Pages From The Of The Sun New And Selected Poems:

Pages from the Book of the Sun Niyi Osundare, 2002 This long awaited collection brings together some of the best poems by one of Africa's most important poets. Covering nearly two decades it represents a substantial part of the poet's new writing as well as poems from his early works. With remarkable vigour and consistency Osundare addresses major social and aesthetic issues of our time such as justice, freedom, war, racism, the environment, art and the process of writing poetry, all of which are treated as urgent and engaging themes in a variety of delightful and grippingly lyrical styles. Teaching the Art of Poetry Baron Wormser, A. David Cappella, 1999-12 Written with classroom teachers in mind, this book is a guide to the art of poetry, a focused approach to how to teach poetry. It focuses on two main issues: how poetry is defined/perceived/taught and how it can become more integrated into students' lives. The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry Jahan Ramazani, 2017-02-27 The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry is the first collection of essays to explore postcolonial poetry through regional, historical, political, formal, textual, gender and comparative approaches. The essays encompass a broad range of English speakers from the Caribbean, Africa, South Asia and the Pacific Islands, the former settler colonies such as Canada, Australia and New Zealand, especially non-Europeans, Ireland, Britain's oldest colony and postcolonial Britain itself, particularly black and Asian immigrants and their descendants. The comparative essays analyze poetry from across the postcolonial anglophone world in relation to postcolonialism and modernism, fixed and free forms, experimentation, oral performance and creole languages, protest poetry, the poetic mapping of urban and rural spaces, poetic embodiments of sexuality and gender, poetry and publishing history, and poetry's response to and reimagining of globalization. Strengthening the place of poetry in postcolonial studies, this Companion also contributes to the globalization of poetry studies. West African Literatures Stephanie Newell, 2006-06-08 The Oxford Studies in Postcolonial Literatures series, general editor Elleke Boehmer, offers stimulating and accessible introductions to definitive topics and key genres and regions within the rapidly diversifying field of postcolonial literary studies in English. This study of West African literatures interweaves the analysis of fiction, drama and poetry with an exploration of the broader political, cultural and intellectual contexts within which West African writers work. Anglophone literatures form the central focus of the book, with comparative comments on vernacular literature, francophone writing and oral literatures, and detailed discussion of selected francophone texts in translation, e.g. Senghor, Tadjou Beyala, B. Sembene. Moving from a discussion of nationalist and anti-colonial writing in the period before independence towards the more experimental writings of contemporary authors such as Vronique Tadjou, Ivory Coast, Syl Cheney Coker, Sierra Leone and Kojo Laing, Ghana, the book constantly relates texts to the social and political history of West Africa. Canonical internationally well-known writers such as Chinua Achebe and Wole Soyinka are positioned in relation to the literary cultures and debates which surrounded them when they first produced their seminal texts; the discussions and disagreements which have grown up around their work in subsequent decades are also considered. The work of new and lesser known writers is also considered including Niyi Osundare Nigeria and Kofi Anyidoho Ghana In order to convey a sense of the rich and complex societies that are clustered beneath the umbrella term postcolonial emphasis is placed on West Africa's diverse oral and popular cultures and the ways in which local intellectuals and readers have responded to the most prominent authors through the aesthetic frameworks generated by these forms

Metaphor and the Slave Trade in West African Literature Laura T. Murphy, 2012-04-02 Metaphor and the Slave Trade provides compelling evidence of the hidden but unmistakable traces of the transatlantic slave trade that persist in West African discourse Through an examination of metaphors that describe the trauma loss and suffering associated with the commerce in human lives this book shows how the horrors of slavery are communicated from generation to generation Laura T Murphy's insightful new readings of canonical West African fiction autobiography drama and poetry explore the relationship between memory and metaphor and emphasize how repressed or otherwise marginalized memories can be transmitted through images tropes rumors and fears By analyzing the unique codes through which West Africans have represented the slave trade this work foregrounds African literary contributions to Black Atlantic discourse and draws attention to the archive that metaphor unlocks for scholars of all disciplines and fields of study

Oral Forms of Nigerian Autobiography and Life Stories Adetayo Alabi, 2021-08-19 Oral Forms of Nigerian Autobiography and Life Stories discusses the oral life stories and poems that Africans particularly the Yoruba people have told about the self and community over hundreds of years Disproving the Eurocentric argument that Africans didn't produce stories about themselves the author showcases a vibrant literary tradition of oral autobiographies in Africa and the diaspora The oral autobiographies studied in this book show that stories and poems about individuals and their communities have always existed in various African societies and they were used to record teach and document history culture tradition identity and resistance Genres covered in the book include the panegyric witches and wizards narratives the epithalamium tradition the hunter's chant and Udje of the Urhobo Providing an important showcase for oral narrative traditions this book will be of interest to students scholars and researchers in African and Africana studies literature and autobiographical studies

