The Understanding of Nature Marjorie Grene, 2012-12-06 No student or colleague of Marjorie Grene will miss her incisive presence in these papers on the study and nature of living nature and we believe the new reader will quickly join the stimulating discussion and critique which Professor Grene steadily provokes For years she has worked with equally sure knowledge in the classical domain of philosophy and in modern epistemological inquiry equally philosopher of science and metaphysician Moreover she has the deeply sensible notion that she should be a critically intelligent learner as much as an imaginatively original thinker and as a result she has brought insightful expository readings of other philosophers and scientists to her own work We were most fortunate that Marjorie Grene was willing to spend a full semester of a recent leave here in Boston and we have on other occasions sought her participation in our colloquia and elsewhere Now we have the pleasure of including among the Boston Studies in the Philosophy of Science this generous selection from Grene's philosophical inquiries into the understanding of the natural world and of the men and women in it Boston University Center for the R S COHEN Philosophy and History of Science M W W ARTOFISKY April 1974 PREFACE This collection spans spottily years from 1946 On Some Distinctions between Men and Brutes to 1974 On the Nature of Natural Necessity

Making Nature Sacred John Gatta, 2004-10-14 Since colonial times the sense of encountering an unseen transcendental Presence within the natural world has been a characteristic motif in American literature and culture American writers have repeatedly perceived in nature something beyond itself and beyond themselves In this book John Gatta argues that the religious import of American environmental literature has yet to be fully recognized or understood Whatever their theology American writers have perennially construed the nonhuman world to be a source in Rachel Carson's words of something that takes us out of ourselves Making Nature Sacred explores how the quest for natural revelation has been pursued through successive phases of American literary and intellectual history And it shows how the imaginative challenge of reading landscapes has been influenced by biblical hermeneutics Though focused on adaptations of Judeo-Christian religious traditions it also samples Native American African American and Buddhist forms of ecospirituality It begins with Colonial New England writers such as Anne Bradstreet and Jonathan Edwards re-examines pivotal figures such as Henry Thoreau and John Muir and takes account of writings by Mary Austin Rachel Carson and many others along the way The book concludes with an assessment of the spiritual renaissance underway in current environmental writing as represented by five noteworthy poets and by authors such as Wendell Berry Annie Dillard Marilynne Robinson Peter Matthiessen and Barry Lopez This engaging study should appeal not only to students of literature but also to those interested in ethics and environmental studies religious studies and American cultural history Nature's Calendar Ernest Ingersoll,1900 Naturalism and Unbelief in France, 1650-1729 Alan Charles Kors,2016-06-20 This book shows how absolute naturalism deciphering nature without reference to God emerged from the inheritance dynamics and debates of orthodox culture The Nature of the Page Joshua Calhoun,2019-12-27 An innovative study of books and reading that focuses on papermaking in the Renaissance In The Nature of the Page Joshua Calhoun tells the story of handmade paper in Renaissance England and beyond For most of the history of printing paper was made primarily from recycled rags so this is a story about using old clothes to tell new stories about plants used to make clothes and about plants that frustrated papermakers best attempts to replace scarce natural resources with abundant ones Because plants like humans are susceptible to the ravages of time it is also a story of corruption and the hope that we can preserve the things we love from decay Combining environmental and bibliographical research with deft literary analysis Calhoun reveals how much we have left to discover in familiar texts He describes the transformation of plant material into a sheet of paper details how ecological availability or scarcity influenced literary output in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and examines the impact of the various colors and qualities of paper on early modern reading practices Through a discussion of sizing the mixture used to coat the surface of paper so that ink would not blot into its fibers he reveals a surprising textual interaction between animals and readers He shows how we might read an indistinct stain on the page of an early modern book to better understand the mixed media surfaces on which readers writers and printers recorded and revised history Lastly Calhoun considers how early modern writers imagined paper decay and how modern scholars grapple with biodeterioration today Exploring the poetic interplay between human ideas and the plant animal and mineral forms through which they are mediated The Nature of the Page prompts readers to reconsider the role of the natural world in everything from old books to new smartphones Songs of Nature John Sallis,2020-02-04 This latest philosophical text by John Sallis is inspired by the work of contemporary Chinese painter Cao Jun It carries out a series of philosophical reflections on nature art and music by taking up Cao Jun s art and thought with a focus on questions of the elemental Sallis s reflections are not a matter of simply relating art works to philosophical thought as theoretical insights and developments run throughout Cao Jun s writings and inform many of his artistic works Sallis maintains abundant points of contact with Chinese philosophical traditions but also with Western philosophy In these reflections on art Sallis poses a critique of mimesis and considers the relation of painting to music He affirms his conviction that the artist must always turn to nature especially as reflections on the earth and sky delimit the scale and place of what is human Full color illustrations enhance this provocative and penetrating text Traditional Korean Philosophy Youngsun Back,Philip J Ivanhoe,2016-11-08

