Transformative Management Education Ulrike Landfester, Jörg Metelmann, 2018-12-07 Due to the recent global financial crises academic business schools have come in for much criticism having in the eyes of the public failed in their responsibility to society by teaching future managers only how to increase their personal gain without any consideration as to their actions social and cultural consequences Realising that there is a pressing need to innovate their educational offers accordingly business schools are beginning to turn to the humanities and social sciences to improve on the understanding and thus the teaching of management This book is the result of an empirical study conducted at eight academic business schools that either already practise or are beginning to practise linking management education to the humanities and social sciences Gathered mostly in interviews our research team conducted during site visits to these schools the material presented shows three major fields of concern how to shift the focus from instrumental to transformative learning how to reframe the concept of disciplinary subject matter towards a more relational understanding of knowledge especially in the light of the impact digitalisation is having on education and how to address the organisational as

Science Fiction and the Mass Cultural Genre System John Rieder, 2017-03-07 A fresh approach to the history and shape of science fiction In Science Fiction and the Mass Cultural Genre System John Rieder asks literary scholars to consider what shape literary history takes when based on a historical rather than formalist genre theory Rieder starts from the premise that science fiction and the other genres usually associated with so called genre fiction comprise a system of genres entirely distinct from the pre existing classical and academic genre system that includes the epic tragedy comedy satire romance the lyric and so on He proposes that the field of literary production and the project of literary studies cannot be adequately conceptualized without taking into account the tensions between these two genre systems that arise from their different modes of production distribution and reception Although the careful reading of individual texts forms an important part of this study the systemic approach offered by Science Fiction and the Mass Cultural Genre System provides a fundamental challenge to literary methodologies that foreground individual innovation
