Natural Theology Kelly Cherry, 1988 Literature and Natural Theology in Early Modern England Katherine Calloway, 2023-10-19 Katherine Calloway explores the relationship between science and religion through a wide ranging selection of early modern English poets Natural Theology in the Scientific Revolution Katherine Calloway, 2015-10-06 In the seventeenth century scientific discoveries called into question established Christian theology It has been claimed that contemporary thinkers contributed to this conflict model by using the discoveries of the natural world to prove the existence of God Calloway challenges this view by close examination of five key texts of the period The Oxford Handbook of Natural Theology Russell Re Manning, John Hedley Brooke, Fraser Watts, 2013-01-17 The Oxford Handbook of Natural Theology explores the diversity and vitality of natural theology both historically and as an issue of contemporary concern The Poems of Browning: Volume Four John Woolford, Daniel Karlin, Joseph Phelan, 2014-05-12 The Poems of Robert Browning is a multi volume edition of the poetry of Robert Browning 1812 1889 resulting from a completely fresh appraisal of the canon text and context of his work The poems are presented in the order of their composition and in the text in which they were first published giving a unique insight into the origins and development of Browning's art Annotations and headnotes in keeping with the traditions of Longman Annotated English Poets are full and informative and provide details of composition publication sources and contemporary reception Volumes one 1826 1840 and two 1841 1846 presented the poems from his Browning's early years while volume three 1847 61 covered the period of his marriage to Elizabeth Barrett and residence in Italy Volume four 1862 71 deals with the decade following Elizabeth's death and Browning's return to England These years saw the appearance of some of his most significant work and a steady rise in his critical reputation In Dramatis Personae 1864 Browning uses his characteristic dramatic mode to expose predicaments of thought and feeling in characters ranging from Shakespeare's Caliban to the cheating medium Mr Sludge other poems dramatize Browning's complicated feelings about the deceptions and self deceptions of romantic love Balaustion's Adventure 1871 is an engaging reworking of Euripides' Alcestris whose theme the resurrection of a beloved lost wife has poignant personal resonance for Browning while Prince Hohenstiel Schwangau published in the same year offers a thinly veiled account of the life and actions of Napoleon III the recently deposed Emperor of France over whom Browning and Elizabeth had quarrelled In these two long poems Browning can be seen engaged in the dialogue with Elizabeth that was to shape much of his work during the remainder of his writing life The World in the Shadow of God Ephraim Radner, 2010-06-01 In The World in the Shadow of God Ephraim Radner argues for a vigorous Christian natural theology and insists that such a theology must of necessity be performed poetically The peculiar character of such a theology is found in its disclosing of the natural limits that indicate indirectly the impinging and more fundamental reality of the divine life Natural theology represents the encounter between created reality and the shadow of God's creative and revelatory grace However the encounter is a morally demanding task for the Christian church if it is to be held accountable to the truth on which its life is based The first portion of the book offers an extended critical essay on the nature of this sort of natural theology while the second provides a developed set of examples through poems that display the natural world in light of the truths articulated in the Apostles Creed Those interested in the intersection of theology literature history and the natural world will be challenged by this attempt to renew a basic element of Christian knowledge and culture Robert Browning: Selected Poems John Woolford, Daniel Karlin, Joseph Phelan, 2013-11-19

Theology in Science and Religion Rodney Holder, 2020-10-15 This book offers a rationale for a new ramified natural theology that is in dialogue with both science and historical critical study of the Bible Traditionally knowledge of God has been seen to come from two sources nature and revelation However a rigid separation between these sources cannot be maintained since what purports to be revelation cannot be accepted without qualification rational argument is needed to infer both the existence of God from nature and the particular truth claims of the Christian faith from the Bible Hence the distinction between bare natural theology and ramified natural theology The book begins with bare natural theology as background to its main focus on ramified natural theology Bayesian confirmation theory is utilised to evaluate competing hypotheses in both cases in a similar manner to that by which competing hypotheses in science can be evaluated on the basis of empirical data In this way a case is built up for the rationality of a Christian theist worldview Addressing issues of science theology and revelation in a new framework this book will be of keen interest to scholars working in Religion and Science Natural Theology Philosophy of Religion Biblical Studies Systematic Theology and Science and Culture

A Natural Theology of the Arts Anthony Monti,2017-07-05 A Natural Theology of the Arts contends that the arts are theological by their very nature and not simply when they are explicitly religious thereby constituting a distinctive kind of natural theology Borrowing from science the stance of critical realism to justify truth claims in art and theology it argues that works of art are complex metaphors that convey the real presence of God even when not labelled as such Citing numerous examples from literature painting and music including Shakespeare s King Lear Vermeer s Young Woman with a Water Jug Rembrandt s Return of the Prodigal Son and Stephen Cleobury s experiences performing Bach s St Matthew Passion and Britten s Rejoice in the Lamb the author concludes that works of art anticipate the new creation thereby suggesting a Trinitarian account of the God present in the creation and reception of such works

Poetry, Philosophy and Theology in Conversation Francesca Bugliani Knox,Jennifer Reek,2019-08-05 This volume is a collection of essays that explains how literature philosophy and theology have explored the role of wonder in our lives particularly through poetry Wonder has been an object of fascination for these disciplines from the Greek antiquity onwards yet the connections between their views on the subject are often ignored in subject specific studies The book is divided into three parts Part I opens the conversation on wonder in philosophy Part II is given to theology and Part III to literary perspectives An international set of contributors including poets as well as scholars have produced a study that looks beyond traditional chronological geographical and disciplinary boundaries both within the individual essays themselves and in respect to one another The volume s wide historical framework is punctuated by four poems by contemporary poets on the theme of wonder An unconventional foray into one of the best known themes of the European tradition this book will be of great interest to scholars of literature theology and philosophy The Cambridge Introduction to Victorian Poetry Linda K.

