Rees,2017-09-20 There is currently no basic text in wildlife law suitable for the wide range of courses in wildlife conservation and animal welfare at both bachelors and masters level or for the large number of people who work in conservation and animal welfare The Laws Protecting Animals and Ecosystems fills the gap in this significant market for a basic law text applicable to students and professionals whose primary training is in biology but who require a basic understanding of the laws relating to the protection of animals and ecosystems The text is applicable to a wide range of subjects including wildlife conservation animal handling animal welfare animal husbandry and veterinary science This foundational text supports those studying animal and ecosystem law by providing an overview of the basic legal principles national and international laws terminology the legal mechanisms used to protect animals and ecosystems and a compendium of the major animal welfare and conservation laws in major English speaking countries Dr Rees has been teaching wildlife law for 20 years and ecology for over 35 years and is ideally placed to write this book Natura 2000 – A Coherent Nature Conservation Network? Bettina Kleining,2024-05-26 This book offers a fresh perspective on the Habitats Directive s rules on designating Natura 2000 the European biodiversity conservation network Although the Habitats Directive came into force in the early 1990s the network is not yet optimally set up and lacks coherence and connectivity The author examines the Habitats Directive s provisions regarding the designation of Natura 2000 and discusses possible reasons for the EU Member States ongoing lack of compliance with their designation duties She reassesses the 2015 REFIT Fitness Check of the Nature Directives to look for the Member States reasons for not having optimally complied with their designation duties yet She then analyses the Habitats Directive to reveal elements of non optimal drafting in its designation provisions Sensible law reforms that do not interfere with the general framework of the Habitats Directive and which keep in mind the relevant national regional and international biodiversity law and policy as well as the relevant case law will be discussed to this end As a result this book presents an enhanced legal designation framework that can support Member States compliance with their designation obligations The book finally goes beyond the European biodiversity legislation also shedding light on the effects of the suggested reforms for the broader biodiversity and environmental law and policy landscape and concludes that reforming the Habitats Directive would benefit a variety of contemporary areas of law This book targets academics and policy makers in the field as it provides a scholarly as well as a hands on approach to the subject of strengthening European biodiversity law
