Adaptive Co-Management

Derek Armitage, Fikret Berkes, Nancy Doubleday, 2010-10-01 In Canada and around the world governments are shifting away from regulatory models for governing natural and cultural resources New concerns with adaptive processes feedback learning and flexible partnerships are reshaping environmental governance Meanwhile ideas about collaboration and learning are converging around the idea of adaptive co management This book provides a comprehensive synthesis of the core concepts strategies and tools in this emerging field informed by a diverse group of researchers and practitioners with over two decades of experience It also offers a diverse set of case studies that reveal the challenges and implications of adaptive co management thinking and synthesizes lessons for natural and cultural resource governance in a wide range of contexts Adaptive Co

Management is not only a timely book but also a useful concept for resource governance in a world marked by rapid socio ecological change It will be of interest to researchers environmental practitioners policy makers and students in fields across the political and environmental spectrum Complexity and Creative Capacity Kelly Chapman,2015-11-06 Complexity theories gained prominence in the 1990s with a focus on self organising and complex adaptive systems Since then complexity theory has become one of the fastest growing topics in both the natural and social sciences and touted as a revolutionary way of understanding the behaviour of complex systems This book uses complexity theory to surface and challenge the deeply held cultural assumptions that shape how we think about reality and knowledge In doing so it shows how our traditional approaches to generating and applying knowledge may be paradoxically exacerbating some of the wicked environmental problems we are currently facing The author proposes an innovative and compelling argument for rejecting old constructs of knowledge transfer adaptive management and adaptive capacity The book also presents a distinctively coherent and comprehensive synthesis of cognition learning knowledge and organizing from a complexity perspective It concludes with a reconceptualization of the problem of knowledge transfer from a complexity perspective proposing the concept of creative capacity as an alternative to adaptive capacity as a measure of resilience in socio ecological systems Although written from an environmental management perspective it is relevant to the broader natural sciences and to a range of other disciplines including knowledge management organizational learning organizational management and the philosophy of science

Green Utopianism Karin Bradley,Johan Hedrén,2014-03-21 Utopian thought and experimental approaches to societal organization have been rare in the last decades of planning and politics Instead there is a widespread belief in ecological modernization that sustainable societies can be created within the frame of the current global capitalist world order by taking small steps such as eco labeling urban densification and recycling However in the context of the current crisis in which resource depletion climate change uneven development and economic instability are seen as interlinked this belief is increasingly being questioned and alternative developmental paths sought This collection demonstrates how utopian thought can be used in a contemporary context as critique and in exploring desired futures The book includes theoretical perspectives on changing global socio environmental relationships and political struggles for alternative development paths and analyzes micro level practices in co housing alternative energy provision use of green space transportation co production of urban space peer to peer production and consumption and alternative economies It contributes research perspectives on contemporary green utopian practices and strategies combining theoretical and empirical analyses to spark discussions of possible futures The SAGE Handbook of Environment and Society Jules Pretty,Andy Ball,Ted Benton,Julia Guivant,David R Lee,David Orr,Max Pfeffer,Professor Hugh Ward,2007-10-30 A monumental and timely contribution to scholarship on society and environments The handbook makes it easy and compelling for anyone to learn about that scholarship in its full manifestations and as represented by some of the most highly respected researchers and thinkers in the English speaking world It is wide reaching in scope and far reaching in its implications for public and private action a definite must for serious researchers and their libraries Bonnie J McCay Rutgers University This is the desert island book for anyone interested in the relationship between society and the environment The editors have assembled a masterful collection of contributions on every conceivable dimension of environmental thinking in the social sciences and humanities No library should be without it Robyn Eckersley University of Melbourne The SAGE Handbook of Environment and Society focuses on the interactions between people societies and economies and the state of nature and the environment Editorially integrated but written from multi disciplinary perspectives it is organised in seven sections Environmental thought past and present Valuing the environment Knowledges and knowing Political economy of environmental change Environmental technologies Redesigning natures Institutions and policies for influencing the environment Key themes include locations where the environment society relation is most acute where for example there are few natural resources or where industrialization is unregulated the discussion of these issues at different scales local regional national and global the cost of damage to resources and the relation between principal actors in the environment society nexus Aimed at an international audience of academics research students researchers practitioners and policy makers The SAGE Handbook of Environment and Society presents readers in social science and natural science with a manual of the past present and future of environment society links

