

Pakistan and Geo-strategic Environment:

- As discussed above, there are constant determinants of national power, which shape the foreign policy of any country.
- In case of Pakistan, geography, regional and global environment, perceptions or image of a state, economy and Indian assertion for regional supremacy are major determinants which shape its foreign policy.

Pakistan's Nuclear Exclusion Sana Rahim, 2024 Developed over six chapters Pakistan's Nuclear Exclusion provides an account of how orientalism is a lived experience of post colonial racism injustice and inequality amongst members of the nuclear community in Pakistan The account is produced through interviews with members of the community consisting of students academics and physicists in Pakistan Rahim offers unique insights into how Pakistan's nuclear community is not only perceived and represented but also how it seeks to operate in a wider nuclear community dominated by Western nuclear powers The provision of such highly contextualised insights is enabled by the book setting out to both a provide analytical space for and b give voice to how orientalism is experienced in the everyday of their lives Consequently the work provides 1 an analysis of how dominant discourses of nuclear management and their pictures of reason are exclusionary 2 an analysis of the core features of orientalism as they pertain to Pakistan's nuclear community and 3 empirical findings which produce categories of the experience of orientalism into areas of the everyday exclusion making a career Islamophobia technology denial and self reliance Pakistan's Nuclear Exclusion is enormously valuable to the research community as well as extremely well conceived and researched In addition much of the methodology chapter offers a level of sophistication and self reflection that translates well in the interview material and its subsequent analysis

India John N. Mayor, 2003 India long known for its huge population religious conflicts and its status as not quite best friend ally of the United States has moved from the backwaters of world attention to centre stage Afghanistan and Pakistan with whom India is in almost conflict are neighbours India has developed a nuclear capability which also has a way of grabbing attention This book discusses current issues and historical background and provides a thorough index important to a better understanding of this diverse country

Deterrence and the New Global Security Environment Ian R. Kenyon, John Simpson, 2013-10-18 This collection of papers rigorously examines the current place of deterrence in international security relations delivering the best of contemporary thinking This is a special issue of the leading journal Contemporary Security Policy It shows how and why nuclear deterrence was the central organizing mechanism for international security relations in the second half of the twentieth century It has been replaced by a new global security environment in which the central role of deterrence both nuclear and otherwise appears to have diminished The Cold War has been succeeded by a new state of play This book will be of interest to students of military and naval history and security studies

Pakistan's Nuclear Policy Zafar Khan, 2014-07-17 In May 1998 in reaction to India's nuclear weapons tests Pakistan tested six nuclear weapons Following this the country opted for a policy of minimum deterrence and within a year Pakistan had altered its policy stance by adding the modifier of minimum credible deterrence This book looks at how this seemingly innocuous shift seriously impacted on Pakistan's nuclear policy direction and whether the concept of minimum has lost its significance in the South Asian region's changed changing strategic environment After providing a brief historical background exploring why and how Pakistan carried out the nuclear development program the book questions why Pakistan could not sustain the minimum deterrence that it had conceptualized in the immediate aftermath of the 1998 test It examines the conceptual theoretical framework of the essentials of minimum deterrence in order to question whether Pakistan's nuclear policy remained consistent with this as well as to discover the rudimentary factors that are responsible for the inconsistencies with regard to minimum deterrence conceived in this study The book goes on to look at the policy options that Pakistan had after acquiring the nuclear capability and what the rationale was for selecting minimum deterrence The book not only highlights Pakistan's deterrent force building but also analyzes closely Pakistan's doctrinal posture of first use option Furthermore it examines the policy towards arms control and disarmament and discusses whether these individual policy orientations are consistent with the minimum deterrence Conceptually providing a deeper understanding of Pakistan's post 1998 nuclear policy this book critically examines whether the minimum deterrence conceived could be sustained both at the theoretical and operational levels It will be a useful contribution in the field of Nuclear Policy Security Studies Asian Politics Proliferation Non Proliferation Studies and Peace Studies This book will be of interest to policy makers scholars and students of nuclear policy nuclear proliferation and arms control related research

