Protective Decorative Coatings Volume 1:

Pigment Handbook, Volume 1 Peter A. Lewis, 1988-01-18 The second edition of this work one in a three volume set continues the compilation of information originally brought together by T C Patton It represents the expertise from worldwide authorities in the pigment industry giving readers access to such topics as the physical and chemical meaning of color the worldwide market for pigments and the properties and major reasons for use of each of the pigments covered in the text In addition to the updated and new data in this edition are new chapters on novel organic and inorganic pigments that were not even at the research stage when the 1973 version was published Most chapters include a new section concerning the effect of the pigment under discussion on human health and on the environment In light of new legislative standards these discussions have special significance This work is complemented by the still current volumes Applications and Markets Volume 2 and Characterization and Physical Relationships Volume 3

The Gray Iron Castings Handbook Charles Francis Walton, 1957 Protection of Concrete Ravindra Dhir, Jeffrey Green, 2003-09-02 Concrete is arguably the major construction material used worldwide It has generally served well yet too often it has failed to achieve the required performance Although developments in materials and practice have widened the scope for the use of concrete they have also had effects on its performance This book presents current thinking and future developments on means of protecting concrete and ensuring its adequate performance in the required application

Lead-Based Paint Handbook Jan W. Gooch, 2005-12-08 Lead based paint has become a national issue and will continue to be a hi priority focus of national state and local agencies until there is no lead based paint in the United States Lead based paint has become a tremendous health hazard for people and animals Lead based paint has been in widespread use throughout Europe and the United States Lead has been known to be a health hazard since the time of Pliny the Elder A D 23 79 but it was deemed that the advantages of lead in paint outweighed the health hazards There has been a change in outlook and in 1973 the U S Congress banned all lead paint from residential structures A voluminous number of law suits have been initiated since and continue to be litigated with the purpose of determining the parties responsible for the lead poisoning of children and others and to exact the indemnities Lead based paint is still authorized for use on bridges and nonresidential structures and thousands of city state military and federal government housing projects still contain lead based paint This paint must be removed if these dwellings are to be safe living quarters especially for children Abatement techniques continue to be evaluated some have been used successfully Lead based paint abatement will continue into the next century and it is hoped that this comprehensive volume will serve as a guide for those seriously interested in this important subject
