industrial society the beginnings of mass immigration and the creation of a new republican Empire This time period gives way to the history of the two world wars the rise of political movements like Communism and Fascism and new directions in popular culture The text concludes with the history of France during the Fourth and Fifth republics concentrating on decolonization and the rise of postcolonial society and culture Throughout these major historical events Stovall examines France's relations with three other areas of the world Europe the United States and France's colonial empire which includes a wealth of recent historical studies By exploring these three areas and their political social and cultural relations with France the text will provide new insights into both the nature of French identity and the making of the modern world in general

Medieval Architecture Nicola Coldstream, 2002. Medieval architecture comprises much more than the traditional image of Gothic cathedrals and the castles of chivalry. A great variety of buildings, synagogues, halls, and barns testify to the diverse communities and interests in western Europe in the centuries between 1150 and 1550. This book looks at their architecture from an entirely fresh perspective, shifting the emphasis away from such areas as France towards the creativity of other regions, including central Europe and Spain. Treating the subject thematically, Coldstream seeks out what all buildings, both religious and secular, have in common and how they reflect the material and spiritual concerns of the people who built and used them. Furthermore, the author considers how and why, after four centuries of shaping the landscapes and urban patterns of Europe, medieval styles were superseded by classicism.
