Zohreh Kermani, 2013-07-29 An intriguing important and often entertaining look at an under studied aspect of new religions Highly recommended Douglas E Cowan author of Cyberhenge Modern Pagans on the Internet For most of its history contemporary Paganism has been a religion of converts Yet as it enters its fifth decade it is incorporating growing numbers of second generation Pagans for whom Paganism is a family tradition not a religious worldview arrived at via a spiritual quest In Pagan Family Values S Zohreh Kermani explores the ways in which North American Pagan families pass on their beliefs to their children and how the effort to socialize children influences this new religious movement The first ethnographic study of the everyday lives of contemporary Pagan families this volume brings their experiences into conversation with contemporary issues in American religion Through formal interviews with Pagan families participant observation at various pagan events and data collected via online surveys Kermani traces the ways in which Pagan parents transmit their religious values to their children Rather than seeking to pass along specific religious beliefs Pagan parents tend to seek to instill values such as religious tolerance and spiritual independence which will remain with their children throughout their lives regardless of these children's ultimate religious identifications S Zohreh Kermani teaches Religious Studies part time at Youngstown State University In the New and Alternative Religions series      A Community of Witches Helen A. Berger, 2011-11-24 A Community of Witches explores the beliefs and practices of Neo Paganism and Witchcraft generally known to scholars and practitioners as Wicca While the words magic witchcraft and paganism evoke images of the distant past and remote cultures this book shows that Wicca has emerged as part of a new religious movement that reflects the era in which it developed Imported to the United States in the later 1960s from the United Kingdom the religion absorbed into its basic fabric the social concerns of the time feminism environmentalism self development alternative spirituality and mistrust of authority Helen A Berger's ten year participant observation study of Neo Pagans and Witches on the eastern seaboard of the United States and her collaboration on a national survey of Neo Pagans form the basis for exploring the practices structures and transformation of this nascent religion Responding to scholars who suggest that Neo Paganism is merely a pseudo religion or a cultural movement because it lacks central authority and clear boundaries Berger contends that Neo Paganism has many of the characteristics that one would expect of a religion born in late modernity the appropriation of rituals from other cultures a view of the universe as a cosmic whole an emphasis on creating and re creating the self an intertwining of the personal and the political and a certain playfulness Aided by the Internet self published journals and festivals and other gatherings today s Neo Pagans communicate with one another about social issues as well as ritual practices and magical rites This community of interest along with the aging of the original participants and the growing number of children born to Neo Pagan families is resulting in Neo Paganism developing some of the marks of a mature and established religion