This unique volume of original essays presents in depth analyses of representative periods problems and debates within the long and rich history of Korean philosophy It provides the reader with a sense of the problems that motivated thinkers within the tradition and the kinds of arguments that characterize their reflections With contributions from some of the best and most significant contemporary Korean philosophers this volume marks an important new stage in the Western language study and appreciation of Korean philosophy In order for philosophy to be understood and appreciated as philosophy it must at some point be presented and evaluated as the human effort to understand problems through a process of careful and sustained analysis and argument This anthology offers Western readers the first opportunity to meet and engage with traditional Korean Buddhist and Confucian philosophy on these terms

Buddha Nature Sallie B. King, 1991-01-22 This volume presents the first book length study in English of the concept of Buddha nature as discussed in the Buddha Nature Treatise Fo Xing Lun attributed to Vasubandhu and translated into Chinese by Paramartha in the sixth century The author provides a detailed discussion of one of the most important concepts in East Asian Buddhism a topic little addressed in Western studies of Buddhism until now and places the Buddha nature concept in the context of Buddhist intellectual history King then carefully explains the traditional Buddhist language in the text and embeds Buddha nature in a family of concepts and values which as a group are foundational to the development of the major indigenous schools of Chinese Buddhism In addition she refutes the accusations that the idea of Buddha nature introduces a crypto Atman into Buddhist thought and that it represents a form of monism akin to the Brahmanism of the Upanisads In doing this King defends Buddha nature in terms of purely Buddhist philosophical principles Finally the author engages the Buddha nature concept in dialogue with Western philosophy by asking what it teaches us about what a human being or person is

Marxism and Human Nature Sean Sayers, The Aesthetic Nature of Tennyson Jean Pauline Smith, Theory and Nature of War, 1993

Thoreau's Nature Jane Bennett, 2002-04-03 Thoreau's Nature Ethics Politics and the Wild explores how Thoreau crafted a life open to the Wild a term that marks the startling element of foreignness in every object of experience however familiar Thoreau's encounters with nature Bennett argues allowed him to resist his all too human tendency toward intellectual laziness social conformity and political complacency Bennett pursues this theme by constructing a series of dialogues between Thoreau and our contemporaries Foucault on identity and power Haraway on the nature culture of division Hollywood celebrities on the Walden Woods Project the National Endowment for the Humanities on politics and art and Kafka on the question of political idealism The pertinence to the late 20th century of Thoreau's pursuit of independent judgment ecological foresight and moral nobility becomes apparent through these engagements

Unruly Nature Scott Allan, Edouard Kopp, Line Clausen Pedersen, 2016-06-21 Thodore Rousseau 1812-1867 arguably the most important French landscape artist of the mid nineteenth century and a leader of the so called Barbizon School occupies a crucial moment of transition from the idealizing effects of academic painting to the radically modern vision of the Impressionists He was an experimental artist who rejected the traditional historical biblical or literary subject matter in favor of unruly nature a Romantic naturalism that confounded his contemporaries with its bizarre compositional and coloristic innovations Lavishly illustrated and thoroughly documented this volume includes five essays by experts in the field Scott Allan and douard Kopp alternately examine Rousseau s diverse techniques and working procedures as a painter and as a draftsman as well as his art s mixed economic and critical fortunes on the art market and at the Salon Line Clausen Pedersen s essay focuses on Mont Blanc Seen from La Faucille Storm Effect an early touchstone for the artist and a spectacular example of the Romantic sublime in the Ny Carlsberg Glyptotek s collection This catalogue accompanies an eponymous exhibition on view at the J Paul Getty Museum from June 21 to September 11 2016 and at the Ny Carlsberg Glyptotek from October 13 2016 to January 8 2017
