Guru Yes My definition of enlightenment is what colour is for the blind man We can describe colour to him and he will understand and know it intellectually as a mental concept But what it really is as an experiential experience he will only know after eyesight has been given to him Or say we have a glass of water in front of us The water exists as it is waterness is its nature Speaking of it is water in terms of the mind Such water is a concept The word water is not water No matter how detailed we describe it even if it is described by 100 Einsteins such a description will never be what water really is We have the triad the subject the seer the object water and the process of perceiving water We can know water only when we drink it shower with it etc That knowing then is a direct existential experience That knowing is drinking is quenching thirst therefore is blissful The three fold aspects knowing drinking and being blissful are one in the event called drinking It is an impersonal event that occurs as part of the functioning of Totality It is not an act of an individual me embodied in a body mind organism with the sense of personal volition and doership While drinking the triad drinker water and the process of drinking is dissolved Drinking occurs as one impersonal event comprising the drinker the water and the process of drinking In this case drinking is the impersonal What is The actual drinking of water is not a concept At the moment of drinking there is no individual separate me entity a drinker drinking water The me comes in afterwards as a further additional me thought as in I drank water I experienced drinking water The fact is while drinking water happened there was no me A body mind organism was drinking water as part of the functioning of Totality When we inquire closely we find that such a me entity does not exist except as a thought as a notion as a concept

Science of Human Nature and Art of Sustainable Happiness: Arrive 2 B U Emma-Shivani Brown Ph.D., 2019-09-30

Ultimately people want to be happy For most of us we seek happiness outside of ourselves We hope that our pursuit of a higher paying job a nicer house a new mate a faster speedboat etc will bring happiness These external desires might satisfy our appetite in the short term but when the shiny newness inevitably wears off we find ourselves feeling emotionally bankrupt and often in overwhelming debt We all want to know the secret to happiness even though very few of us actually have the motivation and dedication to work for it Recognizing and changing patterns of behavior that don't serve us adopting positivity practices living mindfully and flourishing often require a substantial life overhaul not just a makeover Here's the secret there is no secret to happiness Much research has been done and countless books classes conferences and programs come out every year each with a new take on this age-old enigma

Conceptions of Happiness Ignacio L. Götz, 2009-12-08

Conceptions of Happiness Revised Edition presents the thesis that happiness does not mean just one thing but many and that these many meanings have been studied described argued and practiced throughout the centuries in many climes and places When asked if one is happy people answer according to their own conception of happiness Their conception may differ from that of the interrogator who may not be unaware of this fact People may also deem themselves happy differently at different times in their lives depending upon their circumstances and on their own estimate of themselves Therefore to think that there is just one meaning of happiness spanning a lifetime does not correspond to the facts of life as we know and experience them This book presents many views of happiness as espoused by their original founders and developers range of philosophical issues though film as well as to issues about the nature of film itself a blend missing in most recent books on philosophy and film Cox and Levine bring a critical eye to philosophical film discussions throughout

Rousseau and Education According to Nature Thomas Davidson, 1898 Life John Ames Mitchell, 1908 The Search for Happiness Bernard Harmand, 2008-04

If readers are searching for happiness then the pointers in this book will certainly show the way home If readers have been longing to know the nature of true peace then these profound yet spirited talks between Bernard Harmand and his inquirers may leave readers with a radically different sense of who they are and what is the true nature of happiness The desire to be happy represents the fundamental drive in people and its search pushes us to seek an elusive goal either through the senses or through religious belief Bernard is quick to point out the great paradox at the heart of this search that our very nature our true being is the very happiness people so desperately seek He says that everyone is like a person who searches for a missing necklace that has always been around his or her own neck Throughout The Search for Happiness the fundamental questions posed by sincere seekers of truth are refreshingly explored and the answers never get in the reader s way No dogma or belief here just a loving presence who guides without guiding and speaks to the heart without relying on words Bernard s message is clear We only need to realize that we have never left the source of abiding peace and happiness even though it may appear otherwise These dialogues and letters cover much ground in just a few pages and solid pointers are provided to help reach the precipice of that Love which consumes all in its path And Bernard is always right there reminding us to realize that we are now and always have been the eternal happiness that is our true self The Christian Science Journal ,1914 The precepts of Jesus, the guide to peace and happiness : extracted from the books of the New Testament, ascribed to the four evangelists ... 1820 Rammohun Roy (Raja),1901 Happiness for Humans Daniel C. Russell,2012-10-25 Daniel C Russell presents a new account of happiness and how to live a good life He returns to the ancient tradition of eudaimonism to argue that happiness is a life of activity that involves acting for the sake of ends we can live for It is not only fulfilling for us as humans and individuals but inseparable from what makes us who we are
