Painted Histories Early Maori Figurative Painting:

Painted Histories Roger Neich, 1993 Explores the extraordinary flowering of figurative painting in the decoration of Maori meeting houses especially in the east of the North Island in the latter half of the nineteenth century Publisher's description

Painted Histories Roger Neich, 1994

Carved Histories Roger Neich, 2001 This comprehensive guide examines the personal histories roles and personalities that played into the traditional cultural art of carving It also traces the influence of European patronage and the ensuing tourist trade upon this art form as many Maori carvers began styling and catering their product to meet their clients aesthetic desires Included is a discussion of the establishment of the government sponsored Rotorua School of Maori Art in 1928 which appointed as the main tutor Eramiha Kapua a Ngati Tarawhai carver thus helping his own traditional tribal art to make the transition into a modern national art

Tattooing the World Juniper Ellis, 2008-03-03 In the 1830s an Irishman named James F O Connell acquired a full body tattoo while living as a castaway in the Pacific The tattoo featured traditional patterns that to native Pohnpeians defined O Connell's life they made him wholly human Yet upon traveling to New York these markings singled him out as a freak His tattoos frightened women and children and ministers warned their congregations that viewing O Connell's markings would cause the ink to transfer to the skin of their unborn children In many ways O Connell's story exemplifies the unique history of the modern tattoo which began in the Pacific and then spread throughout the world No matter what form it has taken the tattoo has always embodied social standing aesthetics ethics culture gender and sexuality Tattoos are personal and corporate private and public They mark the profane and the sacred the extravagant and the essential the playful and the political From the Pacific islands to the world at large tattoos are a symbolic and often provocative form of expression and communication Tattooing the World is the first book on tattoo literature and culture Juniper Ellis traces the origins and significance of modern tattoo in the works of nineteenth and twentieth century artists travelers missionaries scientists and such writers as Herman Melville Margaret Mead Albert Wendt and Sia Figiel Traditional Pacific tattoo patterns are formed using an array of well defined motifs They place the individual in a particular community and often convey genealogy and ideas of the sacred However outside of the Pacific those who wear and view tattoos determine their meaning and interpret their design differently Reading indigenous historiography alongside Western travelogue and other writings Ellis paints a surprising portrait of how culture has been etched both on the human form and on a body of literature

Redemption Songs Judith Binney, 1997-06-01

Being Maori in the City Natacha Gagné, 2013-01-21 Indigenous peoples around the world have been involved in struggles for decolonization self determination and recognition of their rights and the M ori of Aotearoa New Zealand are no exception Now that nearly 85% of the M ori population have their main place of residence in urban centres cities have become important sites of affirmation and struggle Grounded in an ethnography of everyday life in the city of Auckland Being Maori in the City is an investigation of what being M ori means today One of the first ethnographic studies of M ori urbanization

since the 1970s this book is based on almost two years of fieldwork living with M ori families and more than 250 hours of interviews In contrast with studies that have focused on indigenous elites and official groups and organizations Being M ori in the City shines a light on the lives of ordinary individuals and families Using this approach Natacha Gagn adroitly underlines how indigenous ways of being are maintained and even strengthened through change and openness to the larger society Mana Tangata Huia Tomlins-Jahnke, Malcolm Mulholland, 2011-12-01 This is a collection of papers by senior Maori academics who are experts and have considerable mana in their chosen fields The ten contributing authors who are academics at Massey University discuss the Maori language marae religion the Treaty of Waitangi the State and Maori citizenship education mental health the health workforce kaitiakitanga and horticulture The book discusses Maori development and contemporary issues concerning Maori both from the authors perspectives and across different disciplines

Unpacking Culture Ruth B. Phillips, Christopher B. Steiner, 1999-01-30 An outstanding set of studies that work well with each other to produce truly substantial and rich insights into the making and consuming of art in the colonial and post colonial world Susan S Bean Curator Peabody Essex Museum Constructing Place Sarah Menin, 2004-02-24 This book is a cutting edge study exploring the field of the conception and the tectonic making of place as it impinges on and thus changes the site in which it is set Landscape in Language David M. Mark, 2011 This volume focuses on how landscape is represented in language and thought and what this reveals about the relationships of people to place and to land Back cover

