Protesto E O Novo Romance Brasileiro:

Protesto e o novo romance brasileiro Malcolm Silverman, 2000 Estuda a literatura brasileira contemporânea atendo ao fato que cada romance traz ou não o nacional e abordando um tema que contaminou quase todos os autores nos últimos 30 anos o protesto

The Columbia Guide to the Latin American Novel Since 1945 Raymond L. Williams, 2007 In this expertly crafted richly detailed guide Raymond Leslie Williams explores the cultural political and historical events that have shaped the Latin American and Caribbean novel since the end of World War II In addition to works originally composed in English Williams covers novels written in Spanish Portuguese French Dutch and Haitian Creole and traces the profound influence of modernization revolution and democratization on the writing of this era Beginning in 1945 Williams introduces major trends by region including the Caribbean and U S Latino novel the Mexican and Central American novel the Andean novel the Southern Cone novel and the novel of Brazil He discusses the rise of the modernist novel in the 1940s led by Jorge Luis Borges's reaffirmation of the right of invention and covers the advent of the postmodern generation of the 1990s in Brazil the Generation of the Crack in Mexico and the McOndo generation in other parts of Latin America An alphabetical guide offers biographies of authors coverage of major topics and brief introductions to individual novels It also addresses such areas as women's writing Afro Latin American writing and magic realism The guide's final section includes an annotated bibliography of introductory studies on the Latin American and Caribbean novel national literary traditions and the work of individual authors From early attempts to synthesize postcolonial concerns with modernist aesthetics to the current focus on urban violence and globalization The Columbia Guide to the Latin American Novel Since 1945 presents a comprehensive accessible portrait of a thoroughly diverse and complex branch of world literature

Everyday Consumption in Twenty-First-Century Brazilian Fiction Lígia Bezerra, 2022-08-15 Everyday Consumption in Twenty First Century Brazilian Fiction is the first in depth study to map out the representation of consumption in contemporary Brazilian prose highlighting how our interactions with commodities connect seemingly disconnected areas of everyday life such as eating habits the growth of prosperity theology and ideas of success and failure It is also the first text to provide a pluralistic perspective on the representation of consumption in this fiction that moves beyond the concern with aesthetic judgment of culture based on binaries such as good bad or elevated degraded that have largely informed criticism on this body of literary work Current Brazilian fiction provides a variety of perspectives from which to think about our daily interactions with commodities and about how consumption affects us all in subtle ways Collectively the narratives analyzed in the book present a wide spectrum of more or less hopeful portrayals of existence in consumer culture from totalizing dystopia to transformative hope

Ancient Greek Myth in World Fiction since 1989 Justine McConnell, Edith Hall, 2016-06-02 Ancient Greek Myth in World Fiction since 1989 explores the diverse ways that contemporary world fiction has engaged with ancient Greek myth Whether as a framing device or a filter or via resonances and parallels Greek myth has proven fruitful for many writers of fiction since the end of the Cold War This volume examines the varied ways that writers from around the world have turned to classical antiquity to articulate their own contemporary concerns Featuring contributions by an international group of scholars from a number of disciplines the volume offers a cutting edge interdisciplinary approach to contemporary literature from around the world Analysing a range of significant authors and works not usually brought together in one place the book introduces readers to some less familiar fiction while demonstrating the central place that classical literature can claim in the global literary curriculum of the third millennium The modern fiction covered is as varied as the acclaimed North American television series The Wire contemporary Arab fiction the Japanese novels of Haruki Murakami and the works of New Zealand s foremost Maori writer Witi Ihimaera

The Muffled Cries Nancy T. Baden, 1999-06-17 The Muffled Cries presents a multidisciplinary historical overview of the role of the writer and literature during Brazil s military dictatorship between 1964 and 1985 Nancy T Baden brings together numerous sources including personal interviews periodicals and books translated into English for the first time to expose the ironies subtleties and complexities of the Brazilian cultural milieu under authoritarianism She explores Brazilian fiction and poetry within this historical framework in order to portray the role of the writer within the cultural context based on self perception and the views of others Baden also examines the official and unofficial controls imposed by the state and the effects they had on the literature produced Following the varying phases of authoritarianism she found many experimental techniques and exaggerated realism in use as a method of showing resistance by revealing the underlying sociopolitical problems and protesting against the military This ground breaking work provides much new insight into the history and literature of Brazil from 1964 to 1985
