Man, State, and Society in Contemporary Southeast Asia Robert O. Tilman, 1969      Man, State, and Society in Contemporary Southeast Asia. Robert O. Tilman, 1969      Ed. by R.O. Tilman. [With Contris of H.J. Benda, L. Sharp, Ch. A. Fisher A.o.]. R. O. Tilman, H. J. Benda, L. Sharp, Ch. A. Fisher, 1969      Climates and Societies - A Climatological Perspective M. Yoshino, Manfred Domrös, Annick Douguédroit, J. Paszynski, L.C. Nkemdirim, 2013-06-29 The impact of climate on human activities and the effect of humans on climate are two of the most important areas of inquiry in climatology These interactions conducted through physical chemical and biological processes were described as early as Roman and Greek times Marcus Vitruvius 75 25 B C a famous Roman engineer and architect made the following observation about the climatic conditions necessary for founding a city Land ideal for the health is slightly elevated and there should be neither fog nor frost The direction of the slope and the distance to the swamps lakes and beaches must also be considered The prevailing wind directions observed by a wind tower at the center of the city like Horologium at Athens should be taken into consideration in city planning The main and narrow streets should be placed in the middle angle of the two prevailing wind directions Then the location of the Pantheons and squares should be decided The influence of humans on climate was a major subject for discussion in the 19th century inspired in part by the rapid industrial growth and expanding deforestation of the time D L Howard wrote brilliant pieces on the climate of London in the 1830s while G P Marsh discussed the effects of forests on precipitation in the U S A in the second half of the 19th century

Understanding Australia's Neighbours Nick Knight, Michael Heazle, Daniel Halvorson, 2011-09-26 A comprehensive introduction to the study of Asia Written thematically it provides comparisons between Asian and Australian societies and encourages readers to think about Australia's neighbours across a wide range of social economic and historical contexts

The Chinese [migr]s of Thailand in the Twentieth Century Disaphol Chansiri, 2008 examines Thai Chinese relations dating back to the first Thai dynasty Sukhothai to the present Ratanakosin The study explores the Thai domestic policies that have affected the Chinese population since World War II and assimilation policies of the Thai government towards the Chinese This book also analyzes both Skinner's and Chan and Tong's arguments and their main idea in the context of the present day environment and situation for the ethnic Chinese This research supports the Skinnerian paradigm which asserts that a majority of the descendants of Chinese immigrants in each generation merge with Thai society and become indistinguishable from the indigenous population to the extent that fourth generation Chinese are practically non-existent The validation of the Skinnerian paradigm rejects Chan and Tong's hypothesis which claims that Skinner has overemphasized the forces of assimilation and that the Chinese in Thailand have not assimilated but retained their Chinese identity To support Skinner's assertion and reject Chan and Tong's argument this book presents rich empirical data collected via surveys conducted with the ethnic Chinese in Thailand from 2003 2004 This study uncovers that the forces of assimilation occur at two levels On the first level the Chinese in Thailand possess natural attributes which facilitate social and cultural integration and assimilation into Thai society On the second level government pro assimilation policies driven by the bilateral relations between Thailand and China and the political situation in both countries are also responsible for the assimilation of the Chinese in Thailand As the most current in depth study on the Chinese in Thailand The Chinese migr s of Thailand in the Twentieth Century is a critical addition for all collections in Asian Studies as well as Ethnic and Immigrant Studies In Search of Southeast Asia David Joel Steinberg,David P. Booth,1998-03-04 Indonesia is now the fourth largest country in the world but many aspects of its economic history remain poorly understood This book is the first comprehensive survey of Indonesian economic history in the 19th and 20th centuries examining both the Dutch colonial era and the post independence period Extensive use is made of recent work by Dutch Indonesian and Australian scholars to develop a number of key themes relating to economic growth and structural transformation of the Indonesian economy from the early 19th century to the present

