External Relations in South African Schools Lesley Anderson,Jacky Lumby,2005 Aims to consider the concepts and principles of the important areas of educational leadership signalled by Nelson Mandela This text uses South African case examples and activities to encourage reflection and personal development It is intended for those who lead and manage in schools or support them in a professional role Teachers' Work in a Globalizing Economy Alistair Dow, Robert Hattam, Alan Reid, Geoffrey Shacklock, John Smyth, 2005-08-02 Extended critical case studies provide a tangible working expression of the labour process of teaching showing how teachers are simultaneously experiencing significant changes to their work as well as responding in ways that actively shape these processes For teachers and researchers this book shows what processes are at work in the global economy which impact on and sometimes control the role of the teacher It also reveals how teachers accommodate resist or redefine their working circumstances and explores methods researchers might employ in order to increase our understanding and knowledge of the effect of globalization on teaching Grant Maintained Schools John Fitz, David Halpin, Sally Power, 1993 Reshaping Education In The 1990s Rita Chawla-Duggan, Christopher J. Pole, 2012-10-12 This volume evaluates the implications of change for the providers and consumers of post 1988 secondary education for the 21st century The issues covered include school governance parental choice and the market place and local management of schools Leadership and Strategic Management in South African Schools Marianne Coleman, Tony Bush, 2003 Focusing on leadership and strategic management this volume offers insights into effective strategic management as a contribution towards educational transformation in South Africa and guidelines on important aspects of good school management Register of Educational Research in the United Kingdom, 1992-1995 National Foundation For Educational Research, 1995 This latest volume of the Register of Educational Research in the United Kingdom lists all the major research projects being undertaken in Britain during the latter months of 1992 the whole of 1993 and 1994 and the early months of 1995 Each entry provides names and addresses of the researchers a detailed abstract the source and amount of the grant where applicable the length of the project and details of published material about the research Beyond the Self-Managing School Brian Caldwell, Jim M. Spinks, 2003-09-02 The broad approach of local management of schools or self managing schools is now widely accepted In Britain there is even consensus between the three major political parties that the approach should be continued and extended A key issue though is what comes next for self managing schools Drawing on their work and experience in research consultancy Caldwell and Spinks examine the way in which education is changing and outline what is desirable and workable for schools today with clear guidelines for policy makers and practitioners The focus is specifically on the school the classroom the student and the future of learning in society Practitioners will find this book immediately accessible and useful Managing People in Education Tony Bush, David Middlewood, 1997-02-28 Aims to enhance management practice in education by presenting research findings and theory from a wide range of contributors Skills and Enterprise Update This is indeed a book which could be useful to a much larger readership than the normal closed circle of those working in education Managing Schools Today The book presents relevant research and theory in order to enhance management practice in education The editors intention is to articulate good practice on the basis of evidence in educational settings The ideas presented here are derived from international research and practice and apply to all phases of education with the emphasis on applying research findings to improve practice in schools and colleges

Theories of Educational Leadership and Management Tony Bush, 2010-11-30 In this established text Tony Bush presents the major theories of educational management and links them to contemporary policy and practice Leadership continues to be one of the major criteria used to differentiate the models but the author now makes clear links between educational management theories and the main models of leadership The author applies the models to a range of international contexts including both developed and developing countries This relates to global interest in concepts of leadership and management and to an increasing recognition of the need to customize theory and practice to each context and culture rather than adopting a one size fits all approach For the Fourth Edition the essential conceptual models remain New case study material has been added from the full range of education and non school settings from early years through to further and higher education Each chapter now includes key words summary and end of chapter materials including issues for discussion Key terms are defined in text for the non expert reader and all references and relevant key legislation details have been fully updated This book is essential reading for all teachers who aspire to management as well as for experienced leaders on Masters level courses and for those studying school management as part of education studies degrees

School Choice and the Quasi-market Geoffrey Walford, 1996-01-01 Throughout much of the industrialised world in the 1980s and 1990s governments divested themselves of responsibility for providing services for their citizens and espoused the ideology of the market In education the term quasi market has been used to describe the situation where the market forces introduced into schooling differ in some fundamental respects from classical free markets This book brings together specially written accounts of developments in the quasi market in nine countries The authors were asked to focus on their own particular country and to review policy developments in school choice over the previous five to ten years In addition they were asked to assess the research evidence on the workings of the quasi market of schools and in particular the effects of such changes on children of different genders and from differing social class and ethnic backgrounds The result is a series of thought provoking articles that add greatly to our understanding of the pressures that led to quasi markets in education and of how particular countries have responded to such changes and to the potentially inequitable effects of such moves
