educational contexts How are educational choices and experiences intertwined with materialities of spaces and bodies What assemblages of human and non human may occur in language education contexts Each chapter questions in its own way the notion of the human subject as rational enlightened being and sole possessor of agency and offers examples of allowing for other than human agency to enter the picture Together the contributors exemplify how researchers who have been committed to social constructionist thinking for most of their careers learn to make space for new theories thus inspiring and encouraging readers to remain open for new intellectual and embodied endeavors
