The compelling and lively story of a pioneering abolitionist schoolteacher and her far reaching influence on civil rights and American law Richard S Newman author of Freedom's Prophet When Prudence Crandall a Canterbury Connecticut schoolteacher accepted a black woman as a student she unleashed a storm of controversy that catapulted her to national notoriety and drew the attention of the most significant pro and anti slavery activists of the early nineteenth century The Connecticut state legislature passed its infamous Black Law in an attempt to close down her school Crandall was arrested and jailed but her legal legacy had a lasting impact Crandall v State was the first full throated civil rights case in U S history The arguments by attorneys in Crandall played a role in two of the most fateful Supreme Court decisions Dred Scott v Sandford and the landmark case of Brown v Board of Education In this book author and lawyer Donald E Williams Jr marshals a wealth of detail concerning the life and work of Prudence Crandall her unique role in the fight for civil rights and her influence on legal arguments for equality in America that in the words of Brown v Board attorney Jack Greenberg serves to remind us once more about how close in time America is to the darkest days of our history The book offers substantive and well rounded portraits of abolitionists colonizationists and opponents of black equality portraits that really dig beneath the surface to explain the individuals motivations weaknesses politics and life paths The New England Quarterly Taking readers from Connecticut schoolrooms to the highest court in the land Williams gives us heroes and villains triumph and tragedy equity and injustice on the rough road to full freedom Richard S Newman author of Freedom's Prophet Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2005 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature Self-Taught Heather Andrea Williams, 2009-11-20 In this previously untold story of African American self education Heather Andrea Williams moves across time to examine African Americans relationship to literacy during slavery during the Civil War and in the first decades of freedom Self Taught traces the historical antecedents to freedpeople's intense desire to become literate and demonstrates how the visions of enslaved African Americans emerged into plans and action once slavery ended Enslaved people Williams contends placed great value in the practical power of literacy whether it was to enable them to read the Bible for themselves or to keep informed of the abolition movement and later the progress of the Civil War Some slaves devised creative and subversive means to acquire literacy and when slavery ended they became the first teachers of other freedpeople Soon overwhelmed by the demands for education they called on northern missionaries to come to their aid

Williams argues that by teaching building schools supporting teachers resisting violence and claiming education as a civil right African Americans transformed the face of education in the South to the great benefit of both black and white southerners

George Washington's Hair Keith Beutler, 2021-11-10 Mostly hidden from public view like an embarrassing family secret scores of putative locks of George Washington's hair are held more than two centuries after his death in the collections of America's historical societies public and academic archives and museums Excavating the origins of these bodily artifacts Keith Beutler uncovers a forgotten strand of early American memory practices and emerging patriotic identity Between 1790 and 1840 popular memory took a turn toward the physical as exemplified by the craze for collecting locks of Washington's hair These new sensory views of memory enabled African American Revolutionary War veterans women evangelicals and other politically marginalized groups to enter the public square as both conveyors of these material relics of the Revolution and living relics themselves George Washington's Hair introduces us to a taxidermist who sought to stuff Benjamin Franklin's body an African American storyteller brandishing a lock of Washington's hair an evangelical preacher burned in effigy and a schoolmistress who politicized patriotic memory by privileging women as its primary bearers As Beutler recounts in vivid prose these and other ordinary Americans successfully enlisted memory practices rooted in the physical to demand a place in the body politic powerfully contributing to antebellum political democratization

Abel, 2022-10-25 Explains why there is a crisis in caring for elderly people and how the COVID 19 pandemic exacerbated it Because government policies are based on an ethic of family responsibility repeated calls to support family members caring for the burgeoning elderly population have gone unanswered Without publicly funded long term care services many family caregivers cannot find relief from obligations that threaten to overwhelm them The crisis also stems from the plight of direct care workers nursing home assistants and home health aides most of whom are women from racially marginalized groups who receive little respect remuneration or job security Drawing on an online support group for people caring for spouses and partners with dementia Elder Care in Crisis examines the availability and quality of respite care which provides temporary relief from the burdens of care the long tortuous process through which family members decide whether to move spouses and partners to institutions and the likelihood that caregivers will engage in political action to demand greater public support When the pandemic began caregivers watched in horror as nursing homes turned into deathtraps and then locked their doors to visitors Terrified by the possibility of loved ones in nursing homes contracting the disease or suffering from loneliness some caregivers brought them home Others endured the pain of leaving relatives with severe cognitive impairments at the hospital door and the difficulties of sheltering in place with people with dementia who could not understand safety regulations or describe their symptoms Direct care workers were compelled to accept unsafe conditions or leave the labor force At the same time however the disaster provided an impetus for change and helped activists and scholars develop a vision of a future in which care is central to social life Elder Care in Crisis exposes the harrowing state of growing old in America offering concrete solutions and illustrating why they are necessary Self Taught Norm Polonski, 1967 A plan for use in the San Diego schools is outlined for a voluntary teacher centered inservice training program to take place within the school day This plan would use the many available teacher education films for inservice education avoiding the additional inconvenience entailed in the planning and staffing of workshops or inservice programs requiring course attendance These films would form the basis for all inservice education Each month the teachers in each department would select an appropriate film for their students to view in the auditorium while they the teachers would be viewing a recent teacher education film chosen from a list of 66 compiled by the secondary instructional committee The plan would be entirely voluntary requiring no tests term papers or extra curricular activities but also offering no artificial incentives such as salary credits The pilot project is targeted to begin in January 1968 with one person in each secondary school in the area having been contacted to aid in explaining and promoting the program This article appeared in sdta bulletin volume 48 no 3 December 1967 P 9 aw
