Novel decision-making method based on bipolar neutrosophic information Jianming Zhan, Muhammad Akram, Muzzamal Sitara, In 1998 Smarandache originally considered the concept of neutrosophic set from philosophical point of view The notion of a single valued neutrosophic set is a subclass of the neutrosophic set from a scientific and engineering point of view and an extension of intuitionistic fuzzy sets A bipolar single valued neutrosophic set is an extension of a bipolar fuzzy set which provides us an additional possibility to represent uncertainty imprecise incomplete and inconsistent information existing in real situations In this research article we apply the concept of bipolar single valued neutrosophic sets to graph structures and present a novel framework for handling bipolar neutrosophic information by combining bipolar neutrosophic sets with graph structures Several basic notions concerning bipolar single valued neutrosophic graph structures are introduced and some related properties are investigated We also consider the applications of bipolar single valued neutrosophic graph structures in decision making In particular efficient algorithms are developed to solve decision making problems regarding recognition of each country s participation in its conspicuous relationships detection of psychological improvement of patients in a mental hospital and uncovering the undercover reasons for global terrorism

Hubris, Self-Interest, and America's Failed War in Afghanistan Thomas P. Cavanna, 2015-07-22 This book describes the conduct of the US led post 9 11 war in Afghanistan Adopting a long term perspective it argues that even though Washington initially had an opportunity to achieve its security goals and give Afghanistan a chance to enter a new era it compromised any possibility of success from the very moment it let bin Laden escape to Pakistan in December 2001 and found itself locked in a strategic overreach Given the bureaucratic and rhetorical momentum triggered by the war on terror in America the Bush Administration was bound to deploy more resources in Afghanistan sooner or later despite its focus on Iraq The need to satisfy unfulfilled counter terrorism objectives made the US dependent on Afghanistan s warlords which compromised the country s stability and tarnished its new political system The extension of the US military presence made Washington lose its leverage on the Pakistan army leaders who aware of America s logistical dependency on Islamabad supported the Afghan insurgents their historical proxies more and more openly The extension of the war also contributed to radicalize segments of the Afghan and Pakistani populations destabilizing the area further In the meantime the need to justify the extension of its military presence influenced the US led coalition into proclaiming its determination to democratize and reconstruct Afghanistan While highly opportunistic the emergence of these policies proved both self defeating and unsustainable due to an inescapable collision between the US led coalition s inherent self interest hubris limited knowledge limited attention span and limited resources and on the other hand Afghanistan s inherent complexity As the critical contradictions at the very heart of the campaign increased with the extension of the latter s duration scale and cost America s leaders entrapped in path dependence lost their strategic flexibility Despite debates on troops resource allocation and more sophisticated doctrines they repeated the same structural mistakes over and over again The strategic overreach became self sustaining until its costs became intolerable leading to a drawdown which has more to do with a pervasive sense of failure than with the accomplishment of any noble purpose or strategic breakthrough