Nuclear Weapons and International Security Ramesh Thakur, 2015-02-11 This volume brings together more than three decades of research and writings by Professor Ramesh Thakur on the challenges posed by nuclear weapons Following an introduction to the current nuclear state of play the book addresses the challenge of nuclear weapons in three parts Part I describes the scholar practitioner interface in trying to come to grips with this challenge the main policy impact on security strategy and the various future nuclear scenarios Part II addresses regional nuclear challenges from the South Pacific to East South and West Asia and thereby highlights serious deficiencies in the normative architecture of the nuclear arms control and disarmament regime In the third and final part the chapters discuss regional nuclear weapon free zones NPT anomalies and their implications for the future of the nuclear arms control regime and finally assess the global governance architecture of nuclear security in light of the three Nuclear Security Summits between 2010 and 2014 The concluding chapter argues for moving towards a world of progressively reduced nuclear weapons in numbers reduced salience of nuclear weapons in national security doctrines and deployments and ultimately a denuclearized world This book will be of much interest to students of nuclear proliferation global governance international organisations diplomacy and security studies

Geo-economics In South Asian Environment Rakesh Kumar, Harjit Singh, 2025-04-02 Drawing on empirical research this book offers a rigorous insight into a variety of issues related to evolving geopolitics bilateral regional sub regional trade agreements as well as the urgent need for the revival of geo economics for mutual gains Acknowledging the evolving regional geopolitics the book also attempts to put forward the potential challenges and opportunities in regional trade and economic cooperation in South Asia in post pandemic period It also explores how social forces like shared cultural religious linguistic and historical linkages have the potential to act as a bridge to fill the gap in trade and economic cooperation. The rich collections of chapters not only enrich the understanding of the reasons behind the low level of regional trade and economic cooperation in South Asia but also offer new insight into the facts to adopt and apply progressive regional trade policy in the fast changing business environment and evolving new geopolitics in the region in the post pandemic era. Asian Security Handbook William M. Carpenter, David G. Wiencek, James R. Lilley, 2019-06-19. Featuring 19 individual country profiles, this volume seeks to shed light on the key political and security factors and geopolitical trends in the Asia Pacific region that bear monitoring and that will have greater significance in the post Cold War environment. India's Evolving Deterrent Force Posturing in South Asia Zulfqar Khan, Zafar Khan, 2020-12-16. The book discusses India's evolving deterrent force posturing in South Asia under the conceptual essentials of nuclear revolution when it comes to various combinations of conventional and nuclear forces development and the strategic implications it intentionally or unintentionally poses for the South Asian region. The book talks about how the contemporary restructuring of India's deterrent force posture affects India's nuclear strategy in general and how this in turn could affect the policies of its adversaries China and Pakistan in particular. Authors discuss the motivations of such posturing that broadly covers India's restructuring of its Nuclear Draft Doctrine (NDD) the ballistic missile development program including that of its Ballistic Missile Defence (BMD) system and the possibility of conflicts between China, India and India-Pakistan given their transforming strategic force postures and their recurring adversarial behavior against each other in the Southern Asian region. Globe, 1998. Patterns of Conventional Warfighting under the Nuclear Umbrella Igor Davidzon, 2020-05-04. This book explores how nuclear weapons influence conventional warfighting through three case studies of countries not party to the Non Proliferation Treaty: Pakistan, India and Israel. The author examines how decision makers choose a preferred pattern of war management as well as how these choices affect conflicts, suggesting that nuclear weaponization constitutes a clear change in the relative power of countries. This distribution of power within the international system expands or reduces the selection of strategies or war management patterns available to members of the international community. However, historic traumatic events like military defeats, countries' self images and images of enemies form the perceptions of decision makers regarding material power and change thereof, suggesting that choices of decision makers are not affected directly by changes in relative power relations but rather through an intermediate level of strategic culture parameter. Parameters, 1993.