Gary Soto Ron McFarland, 2022-08-22 In a 1995 interview prolific Chicano writer Gary Soto noted Wonderment has always been a part of my life This book surveys Soto's immense range of poems stories novels essays and plays for audiences of prereaders to adults Soto's world moves from the cotton and beet fields of the San Joaquin Valley to the blue collar barrios of Fresno and to urban and suburban settings in Oakland and Berkeley Chapters analyze a wide variety of Soto titles from his breakout works like 1977's The Elements of San Joaquin to the Chato the Cat illustrated books for children With self-deprecating humor particularly in his poems Soto combines his wonderment with the trials and conflicts that beset him throughout life In such novels as Jesse Buried Onions and The Afterlife and in his stories for YA readers including Baseball in April and Petty Crimes his broad array of characters confront the anxieties and annoyances of adolescence Although he continues to motivate young Chicanos to read and write Soto stakes his greatest claims to literary prominence through his poems which are accessible to readers of all ages Bending the Bow Frank M Chipasula,2009-08-05 From the ancient Egyptian inventors of the love lyric to contemporary poets Bending the Bow An Anthology of African Love Poetry gathers together both written and sung love poetry from Africa This anthology is a work of literary archaeology that lays bare a genre of African poetry that has been overshadowed by political poetry Frank Chipasula has assembled a historically and geographically comprehensive wealth of African love poetry that spans more than three thousand years By collecting a continent s celebrations and explorations of the nature of love he expands African literature into the sublime territory of the heart Bending the Bow traces the development of African love poetry from antiquity to modernity while establishing a cross millennial dialogue The anonymously written love poems from Pharaonic Egypt that open the anthology both predate Biblical love poetry and reveal the longevity of written love poetry in Africa The middle section is devoted to sung love poetry from all regions of the continent These great works serve as the foundation for modern poetry and testify to love poetry s omnipresence in Africa The final section showcasing forty eight modern African poets celebrates the genre s continuing vitality Among those represented are Muyaka bin Hajji and Shaaban Robert two major Swahili poets Gabriel Okara the innovative though underrated Nigerian poet L opold S dar Senghor the first president of Senegal and a founder of the Negritude Movement in francophone African literature Rashidah Ismaili from Benin Flavien Ranaivo from Madagascar and Gabeba Baderoon from South Africa Ranging from the subtly suggestive to the openly erotic this collection highlights love s endurance in a world too often riven by contention Bending the Bow bears testimony to poetry s role as conciliator while opening up a new area of study for scholars and students Poetry Project ,2001 American Women Poets in the 21st Century Claudia Rankine,Juliana Spahr,2013-10-01 Poetry in America is flourishing in this new millennium and asking serious questions of itself Is writing marked by gender and if so how What does it mean to be experimental How can lyric forms be authentic This volume builds on the energetic tensions inherent in these questions focusing on ten major American women poets whose collective work shows an incredible range of poetic practice Each section of the book is devoted to a single poet and contains new poems a brief statement of poetics by the poet herself in which she explores the forces personal aesthetic political informing her creative work a critical essay on the poet s work a biographical statement and a bibliography listing works by and about the poet Underscoring the dynamic give and take between poets and the culture at large this anthology is indispensable for anyone interested in poetry gender and the creative process does the traumatic event mean in an age of global catastrophe This volume explores trauma theory in an age of globalization by means of the practice of comparative literature The essays and interviews in this volume ask how literary studies and the literary anticipate imagine or theorize the current global climate especially in an age when the links between violence amorphous traumatic events and economic concerns are felt increasingly in everyday experience Trauma and Literature in an Age of Globalization turns a literary perspective upon the most urgent issues of globalization problems of borders language inequality and institutionalized violence and considers from a variety of perspectives how such events impact our lived experience and its representation in language and literature

Journey with No Maps Sandra Djwa, 2012-10-01 Journey with No Maps is the first biography of P K Page a brilliant twentieth century poet and a fine artist The product of over a decade s research and writing the book follows Page as she becomes one of Canada s best loved and most influential writers A borderline being as she called herself she recognized the new choices offered to women by modern life but followed only those related to her quest for self discovery Tracing Page s life through two wars world travels the rise of modernist and Canadian cultures and later Sufi study biographer Sandra Djwa details the people and events that inspired her work Page s independent spirit propelled her from Canada to England from work as a radio actress to a scriptwriter for the National Film Board from an affair with poet F R Scott to an enduring marriage with diplomat Arthur Irwin Page wrote her story in poems fiction diaries librettos and her visual art Journey with No Maps reads like a novel drawing on the poet s voice from interviews diaries letters and writings as well as the voices of her contemporaries With the vividness of a work of fiction and the thoroughness of scholarly dedication Djwa illustrates the complexities of Page s private experience while also documenting her public emergence as an internationally known poet It is both the captivating story of a remarkable woman and a major contribution to the study of Canada s literary and artistic history

The Beats in Mexico David Stephen Calonne, 2022-04-15 Mexico features prominently in the literature and personal legends of the Beat writers from its depiction as an extension of the American frontier in Jack Kerouac s On the Road to its role as a refuge for writers with criminal pasts like William S Burroughs Yet the story of Beat literature and Mexico takes us beyond the movement s superstars to consider the important roles played by lesser known female Beat writers The first book length study of why the Beats were so fascinated by Mexico and how they represented its culture in their work this volume examines such canonical figures as Kerouac Burroughs Ginsberg Lamantia McClure and Ferlinghetti It also devotes individual chapters to women such as Margaret Randall Bonnie Bremser and Joanne Kyger who each made Mexico a central setting of their work and interrogated the misogyny they encountered in both American and Mexican culture The Beats in Mexico not only considers individual Beat writers but also places them within a larger history of countercultural figures from D H Lawrence to Antonin Artaud to Jim Morrison who mythologized Mexico as the land of the Aztecs and Maya where shamanism and psychotropic drugs could take you on a trip far beyond the limits of the American imagination
