

The background of the cover is a photograph of a dry, open landscape. In the foreground, there is a dead, bleached tree with many thin, branching limbs. The ground is covered with low-lying, scrubby vegetation in shades of yellow, green, and red. In the middle ground, a large, rounded hill or mountain rises, covered in similar vegetation. The sky is a clear, bright blue with a few wispy white clouds. The title 'Natural History of the Flinders Ranges' is printed in a large, bold, black serif font across the top of the image.

Bibliography of Natural History Travel Narratives Anne S. Troelstra, 2017-06-01 Anne Troelstra s fine bibliography is an outstanding and ground breaking work He has provided the academic world with a long needed bibliographical record of human endeavour in the field of the natural sciences The travel narratives listed here encompass all aspects of the natural world in every part of the globe but are especially concerned with its fauna flora and fossil remains Such eyewitness accounts have always fascinated their readers but they were never written solely for entertainment fragmentary though they often are these narratives of travel and exploration are of immense importance for our scientific understanding of life on earth providing us with a window on an ever changing and often vanishing natural world Without such records of the past we could not track document or understand the significance of changes that are so important for the study of zoogeography With this book Troelstra gives us a superb overview of natural history travel narratives The well over four thousand detailed entries ranging over four centuries and all major western European languages are drawn from a wide range of sources and include both printed books and periodical contributions While no subject bibliography by a single author can attain absolute completeness Troelstra s work is comprehensive to a truly remarkable degree The entries are arranged alphabetically by author and chronologically by the year of first publication under the author s name A brief biography with the scope and range of their work is given for each author every title is set in context the contents including illustrations are described and all known editions and translations are cited In addition there is a geographical index that cross refers between authors and the regions visited and a full list of the bibliographical and biographical sources used in compiling the bibliography

Australian Caves and Karst Systems John Webb, Susan White, Garry K. Smith, 2023-08-31 This book part of the series Cave and Karst Systems of the World begins with a review of the interaction between people and caves in Australia including conservation followed by descriptions of the spectacular cave diving sites before comprehensively covering all the major carbonate and noncarbonate karst areas subdivided by rock type and region and including the origin of the caves This is followed by broad overviews of cave minerals and speleothems cave biology and cave fossils Each section was written by one or more specialists in the topic and is illustrated by clear diagrams and superb colour photos The book emphasises the unique aspects of the Australian karst including the variability in the age of the caves very old to very young and the impact of isolation on the stygofauna as well as the vertebrate fossils preserved in the caves Written in an easy to read style the book is a primary reference guide to Australian karst and represents a valuable asset for anyone interested in the topic not only