Complex Systems, Smart Territories and Mobility Patricia Sajous, Cyrille Bertelle, 2021-01-27 This book reflects the outcome of contribution by the plural community and of the interactions between disciplines With the mass of data available through Information and Communication Technologies ICT in an unprecedented quantity since the Human History it is now possible to access dimensions of knowledge that though not hidden could not be grasped in the same way in the past The question of how this information can be used for the benefit of institutional and economic actors to foster the development of a territory Tackling the issue from a resolutely interdisciplinary perspective the authors explore the theories and methods of complex systems in order to discuss how they can contribute in these new circumstances to territorial intelligence and to the development practices in which it is embodied This book illustrates how today s research explores the multiple facets of territorial systems in order to reproduce their richness It invites readers to learn about the challenges ideas results and advances present in this domain

Practices in Social Ecological Research Andrea Rawluk, Ruth Beilin, Helena Bender, Rebecca Ford, 2019-11-16 Aimed at those at the forefront of social ecological thinking this book presents a practice oriented process to navigate the complex interdisciplinary challenges of our time The book brings together insights from the social sciences and beyond to introduce readers to adaptive doing a continuous and iterative process of experiential learning that provides an accessible structure and process for integrating a range of knowledge and practices As part of the adaptive doing learning cycle the authors argue for a common platform symbolically called the agora where multiple ways of understanding can be discussed In this space participants can work from practice and narratives toward meaning knowledge formation and practice change The book demonstrates three reframing tools for social ecological practice that provide readers with multiple ways of holistically entering the social ecological domain and expanding their perspectives with a view to changing practice Adaptive doing is presented as a catalyst for a new generation of social ecological research in which participants honour their disciplinary foundations while being ready to collaborate within each new system and each new engagement being able to act now for social ecological recognition and change

5th International Marine Conservation Congress E. Christien Michael Parsons, Edward Jeremy Hind-Ozan, Leslie Cornick, Mariana Padron, Jason Paul Landrum, 2022-03-29 Contested Forms of Governance in Marine Protected Areas Natalie Bown, Tim S. Gray, Selina M.

Stead, 2013-01-17 In this book the authors examine the governance of marine protected areas MPA and in particular they compare two different forms of governance co management CM and adaptive co management ACM CM is characterized by the decentralization of the decision making process incorporating the governed as well as the government ACM is characterized by the dynamic process whereby co management decision making is made continuously responsive to the changing ecological and socio economic circumstances of the MPA The authors carry out a comprehensive critical analysis of CM and ACM before applying these concepts to the case study of the Cayos Cochinos Marine Protected Area off Honduras to assess two successive management cycles 2004-9 and 2008-13 The area was designated as an MPA in 1993 a governmental decision which was met with resentment by local communities CM was introduced in 2004 to involve these local stakeholders in the decision making process but achieved limited success In an attempt to deal with these deficiencies ACM was adopted in the second management plan in 2008 but whereas the position of the local communities improved it tipped the scales too far away from conservation A third management plan is currently being prepared that promises to strike a better balance between ecological and socio economic objectives A central theme of the book is to examine how far the CCMPA adhered to the principles of CM and ACM respectively in its first two management plans

Routledge Handbook of Environmental Anthropology Helen Kopnina, Eleanor Shoreman-Ouimet, 2016-08-12 Environmental Anthropology studies historic and present human environment interactions This volume illustrates the ways in which today's environmental anthropologists are constructing new paradigms for understanding the multiplicity of players pressures and ecologies in every environment and the value of cultural knowledge of landscapes This Handbook provides a comprehensive survey of contemporary topics in environmental anthropology and thorough discussions on the current state and prospective future of the field in seven key sections As the contributions to this Handbook demonstrate the subfield of environmental anthropology is responding to cultural adaptations and responses to environmental changes in multiple and complex ways As a discipline concerned primarily with human environment interaction environmental anthropologists recognize that we are now working within a pressure cooker of rapid environmental damage that is forcing behavioural and often cultural changes around the world As we see in the breadth of topics presented in this volume these environmental challenges have inspired renewed foci on traditional topics such as food procurement ethnobiology and spiritual ecology and a broad new range of subjects such as resilience nonhuman rights architectural anthropology industrialism and education This volume enables scholars and students quick access to both established and trending environmental anthropological explorations into theory methodology and practice

