Tibetan Buddhist Philosophy of Mind and Nature Douglas S. Duckworth,2019 Tibetan Buddhist Philosophy of Mind and Nature is a philosophical overview of Tibetan Buddhist thought Charting the different ways Buddhist traditions in Tibet configure the relationship between Madhyamaka and Mind Only Duckworth shows how these configurations inform the shape of distinct contemplative practices Rickert's Relevance Zijderveld,2021-10-18 In the wake of the renewed interest in the philosophy of Immanuel Kant the neo Kantian theories of Heinrich Rickert 1863 1936 are increasingly drawing attention This monograph is an attempt to rescue Rickert from an undeserved oblivion by an analysis of his systematic philosophy of values The author discusses Rickert s epistemology and ontology which lay the foundation for a methodology of the Natural Sciences and the Humanities In Rickert s view these types of science are not in opposition to each other but operate on a continuum between two extremes a generalizing natural scientific and an individualizing cultural scientific approach to reality The social sciences in particular operate on this continuum in a flexible manner sometimes close to the natural scientific pole as in the case of experimental psychology or econometrics sometimes close to the cultural scientific approach as in the case of cultural sociology or cultural history Thus there is in Rickert s logic of science no room for any methodological quarrel Conversation Analytic Perspectives on English Language Learning, Teaching and Testing in Global Contexts Hanh thi Nguyen,Taiane Malabarba,2019-02-26 This edited volume brings together 10 cutting edge empirical studies on the realities of English language learning teaching and testing in a wide range of global contexts

Social Structure and Forms of Consciousness, Volume 1 István Mészáros, 2010-02 This new work the first in a two volume series by the leading Marxian philosopher of our day is a milestone in human self understanding It focuses on the location where action emerges from freedom and necessity the foundation of all social science Today as never before the investigation of the close relationship between social structure defined by Marx as arising from the life process of definite individuals and the various forms of consciousness is particularly important We can only perceive what is possible by first identifying the historical process that constrains consciousness itself and therefore social action The relationship between social structure and forms of consciousness discussed in this volume is multifaceted and profoundly dialectical It requires the presentation of a great wealth of historical material and the assessment of the relevant philosophical literature from Descartes through Hegel and the Liberal tradition to the present together with their connections with political economy and political theory István Mészáros moves beyond both abstract solutions to the surveyed methodological questions and one sided structuralist evaluation of the important substantive issues bringing the process of our understanding of social structure and consciousness to a level not previously attained Above all in the spirit of the Marxian approach even the most complicated problems are always analyzed in relation to the major practical concerns of our time The primary aim of this work is to outline the dialectical intelligibility of historical development toward a viable societal reproductive order Social Structures and Forms of Consciousness is of the highest importance as both a political and philosophical work illuminating the place from where we must act today

The Word Became Flesh David Graham Griffin, 2016-05-16 Is following Jesus natural Many would say no but this book argues yes Saying no suggests that grace and human nature are alternate moral categories Saying yes implies that our humanity is gracious in origin capacity and intent Much of this discussion hangs on what is meant by nature and natural and this book explores these ideas creationly and christologically Part One considers natural law as commonly found in the classical Christian tradition Part Two explores the radical christological tradition of Anabaptism Part Three then proposes the two nature christology of the Chalcedonian definition as a theological resource enabling their reconciliation The Chalcedonianism of the modern Barth and the ancient Maximus the Confessor are appropriated along with scientific theology of T F Torrance and Nancey Murphy If Chalcedon correctly affirms Jesus's humanity as being homoousios one nature with our humanity created like Adam's through the eternal Spirit then Jesus's life was natural proper to its created intent And as his divine nature was homoousios with the Father's nature he is the human expression of the divine Word which gives creation its contingent moral rationality As such the life of Jesus Anabaptists concern is morally normative for all humanity natural law s concern The Signifier Pointing at the Moon Raul Moncayo, 2018-05-08 Within the context of a careful review of the psychology of religion and prior non Lacanian literature on the subject Raul Moncayo builds a bridge between Lacanian psychoanalysis and Zen Buddhism that steers clear of reducing one to the other or creating a simplistic synthesis between the two Instead by making a purposeful One mistake of unknown knowing this book remains consistent with the analytic unconscious and continues in the splendid tradition of Bodhidharma who did not know Who he was and told Emperor Wu that there was no merit in building temples for Buddhism Both traditions converge on the teaching that true subject is no ego or on the realisation that a new subject requires the symbolic death or deconstruction of imaginary ego identifications Although Lacanian psychoanalysis is known for its focus on language and Zen is considered a form of transmission outside the scriptures Zen is not without words while Lacanian psychoanalysis stresses the senseless letter of the Real or of a jouissance written on and with the body