Creating a National Spirit William Leslie Renwick, 2004 By exploring New Zealand s centennial celebration in 1940 this volume paints a vivid picture of New Zealanders and how they perceived themselves and their relationships to the world at that time Detailing the Centennial Exhibition Wellington trade fair and various other public commemorations special publications of dictionaries and pictorial surveys and cultural and art exhibits this text fully examines how the country and citizens commemorated their history and recognized new opportunities in the changing world landscape Tupaia, Captain Cook and the Voyage of the Endeavour Khadija Von Zinnenburg Carroll, 2023-07-27 Centring priest and navigator Tupaia and Pacific worldviews this richly illustrated volume weaves a new set of cultural histories in the Pacific between local islanders and the crew of the Endeavour on James Cook s first voyage of discovery 1768 1771 Contributors consider material collections brought back from the voyage paying particular attention to Tupaia s drawings maps cloth and clothes and the attending narratives that framed Britain s engagement with Pacific peoples Bringing together indigenous and Pacific based artists scholars historians theorists and tailors this book presents a cross cultural conversation around the concepts of acquired and curated artefacts that traversed oceans and entwined cultures Each chapter draws attention to a particular material object or process to reveal fresh insights on the voyage the societies it brought together and the histories it transformed Authors also explore animal iconography instruments and ethnomusicology and performances and rituals This work challenges colonial museum collections and celebrations of Cook s voyages using materials old and new to make connections between past and present whilst reinforcing Tupaia's agency as both a historical figure and a contemporary muse Tracing overlapping folds of symbolism this book draws together a picture of the diverse materials and people at the centre of cultural exchange A Carved Cloak for Tahu Mere Whaanga, 2013-10-01 Oral histories legends and accounts of contemporary life of a New Zealand Maori tribe are presented in this cultural that includes colonial histories of the Native Land Court and traditional histories from the Northern Hawke's Bay The Social Life of Art Peter Stupples, Jane Venis, 2014-11-10 This study examines not only the objects and processes that make up the artworlds of human history but also the social and cultural circumstances the historicised contexts that bring about their making frame their functioning inform their properties and influence their effects both at the time of their creation and throughout their subsequent biographies In the short span that art has played a part in human life one may conceive of time as a social river with a strong current towards the capricious mainstream and eddies and quiet pools near the banks The current will flow faster in spate and slower in drought But it will be forever in motion It will be unpredictable Nothing will stop its inexorable force Art runs in that social river subject to the flow and chance of time Pacific Spaces A.-Chr Engels-Schwarzpaul, Lana Lopesi, Albert L. Refiti, 2022-10-14 Delving into Pacific spaces from a variety of disciplinary perspectives and interpretations this book looks at how the anthropological and architectural can be connected The contributors to this book architectural practitioners architectural and spatial design theorists anthropologists and historians show not only how new theoretical perspectives can arise out of comparing aspects specific to one discipline with their equivalents of another but also demonstrate how a space of emergence is created for something that goes beyond both enhancing both fields of potentialities The Arts of Kingship Stacy L. Kamehiro, 2009-07-27 The Arts of Kingship offers a sustained and detailed account of Hawaiian public art and architecture during the reign of David Kalakaua the nativist and cosmopolitan ruler of the Hawaiian Kingdom from 1874 to 1891 Stacy Kamehiro provides visual and historical analysis of Kalakaua's coronation and regalia the King Kamehameha Statue Iolani Palace and the Hawaiian National Museum drawing them together in a common historical political and cultural frame Each articulated Hawaiian national identities and navigated the turbulence of colonialism in distinctive ways and has endured as a key cultural symbol These cultural projects were part of the monarchy's concerted effort to promote a national culture in the face of colonial pressures internal political divisions and declining social conditions for Native Hawaiians which in combination posed serious threats to the survival of the nation The Kalakaua leadership endorsed images that boosted international relations and appeased foreign agitators in the kingdom while addressing indigenous political cleavages Kamehiro interprets the images spaces and institutions as articulations of the complex cultural entanglements and creative engagement with international communities that occur with prolonged colonial contact Nineteenth century Hawaiian sovereigns celebrated Native tradition history and modernity by intertwining indigenous conceptions of superior chiefly leadership with the apparatus and symbols of Asian American and European rule The resulting symbolic forms speak to cultural intersections and historical processes claims about distinctiveness and commonality and the power of objects institutions and public display to create meaning and enable action The Arts of Kingship pursues questions regarding the nature of cultural exchange how precolonial visual culture engaged and shaped colonial contexts and how colonial art informs postcolonial visualities and identities It will be welcomed by readers with a general and scholarly interest in Hawaiian history and art As it contributes to discussions about colonial cultures nationalism and globalization this interdisciplinary work will appeal to art and architectural historians as well as those studying Pacific history cultural and museum studies and anthropology

