Hamburg,2015-11-17 Genocide has been called a problem from hell and despite vehement declarations of never again it s a problem that continues to plague the world From the beginning of history to the most recent massacres in Bosnia Rwanda and Darfur genocide defies resolution And given today s worldwide access to highly lethal weapons and advanced communications technology facilitating incitement to hate we can expect to see this problem grow It is often claimed that genocide occurs without warning taking both local and global communities by surprise Yet as David Hamburg convincingly shows we have had long term advance knowledge of most modern genocides dating back to the early 20th century Armenian tragedy in Turkey and before In this book Dr Hamburg applies a groundbreaking new perspective the medical model of prevention to the scourge of genocide in the world Preventing genocide is not only possible Dr Hamburg contends but essential given its high cost in lives human rights and international security Here he maps out numerous practical steps to recognise genocidal conflicts early and stem their tides of violence before they become acute He also outlines several institutions in place and programs underway at the UN EU and NATO devoted to preventing future genocides before they erupt He draws lessons both from missed opportunities and successful experiences and makes many constructive suggestions about strengthening international institutions governments and NGOs for this purpose

Violent Cartographies Michael J. Shapiro, An innovative critique of the way historians and political scientists study war How can we resist a nation state vision of the globe What is needed to unmap the familiar world In Violent Cartographies Michael J Shapiro considers these questions exploring the significance of war in contemporary society and its connections to the geographical imaginary Employing an ethnographic perspective Shapiro uses whiplash reversals and bizarre juxtapositions to jolt readers out of conventional thinking about international relations and security studies Considering the ideas of thinkers ranging from von Clausewitz to Virilio from Derrida to DeLillo Shapiro distances readers from familiar political and strategic accounts of war and its causes Shapiro uses literary and film analyses to elucidate his themes For example he considers such cultural artifacts as U S Marine recruiting television commercials American war movies and General Schwarzkopf s autobiography elaborating how a certain image of American masculinity is played out in the military imaginary and in the media Other topics are Melville s The Confidence Man Bunuel s film That Obscure Object of Desire and a comparison of the U S invasion of Grenada to an Aztec flower war Throughout Shapiro draws attention to the violence of the colonial encounters through which many modern nation states were formed and ultimately suggests possible directions for an ethics of minimal violence in the encounter with others The overall effect is of a complex cumulative and layered analysis of the historical and moral conditions of the current use of violence in the conduct of international relations A fascinating and challenging work Violent Cartographies will interest anyone concerned with the connections between war and culture