Hughes,2010-05-20 Victorian poetry was read and enjoyed by a much larger audience than is sometimes thought Publication in widely circulating periodicals reprinting in book reviews and excerpting in novels and essays ensured that major poets such as Tennyson Browning Hardy and Rossetti were household names and they remain popular today The Cambridge Introduction to Victorian Poetry provides an accessible overview of British poetry from 1830 to 1901 paying particular attention to its role in mass media print culture Designed to interest both students and scholars the book traces lively dialogues between poets and explains poets choices of form style and language It also demonstrates poetry s relevance to Victorian debates on science social justice religion imperialism and art Featuring a glossary of literary terms a guide to further reading and two examples of close readings of Victorian poems this introduction is the ideal starting point for the study of verse in the nineteenth century Lands of Likeness Kevin Hart,2024-05-31 An original and profound exploration of contemplation from philosopher theologian and poet Kevin Hart In Lands of Likeness Kevin Hart develops a new hermeneutics of contemplation through a meditation on Christian thought and secular philosophy Drawing on Kant Schopenhauer Coleridge and Husserl Hart first charts the emergence of contemplation in and beyond the Romantic era Next Hart shows this hermeneutic at work in poetry by Gerard Manley Hopkins Marianne Moore Wallace Stevens and others Delivered in its original form as the prestigious Gifford Lectures Lands of Likeness is a revelatory meditation on contemplation for the modern world

Natural Religion Frederick Turner,2011-12-31 There is widespread belief that the world s religions contradict each other It follows that if one religion is true the others must be false an assumption that implies and may actually create religious strife In Natural Religion acclaimed poet critic and essayist Frederick Turner sets out to show that the natural world offers grounds for stating that all religions are in some respect true Through the ages various ways have been proposed to resolve religious differences Some argue for the destruction of all religions but one s own Others substitute an abstract principle for the real ritual and moral practice of religion Still others doubt all religious truth and consequently all truth Others accept a kind of pluralistic relativism This book explores syncretism whereby all religions are seen as grasping the same strange and complex reality but by very different means and handles The idea that all religions are true raises a supervening question if so what must the real physical universe be like Turner approaches these questions in terms of scientific inquiry There is not enough room in space itself to fit in all theologies but there may be enough room in time if new scientific descriptions of time's nature are to be believed Turner argues that in the time models of contemporary cosmological and evolutionary science all times may be connected and time may be infinitely branched and causally looped so that both forward in time and backward in time factors may be in operation in the same event Thus the fundamental substance of the universe may be information rather than matter or energy The universe is more like a vast living organism than a vast machine Turner argues that all existing religions can be shown to fit into this model which in turn points to deeper implications of religious doctrines languages and practices There would be plenty of room in such a view of time for a tree of different yet linked religious worlds and poetic language may be the most effective tool for describing the divine

Darwinism and the Divine Alister E. McGrath, 2011-02-28 Darwinism and the Divine examines the implications of evolutionary thought for natural theology from the time of publication of Darwin's On the Origin of Species to current debates on creationism and intelligent design Questions whether Darwin's theory of natural selection really shook our fundamental beliefs or whether they served to transform and illuminate our views on the origins and meaning of life Identifies the forms of natural theology that emerged in 19th century England and how they were affected by Darwinism The most detailed study yet of the intellectual background to William Paley's famous and influential approach to natural theology set out in 1802 Brings together material from a variety of disciplines including the history of ideas historical and systematic theology evolutionary biology anthropology sociology and the cognitive science of religion Considers how Christian belief has adapted to Darwinism and asks whether there is a place for design both in the world of science and the world of theology A thought provoking exploration of 21st century views on evolutionary thought and natural theology written by the world renowned theologian and bestselling author

The Poetical Works of Robert Browning Robert Inglesfield, 2025-05-13 The English first edition of Dramatis Personae was published in May 1864 with the American first edition appearing hard on its heels in the following September This was the second of the two great collections of Robert Browning's middle years the first Men and Women having appeared nine years previously The new collection with its inspired general title which Browning seems to have hit upon only weeks before the publication of the English first edition was certainly an extraordinary imaginative and technical achievement the poems are remarkable for their modernity of subject matter and close psychological interest as well as their assertive individuality of conception An outstanding feature is the inventive handling of tone as for example in Apparent Failure Browning seems to have regarded the collection very much as a continuation and development of Men and Women with its varied contrasting dramatic lyrics and dramatic argumentative poems. As in the earlier collection the great majority of the poems are essentially dramatic in conception.