Nonini, 2014-03-17 A Companion to Urban Anthropology BLACKWELL COMPANIONS TO ANTHROPOLOGY A Companion to Urban Anthropology The city is becoming the basic currency of human and non human life a pile of interconnections which makes a series of difficult wholes This volume navigates the anthropology of this medium with the greatest aplomb Nigel Thrift University of Warwick A Companion to Urban Anthropology presents original essays on central concepts in urban anthropology and ethnography Featuring contributions from more than 25 leading international scholars in urban studies the readings cover a wide variety of topics Each essay explores a key phenomenon and is grounded in the author's original research along with findings of other urbanists Classic issues such as built structures and urban planning community markets and race lead to emergent areas of study including borders sexualities nature extralegality and resilience and sustainability A Companion to Urban Anthropology offers revealing insights into the complex forces that continue to shape the urban experience

Innovative Built Heritage Models Koenraad van Balen, Aziliz Vandesande, 2018-01-29 Several international and European institutions have given increasing importance to sustainable approaches to our existing building stock and the role of built heritage in this process At the same time preventive and planned conservation of built heritage has been increasingly recognised by researchers given its cost effectiveness for owner managers effective long term quality protection and environmental enhancement of structures as well as its potential of activating heritage in the employment sector and empowering of local communities Innovative Built Heritage Models collects the lectures presented at the international conference on CHANGES 2017 Thematic Week Leuven Belgium 6-8 February 2017 The aim of the conference was to provide an international overview of the existing strategies processes and operational case studies that support the implementation of a preventive and planned conservation approach in the built heritage sector The conference twins with the CHANGES project supported by the Joint Programming Initiative Heritage Plus programme This publication meets the increasing demand for shared information to support the transition towards a more sustainable conservation process The volume consists of three main parts The CHANGES paradigm Preventive and planned conservation and Case studies of Change The book reflects on CHANGES in a straightforward manner by providing research and case studies that serve as baseline records guidance and essential literature for researchers and practitioners involved in the built heritage sector

Hydrometeorological Hazards Philippe Quevauviller, 2014-10-24 HYDROMETEOROLOGICAL EXTREME EVENTS Hydrometeorological Hazards Interfacing Science and Policy Recent hydrometeorological extreme events have highlighted the increased exposure and vulnerability of societies and the need to strengthen the knowledge base of related policies Current research is focused on improving forecasting prediction and early warning capabilities in order to improve the assessment of vulnerability and risks linked to extreme climatic events Hydrometeorological Hazards Interfacing Science and Policy is the first volume of a series which will gather scientific and policy related knowledge on climate related extreme events Invited authors are internationally recognized experts in their respective fields This volume reflects the most recent advances in science and policy within this field and takes a multidisciplinary approach The book provides the reader with a state of the art account of flash floods droughts storms and a comprehensive discussion focused on the cost of natural hazards resilience and adaptation This book will be an invaluable reference for advanced undergraduates taking courses with a focus on natural hazards including climate related extreme events The book will also be of interest to postgraduates researchers and policymakers in this field looking for an overview of the subject

Nature, Temporality and Environmental Management Lesley Head, Katarina Saltzman, Gunhild Setten, Marie Stenseke, 2016-08-05 How are different concepts of nature and time embedded into human practices of landscape and environmental management And how can temporalities that entwine past present and future help us deal with challenges on the ground In a time of uncertainty and climate change how much can we hold onto ideals of nature rooted in a pristine and stable past The Scandinavian and Australian perspectives in this book throw fresh light on these questions and explore new possibilities and challenges in uncertain and changing landscapes of the future This book presents examples from farmers gardens and Indigenous communities among others and shows that many people and communities are already actively engaging with environmental change and uncertainty The book is structured around four themes environmental futures mobile natures indigenous and colonial legacies heritage and management Part I includes important contributions towards contemporary environmental management debates yet the chapters in this section also show how the legacy of older landscapes forms part of the active production of future ones Part II examines the challenges of living with mobile natures as it is acknowledged that environments natures and people do not stand still An important dimension of the heritage and contemporary politics of Australia Sweden and Norway is the presence of indigenous peoples As is clear in part III the legacies of the colonial past both haunt and energise contemporary land management decisions Finally part IV demonstrates how the history and heritage of landscapes including human activities in those landscapes are entwined with contemporary environmental management The rich empirical content of the chapters exposes the diversity of meanings practices and ways of being in nature that can be derived from cultural environmental research in different disciplines The everyday engagements between people nature and temporalities provide important creative resources with which to meet future challenges
