sur l'évolution de la nation et de l'Etat en Europe, European Commission for Democracy through Law, 1998-01-01 On cover title page European Commission for Democracy through Law Hypnotic Approaches in Cancer and Palliative Care Sylvain Néron, Daniel Handel, 2014-02-14 T00:00:00-05:00 This patient centered and case based eBook is intended for health care professionals who use or may decide to use clinical hypnosis in their professional work with cancer patients With a personalized and flexible navigation system stimulating learning it provides direct access to patients experiences and to the comments and analyses of two specialists Each case features an original full session video recording and a full transcript of the session of real patients experiencing hypnosis focused on self regulation improvements pain relief palliation of symptoms and hope enhancement in the face of advanced or terminal cancer illness The reader is invited to use these recordings to examine and inform his her own practice and is encouraged to do such examination in an active and alert learning state He she will find several ways of incorporating hypnotic modalities at several points of the illness trajectory and in different contexts of the treatment continuum For example hypnosis will be observed in settings such as busy oncology clinics and at bedside as well as in the preparation and execution of medical and diagnostic procedures Hypnotherapy addressing existential and spiritual issues will also be presented This innovative eBook by putting emphasis on clinical relevance interactions and skill acquisition through demonstration provides a unique opportunity to identify hypnotic phenomena and to understand the necessary modifications of classical hypnotic strategies clinically relevant to illness progression and hospice care Daughters of 1968 Lisa Greenwald, 2019 Daughters of 1968 is the story of French feminism between 1944 and 1981 when feminism played a central political role in the history of France The key women during this epoch were often leftists committed to a materialist critique of society and were part of a postwar tradition that produced widespread social change revamping the workplace and laws governing everything from abortion to marriage The May 1968 events with their embrace of radical individualism and antiauthoritarianism triggered a break from the past and the women s movement split into two strands One became universalist and intensely activist the other particularist and less activist distancing itself from contemporary feminism This theoretical debate manifested itself in battles between women and organizations on the streets and in the courts The history of French feminism is the history of women s claims to individualism and citizenship that had been granted their male counterparts at least in principle in 1789 Yet French women have more often donned the mantle of particularism advancing their contributions as mothers to prove their worth as citizens than they have thrown it off claiming absolute equality The few exceptions such as Simone de Beauvoir or the 1970s activists illustrate the diversity and tensions within French feminism as France moved from a corporatist and tradition minded country to one marked by individualism and modernity Actes Passés À la Session de la Législature de L'état de la Louisiane Louisiana, 1848

Recent Social Trends in France, 1960-1990 Michel Forsé,Jean-Pierre Jaslin,1993-04-29 A prominent feature of the social revolution in France has been the decline of the great national institutions the Republic the Army the church and the schools which are losing their symbolic value and are no longer the targets of ideological disputes As a result there is a growing basic consensus among the French people At the same time the French have developed a new interest in managing local problems due to the decentralization law which has led to the establishment of many voluntary associations Changes in family life following the revolution of 1968 have led to greater instability among couples but at the same time have strengthened the kinship system resulting in increased life expectancy The customs of the French have also changed The French education system originally based on authority and regulations is now making increasing use of experimentation and negotiation As a result the attitude of the French towards authority has totally changed and the French have learned to negotiate and cooperate among themselves All these changes can be interpreted as progressive moves toward liberty equality and individualism There is little danger of social instability since French society remains in remarkably robust health

La Diplomatie Multilatérale Marcel André Boisard, Evgeny M. Chossudovsky, Jacques Lemoine, 1998 In the first part of this book distinguished diplomats and eminent academics have contributed papers on the concept of international organization on international conference diplomacy and on negotiating strategies while experts have provided practical advice on conference management and tips on getting ideas and positions heard and understood in this particular setting A second part includes notices on the United Nations organizations headquartered in Geneva with special emphasis on what may be called their institutional culture and a third part including an invaluable presentation by the Swiss Department of Foreign Affairs is devoted to the question of privileges and immunities There are many studies academic or otherwise on the United Nations organizations but hardly any provide this kind of practical guidance for diplomats and national officials first confronted with the Geneva multilateral setting The book is primarily intended for them but is also of interest for those concerned with international relations