Museums and the Interpretation of Visual Culture Eileen

Hooper-Greenhill,2020-11-25 This is a multi disciplinary study that adopts an innovative and original approach to a highly topical question that of meaning making in museums focusing its attention on pedagogy and visual culture This work explores such questions as How and why is it that museums select and arrange artefacts shape knowledge construct a view How do museums produce values How do active audiences make meaning from what they experience in museums This stimulating book provokes debate and discussion on these topics and puts forward the idea of a new museum the post museum which will challenge the familiar modernist museum A must for students and professionals in the field

The Booker Prize and the Legacy of Empire Luke Strongman,2021-12-28 This book is about the Booker Prize the London based literary award made annually to the best novel written in English by a writer from one of those countries belonging to or formerly part of the British Commonwealth The approach to the Prize is thematically historical and spans the award period to 1999 The novels that have won or shared the Prize in this period are examined within a theoretical framework mapping the literary terrain of the fiction Individual chapters explore themes that occur within the larger narrative formed by this body of novels collectively invoked cultures social trends and movements spanning the stages of imperial heyday and decline as perceived over the past three decades Individually and collectively the novels mirror often in terms of more than a single static image British imperial culture after empire contesting and reinterpreting perceptions of the historical moment of the British Empire and its legacy in contemporary culture The body of Booker novels narrates the demise of empire and the emergence of different cultural formations in its aftermath The novels are grouped for discussion according to the way in which they deal with aspects of the transition from empire to a post imperial culture from early imperial expansion through colonization retrenchment decolonization and postcolonial pessimism to the emergence of tribal nationalisms and post imperial nation states The focus throughout is primarily literary and contingently cultural

At Home in New Zealand

Barbara Lesley Brookes,2000

Encounters: The Creation of New Zealand

Paul Moon,2013-07-24 Throughout its human history New Zealand has been interpreted and experienced in often radically different ways Each wave of arrivals to its shores has left its own set of views of New Zealand on the country applying a new coat of mythology and understanding to the landscape usually without fully removing the one that lies beneath it Encounters is the wide ranging audacious and gripping story of New Zealand's changing national identity how it has emerged and evolved through generations In this genre busting book historian Paul Moon delves into how the many and conflicting ideas about New Zealand came into being Along the way he explores forgotten crevices of the nation's character and exposes some of the mythology of its past and present These include for example the earliest Maori myths and the mock sacredness of the All Blacks in the twenty first century the role of nostalgia in our national character both Maori and Pakeha whether the explorer Kupe existed the appeal of the Speight's Southern Man and ruminations on New Zealand art and landscape What results is an absorbing piece of scholarship an imaginative and exuberant epic that will challenge preconceptions about what it means to be a New Zealander and how our country is understood Lyrical breathtaking and provocative and illustrated with artworks throughout Encounters offers an extraordinary insight into the beginnings of our country
