Painters In A New Land:

Lewis & Clark, Tailor Made, Trail Worn Robert John Moore, Michael Haynes, 2003 When the Lewis and Clark Expedition crossed a continent in 1803 to 1806 they started out in U S Army uniforms which gradually had to be replaced with simple leather garments For parts of those uniforms only a single drawing pattern or example survives Historian Moore and artist Haynes have researched archives and museums to locate and verify what the men wore and Haynes has painted and sketched the clothing in scenes of the trip Also included are Indian styles the men adopted and the wardrobes of the Creole interpreters and the French boatmen Weapons and accessories round out this complete record of what the expedition wore or carried and why A great reference for artists living history performers museums and military historians Painter in a Savage Land Miles Harvey, 2008-06-24 In this vibrantly told meticulously researched book Miles Harvey reveals one of the most fascinating and overlooked lives in American history Like The Island of Lost Maps his bestselling book about a legendary map thief Painter in a Savage Land is a compelling search into the mysteries of the past This is the thrilling story of Jacques Le Moyne de Morgues the first European artist to journey to what is now the continental United States with the express purpose of recording its wonders in pencil and paint Le Moyne's images which survive today in a series of spectacular engravings provide a rare glimpse of Native American life at the pivotal time of first contact with the Europeans most of whom arrived with the preconceived notion that the New World was an almost mythical place in which anything was possible Picturing the Land Marilyn J. Waites,2012 An examination of the treatment of common land in the work of English painters at a time when much of it was to disappear forever A most elegantly written book that calmly knocked many entrenched but erroneous notions about British landscape painting firmly on the head Longlisted and commended by the judges of the 2013 William M B Berger prize for British art history During the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries much of England s common land was eradicated by the processes of parliamentary enclosure However despite the fact that the landscape was frequently viewed as unproductive outmoded and unsightly many British landscape painters of the time including Constable Gainsborough and Turner resolutely continued to depict it This book is the first full study of how they did so using evidence drawn not only from art historical picture analysis but from contemporary poems and novels and the contemporary pamphlets essays and reports that advanced the rhetoric of both agricultural improvement and new theories on landscape aesthetics It highlights a deep rooted social and cultural attachment to the common field landscape and demonstrates that common land played a significant but until now underestimated role in both the history of English art and of the formation of an English national identity reflecting what are still highly sensitive issues of progress nostalgia and loss within the English countryside Recasting common land as a recurrent facet of English culture in the modern period the numerous paintings drawings and prints featured in this book give the reader a comprehensive and evocative sense of what this now almost wholly lost landscape looked like in its hey day Ian Waites is Senior Lecturer in History of Art and Design at the University of Lincoln National Painters Magazine ,1916 concepts of egalitarianism peaceful settlement and sporting prowess have been used to create a national identity Elder also investigates the cultural and social perspectives that have been used to critique dominant accounts of Australian identity including ideas of class gender sexuality ethnicity and race She shows how these critiques have been in turn queried in recent years Being Australian is an ideal introduction to studying Australia for anyone interested in understanding Australian society culture and history A clever work incisive and original At a time when Australian identities have never been more debated Elder finds an open way through the closed doors which often restrict cultural representations of Australian ness Professor Adam Shoemaker Dean of Arts ANU This is a timely and significant new analysis essential reading on issues of identity and our own anxieties about national belonging and what it means to be Australian in a globalising world Kate Darian Smith Professor of Australian Studies and History University of Melbourne The Painter and Decorator ,1911
