Browned Off and Bloody-Minded Alan Allport, 2015-03-01 More than three and a half million men served in the British Army during the Second World War the vast majority of them civilians who had never expected to become soldiers and had little idea what military life with all its strange rituals discomforts and dangers was going to be like Alan Allport's rich and luminous social history examines the experience of the greatest and most terrible war in history from the perspective of these ordinary extraordinary men who were plucked from their peacetime families and workplaces and sent to fight for King and Country Allport chronicles the huge diversity of their wartime trajectories tracing how soldiers responded to and were shaped by their years with the British Army and how that army however reluctantly had to accommodate itself to them Touching on issues of class sex crime trauma and national identity through a colorful multitude of fresh individual perspectives the book provides an enlightening deeply moving perspective on how a generation of very modern minded young men responded to the challenges of a brutal and disorienting conflict The Standard Fifth Reader Martin Grove Brumbaugh, 1899 Forty Modern Fables George Ade, 1902-01-01

Maria and the Admiral Rachel Billington, 2012-05-10 A sweeping historical drama based on the true and enduring love of Thomas Cochrane and Maria Graham Touching and dashing in equal measure SPECTATOR Intense and moving THE LADY Rachel Billington imagines their intense relationship in this engrossing novel CHOICE Chile June 1822 Maria Graham a young British widow watches as her compatriot Admiral Lord Cochrane sails triumphantly into the Valparaiso Bay fresh from leading the Chilean fleet to victory over the country's Spanish rulers Cochrane a popular yet outspoken hero of the Napoleonic wars is drawn to Maria a woman whose intelligence and spirit of adventure rival his own Yet their intense and extraordinary relationship must contend with a climate of uncertainty political turmoil and civil war Inspired by Maria Graham's own journals MARIA AND THE ADMIRAL vividly brings to life the story of one woman who tested the limits of society and of her enduring love for one of the most colourful figures of her age Tropical Africa Henry Drummond, Three distinct Africas are known to the modern world North Africa where men go for health South Africa where they go for money and Central Africa where they go for adventure The first the old Africa of Augustine and Carthage every one knows from history the geography of the second the Africa of the Zulu and the diamond has been taught us by two Universal Educators War and the Stock Exchange but our knowledge of the third the Africa of Livingstone and Stanley is still fitly symbolized by the vacant look upon our maps which tells how long this mysterious land has kept its secret Into the heart of this mysterious Africa I wish to take you with me now And let me magnify my subject by saying at once that it is a wonderful thing to see It is a wonderful thing to start from the civilization of Europe pass up these mighty rivers and work your way into that unknown land work your way alone and on foot mile after mile month after month among strange birds and beasts and plants and insects meeting tribes which have no name speaking tongues which no man can interpret till you have reached its secret heart and stood where white man has never trod before It is a wonderful thing to look at this weird world of human beings half animal half children wholly savage and wholly heathen and to turn and come back again to civilization before the impressions have had time to fade and while the myriad problems of so strange a spectacle are still seething in the mind It is an education to see this sight an education in the meaning and history of man To have been here is to have lived before

Menes It is to have watched the dawn of evolution It is to have the great moral and social problems of life of anthropology of ethnology and even of theology brought home to the imagination in the most new and startling light On the longest day of a recent summer midwinter therefore in the tropics I left London A long railway run across France Switzerland and Italy brings one in a day or two to the Mediterranean Crossing to Alexandria the traveller strikes across Egypt over the Nile through the battlefield of Tel el Kebir to the Red Sea steams down its sweltering length to Aden tranships and after three lifetimes of deplorable humiliation in the south west Monsoons terminates his sufferings at Zanzibar Zanzibar is the focus of all East African exploration No matter where you are going in the interior you must begin at Zanzibar Oriental in its appearance Mohammedan in its religion Arabian in its morals this cesspool of wickedness is a fit capital for the Dark Continent But Zanzibar is Zanzibar simply because it is the only apology for a town on the whole coast An immense outfit is required to penetrate this shopless and foodless land and here only can the traveller make up his caravan The ivory and slave trades have made caravaning a profession and everything the explorer wants is to be had in these bazaars from a tin of sardines to a repeating rifle Here these black villains the porters the necessity and the despair of travellers the scum of old slave gangs and the fugitives from justice from every tribe congregate for hire And if there is one thing on which African travellers are for once agreed it is that for laziness ugliness stupidity and wickedness these men are not to be matched on any continent in the world Their one strong point is that they will engage themselves for the Victoria Nyanza or for the Grand Tour of the Tanganyika with as little ado as a Chamounix guide volunteers for the Jardin but this singular avidity is mainly due to the fact that each man cherishes the hope of running away at the earliest opportunity Were it only to avoid requiring to employ these gentlemen having them for one s sole company month after month seeing them transgress every commandment in turn before your eyes you yourself being powerless to check them except by a wholesale breach of the sixth it would be worth while to seek another route into the heart of Africa