The Myth of the Lazy Native Syed Hussein Alatas,2013-05-13 The Myth of the Lazy Native is Syed Hussein Alatas widely acknowledged critique of the colonial construction of Malay Filipino and Javanese natives from the 16th to the 20th century Drawing on the work of Karl Mannheim and the sociology of knowledge Alatas analyses the origins and functions of such myths in the creation and reinforcement of colonial ideology and capitalism The book constitutes in his own words an effort to correct a one sided colonial view of the Asian native and his society and will be of interest to students and scholars of colonialism post colonialism sociology and South East Asian Studies

In Search of an East Asian Development Model Peter L. Berger,Hsiao Hsin-Huang Michael,2024-11-01 The papers collected in this volume were presented at a conference sponsored by the Carnegie Council on Ethics and International Affairs formerly the Council on Religion and International Affairs The conference In Search of an East Asian Development Model was held at the Carnegie Council s headquarters in New York in June 1985 The purpose was to discover if there is any such thing as an East Asian development model Was it rooted in common cultural characteristics which arose only in Asia and therefore had no relevance elsewhere or did the cultural and social characteristics thus revealed have transcendent features applicable at all times and in all places Was the recognition of general Asian economic success a post facto situation an attempt at later rationalizations to fit a logic and inevitability into a process that essentially lurched along without any particular direction Area Handbook for Malaysia Nena Vreeland,1977 Area Handbook for Burma John William Henderson,American University (Washington, D.C.). Foreign Area Studies,1971 Handbook of Educational Ideas and Practices (Routledge Revivals) Noel Entwistle,2015-08-11 First published in 1990 the Handbook of Educational Ideas and Practices was written for practitioners and students in the field of education and its related services and was designed to appeal to educationists no matter what their nationality Focusing mainly on compulsory schooling it provides summaries of the thinking research findings and innovatory practices current at the time However the book is also careful to present a complete picture of education and therefore includes a separate section for education beyond school which covers pre school level post secondary level and adult and continuing education There are also other chapters dealing with aspects of organization curriculum and teaching in various forms of tertiary education Indeed each topic has been discussed by an acknowledged expert writing in sufficient detail in order to resist trivialization Ungrounded Empires Aihwa Ong,Donald Nonini,2003-12-16 In the last two decades Chinese transnationalism has become a distinctive domain within the new flexible capitalism emerging in the Asia Pacific region Ungrounded Empires maps this domain as the intersection of cultural politics and global capitalism drawing on recent ethnographic research to critique the impact of late capitalism s institutions flexibility travel subcontracting multiculturalism and mass media upon transnational Chinese subjectives Interweaving anthropology and cultural studies with interpretive political economy these essays offer a wide range of perspectives on overseas Chinese and their unique location in the global arena Intellectuals in Developing Societies Syed Hussein Alatas,2018-10-24 First published in 1977 During a time of reflection after the author s withdrawal from active politics after four years of effort in Malaysia to promote an alternative to the present government this book was written His experience as the national chairman of an opposition party between 1968 and 1971 and presence in the Malaysian Senate in 1971 brought him face to face with problems that were in many ways generated by the type of elites ruling the country and circumstances

Comparative History of India and Indonesia L. Blussé,2023-08-14 Science and Development in Thai and South Asian Buddhism David L Gosling,2019-11-27 Becoming a Buddhist monk in Thailand has for a long time provided the opportunity for access to a good education and to social advancement both to bright poor rural youths and to members of the urban elite whose youth often become monks for a few months as a rite of passage into adulthood Moreover although women are not allowed to become fully fledged monks recent developments have encouraged a special status akin to nuns for many devout Thai Buddhist women All this has resulted in large numbers of well educated well motivated Buddhist religious people keen both to engage in religious contemplation and also determined to contribute to this worldly social economic educational and medical development goals This book by a leading authority on the subject considers the role of Thai Buddhist religious people in development within Thailand It discusses how Thai Buddhism has evolved philosophically and in its organisation to allow this examines various examples of Buddhist people s engagement in development projects and assesses how the situation is likely to unfold going forward In addition the book considers the relationship between science and religion in Thai Buddhism and also some aspects of the parallel situation in Sri Lanka India and Indonesia ,1989
