Long Nights:

For the Sun After Long Nights Fatemeh Jamalpour, Nilo Tabrizy, 2025-09-16 A moving exploration of the 2022 women led protests in Iran as told through the interwoven stories of two Iranian journalists Unlike anything I've read A searing courageous and ultimately beautiful book filled with the spirit of the movement that it covers Ben Rhodes author of The World as It Is A Memoir of the Obama White House In September 2022 a young Kurdish woman Mahsa Jina Amini died after being beaten by police officers who arrested her for not adhering to the Islamic Republic's dress code Her death galvanized thousands of Iranians mostly women who took to the streets in one of the country's largest uprisings in decades the Woman Life Freedom movement Despite the threat of imprisonment or death for her work as a journalist covering political unrest state repression and grassroots activism in Iran which has led to multiple interrogation sessions and arrests Fatemeh Jamalpour joined the throngs of people fighting to topple Iran's religious extremist regime And across the globe Nilo Tabrizy who emigrated from Iran with her family as a child covered the protests and state violence knowing that spotlighting the women on the front lines and the systemic injustice of the Iranian government meant she would not be able to safely return to Iran in the future Though they had met only once in person Nilo and Fatemeh corresponded constantly often through encrypted platforms to protect Fatemeh As the protests continued to unfold the sense of sisterhood they shared led them to embark on an effort to document the spirit and legacy of the movement and the history geopolitics and influences that led to this point At once deeply personal and assiduously reported For the Sun After Long Nights offers two perspectives on what it means to cover the stories that are closest to one's heart both in the forefront and from afar

First Fiction The Long Night of White Chickens announced Francisco Goldman's arrival as a major literary talent. It is both a suspenseful mystery and a tale of two worlds that plumbs the darkest depths of the relationship between the United States and Guatemala. Goldman tells the story of Roger Graetz, raised in a Boston suburb by an aristocratic Guatemalan mother and Jewish father, and Flor de Mayo, the beautiful young Guatemalan orphan who lives with the family as a maid. Similar in age, Roger and Flor become close and remain so even after she leaves to attend college at Wellesley. After graduation, however, Flor returns home to Guatemala City where she heads a local orphanage that arranges international adoptions. When she is murdered, Roger is stunned and can't believe the rumors he hears about her life. Years later, he travels to Guatemala to uncover the circumstances around Flor's mysterious death. In this wonderful book that is as complex as history, funny as love, painful as death, The Washington Post Book World calls it a richly layered genre-busting novel that shuttles between suburban Boston and Guatemala City and devours everything in its path. Jay McInerney, author of Bright Lights, Big City, Long Night's Loving, Anne Mather, 2015-08-17. He could still make her want him. Maggie would never have made the journey to Northumberland to see her ex-husband if it hadn't been for their rebellious teenage daughter. Lindsey had formed a disastrous relationship, and Neil was the only person who could help. Clearly, Maggie's treacherous betrayal some years ago still rankled with Neil because why else would he so provoke and humiliate her? She was ashamed of the fact that he could still make her want him while seemingly remaining detached himself. Surely, he must be involved enough to want to help Lindsey, even if he suspected she might be another man's child. Botany, Mauser, 2016-07-06.
