinic sages named in the text The Philosophical Mishnah: The tractates' agenda Jacob Neusner, 1989 A History of Biblical Interpretation, Vol. 2 Alan J. Hauser, Duane F. Watson, 2009-11-10 History of Biblical Interpretation provides detailed and extensive studies of the interpretation of the Scriptures by Jewish and Christian writers throughout the ages Written by internationally renowned scholars this multivolume work comprehensively treats the many different methods of interpretation the many important interpreters from various eras and the many key issues that have surfaced repeatedly over the long course of biblical interpretation This second installment contains essays by fifteen noted scholars discussing major methods movements and interpreters in the Jewish and Christian communities from the beginning of the Middle Ages until the end of the sixteenth century Reformation The authors examine such themes as the variety of interpretive developments within Judaism during this period the monumental work of Rashi and his followers the achievements of the Carolingian era and the later scholastic developments within the universities beginning in the twelfth century

Lex Talionis in Early Judaism and the Exhortation of Jesus in Matthew 5.38-42 James Davis, 2005-02-15 In Matthew 5 38 42 Jesus overrides the Old Testament teaching of an eye for eye and a tooth for a tooth the Lex Talionis law and commands his disciples to turn the other cheek James Davis asks how Jesus teaching in this instance relates to the Old Testament talionic commands how it relates to New Testament era Judaism and what Jesus required from his disciples and the church Based on the Old Testament texts such as Leviticus 24 Exodus 22 and Deuteronomy 19 a strong case can be made that the Lex Talionis law was understood to have a literal application there are several texts that text of Leviticus 24 provides the strongest case that a literal and judicial application However by the second century AD and later Jewish rabbinic leadership was essentially unified that the OT did not require a literal talion but that financial penalties could be substituted in court matters Yet there is evidence from Philo Rabbi Eliezer and Josephus that in the first century AD the application of literal talion in judicial matters was a major and viable Jewish viewpoint at the time of Jesus Jesus instruction represents a different perspective from the OT lex talionis texts and also possibly from the Judaism of his time Jesus commands the general principle of not retaliation against the evil person and intended this teaching to be concretely applied as borne out in his own life JSNTS

Mapping the New Testament Serge Ruzer, 2007 This volume consists of eight chapters dealing with a selected topic in New Testament biblical interpretation its inherited elements and its relevance for better understanding of wider Jewish exegetical trends

The Book of Jewish Wisdom Jacob Neusner, Noam M. M. Neusner, 2001 Presents parts of the Judaic tradition of wisdom concentrating on the oral part of the Torah represented by the documents of law and scriptural exegesis

Three Questions of Formative Judaism Jacob Neusner, 2021-10-01 The academic study of Judaism requires a systematic inquiry into the history literature and religion and eventually the theology as revealed in the historical documents themselves Under this premise Three Questions of Formative Judaism encounters the canonical writings of Judaism in the context of their creation at a certain time and place How something is said thus becomes as important as what is said Bringing nearly fifty years of research to bear on these fundamental questions Jacob Neusner challenges his readers to face the difficult often unasked or neglected questions about the nature background and purposes of Rabbinic Judaism and rewards them with an enriched understanding and a stronger foundation for tackling the even more elusive questions concerning the theology of formative Judaism This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details

The Documentary History of Judaism and Its Recent Interpreters Jacob Neusner, 2012-07-10 The result for the history of Judaism of a documentary reading of the Rabbinic canonical sources illustrates the working of that hypothesis It is the first major outcome of that hypothesis but there are other implications and a variety of new problems emerge from time to time as the work proceeds In the recent past Neusner has continued to explore special problems of the documentary hypothesis of the Rabbinic canon At the same time Neusner notes others join in the discussion that have produced important and ambitious analyses of the thesis and its implications Here Neuser has collected some of the more ambitious ventures into the hypothesis and its current recapitulations Neusner begins with the article written by Professor William Scott Green for the Encyclopaedia Judaica second edition as Green places the documentary hypothesis into the context of Neusner s entire oeuvre Neuser then reproduces what he regards as the single most successful venture of the documentary hypothesis contrasting between the Mishnah s and the Talmuds programs for the social order of Israel the doctrines of economics politics and philosophy set forth in those documents respectively Then come the two foci of discourse Halakhah or normative law and Aggadah or normative theology Professors Bernard Jackson of the University of Manchester England and Mayer Gruber of Ben Gurion University of the Negev treat the Halakhic program that Neusner has devised and Kevin Edgecomb of the University of California Berkeley has produced a remarkable summary of the theological system Neusner discerns in the Aggadic documents Neusner concludes with a review of a book by a critic of the documentary hypothesis Erubin ,1992

Tractate Ketubot ,1992 The Talmud of Babylonia: E. Shabbat, chapters 18-24 ,1992 Tractate Yebamot ,1992
