Pediatric Mental Health for Primary Care Providers Sarah Y. Vinson, Ebony S. Vinson, 2018-09-28

The purpose of this book is to provide a children s mental health resource tailored to the needs of physicians working with children There are currently no such texts despite the fact that there are patient care healthcare systems and workforce factors that indicate a strong need for such a resource Approximately 1 in 5 children are diagnosed with a mental illness by the age of 18 Additionally mental health conditions including Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder are consistently among the most common chronic conditions in pediatric clinical populations Delays in both diagnosis and treatment increase the morbidity associated with these conditions These delays expose the child to negative ramifications of his/her illness and can impact rates of poor academic performance substance use disorders and criminal justice system involvement potentially impacting long term life trajectories Early identification of mental illness and appropriate intervention is critical to the healthy development of youth though physicians in primary care and pediatrics are seldom trained to detect and treat such illnesses The importance of recognizing mental illness is reflected in practice guidelines for pediatric primary care providers as well as in how service delivery is being structured but this does not offer in depth clinical guidelines Additionally integrated care and medical home models include mental health as key components though yet again physicians are often not trained to work with these models While clearly indicated clinically these requirements do not come with significant increases in reimbursement and are added to an already demanding schedule Increasingly providers are also expected to use evidence based screening instruments without exposure to this body of literature Some guidance on using those instruments in context will help them to use those tools more effectively Finally primary care providers and even some adult psychiatrists and psychologists are operating in a healthcare system with a severe nationwide shortage of child and adolescent psychiatrists and mental healthcare providers While a text certainly cannot single handedly compensate for such a workforce shortage it could potentially help to mitigate the negative impact on patients by facilitating early identification and treatment in the primary care setting Additionally with more effective treatment in pediatric settings less complex cases may be addressed before specialty care is needed and the expertise of child and adolescent psychiatrists can be more effectively used for more complex cases Pediatric Psychiatry in Primary Care is the ultimate resource for clinicians working with children including pediatricians family physicians general psychiatrists psychologists early career child psychiatrists social workers nurses school counselors and all clinical professionals who may encounter children struggling with psychiatric disorders      Evidence-Based Psychiatry for Primary Care Providers Huynh Wynn Tran MD FACP FACR, 2025-04-05

Psychiatry Paul Summergrad,Roger G. Kathol,2014-04-26 Integrated Care in Psychiatry Redefining the Role of Mental Health Professionals in the Medical Setting is a landmark title in the field offering a clear detailed and cohesive call by leading experts for coordinated care for patients with concurrent psychiatric and medical conditions The renowned editors and authors argue that what is slowly occurring and greatly needed at a faster pace is nothing less than a sea change in the way that psychiatric care will be delivered The current mostly segregated medical and psychiatric model of care has led to the development of competing medical and psychiatric subcultures that have resulted in a lack of dialog among health providers administrators and payers and thus in less than optimal patient outcomes To remedy this problem the book offers a practical insightful road map to achieving the central tenet of health reform truly coordinated patient centered care where the care experience for the patient the medical care itself and the cost outcomes improve as the system changes from fee for service to population based health An invaluable reference for all clinicians policy makers payers administrators and others interested in the debate surrounding healthcare systems Integrated Care in Psychiatry Redefining the Role of Mental Health Professionals in the Medical Setting is a major contribution to the literature and a gold standard resource Concise Guide to Psychiatry for Primary Care Practitioners Michael F. Kaiser, 1999 Concise Guide to Psychiatry for Primary Care Practitioners is designed as a quick reference to help primary care practitioners to better understand diagnose and initially manage mental illnesses This easy to read manual represents the collaborative efforts of 17 experienced psychiatrists from a variety of specialties The Primary Care Toolkit Larry James, William O'Donohue, 2008-12-16 Integrated care is receiving a lot of attention from clinicians administrators policy makers and researchers Given the current healthcare crises in the United States where costs quality and access to care are of particular concern many are looking for new and better ways of delivering behavioral health services Integrating behavioral health into primary care medical settings has been shown to 1 produce healthier patients 2 produce medical savings 3 produce higher patient satisfaction 4 leverage the primary care physician's time so that they can be more productive and 5 increase physician satisfaction For these reasons this is an emerging paradigm with a lot of interest and momentum For example the President's New Freedom Commission on Mental Health has recently endorsed redesigning the mental health system so that much of this is integrated into primary care medicine Caring for People with Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders in Primary Care Settings National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Health and Medicine Division, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Board on Health Care Services, Forum on Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders, 2021-01-30 Behavioral health conditions which include mental health and substance use disorders affect approximately 20 percent of Americans Of those with a substance use disorder approximately 60 percent also have a mental health disorder As many as 80 percent of patients with behavioral health conditions seek treatment in emergency rooms and primary care clinics and between 60 and 70 percent of them are discharged without receiving behavioral health care services More than two thirds of primary care providers report that they are unable to connect patients with behavioral health providers because of a shortage of mental health providers and health insurance barriers Part of the explanation for the lack of access to care lies in a historical legacy of discrimination and stigma that makes people reluctant to seek help and also led to segregated and inhumane services for those facing mental health and substance use disorders In an effort to understanding the challenges and opportunities of providing essential components of care for people with mental health and substance use disorders in primary care settings the National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine's Forum on Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders convened three webinars held on June 3 July 29 and August 26 2020 The webinars addressed efforts to define essential components of care for people with mental health and substance use disorders in the primary care setting for depression alcohol use disorders and opioid use disorders opportunities to build the health care workforce and delivery models that incorporate those essential components of care and financial incentives and payment structures to support the implementation of those care models including value based payment strategies and practice level incentives This publication summarizes the presentations and discussion of the webinars      Textbook of Administrative Psychiatry John A.
