Realms Meaning:

Realms of Meaning Thomas R. Hofmann, 2015-05-12 Realms of Meaning presents an accessible introduction to semantics. It provides an understanding of the way meaning works in natural languages against a background of how we communicate with language. Avoiding theoretical terminology and linguistic theories, it concentrates instead on the analysis of meaning and looks in depth at such subjects as opposites and negatives, modal verbs, prepositions, and word meanings. Examples are chosen mainly from English to provide material for the wider discussion of the principles of the subject, but European, East Asian, and other languages also provide illuminating examples. Meaning and Power in a Southeast Asian Realm Shelly Errington, 2014-07-14 The ruler in the Indic States of Southeast Asia was seen not as the head of state but as the center or navel of the world. Like polities, persons, and houses were and are viewed as centered spaces, locations where spiritual potency can gather. Shelly Errington explores the politics of constituting and maintaining such centered socio-political spaces in a former Indic State called Luwu, which lies in South Sulawesi, Celebes, Indonesia. The meaning of political life and the ways its cultural forms were and are sustained depend on locally construed ideas of power or spiritual potency, and the person which the author explores in detail. She views the polity neither as a frame in which political actors pursue advantage nor as a structure for extracting wealth but as a hierarchical system of signs ultimately backed by force, but force which was not fully centralized and whose import must be understood within ideas about spiritual potency widespread in the region. Although focused on Luwu, the book's theoretical scope is wide and it ranges comparatively over a broad geographical area, making a contribution to ethnographic, historical, and regional studies as well as to the study of politics in nonsecular societies. Part One traces how the person, the house, and the polity are constituted symbolically in everyday practices as centered spaces. Part Two examines how centers can be de-centered, while Part Three explores the structure that tended to hold centers together in Luwu and other Indic States. The introduction and the three conclusions, each of the three being broader than the last in comparative scope, locate the author's views with respect to other current theoretical approaches to power and culture. Short, 2019-10-11 This book exhibits a collection of proposals for how school curriculum may be conceived, designed, and realized. These proposals are drawn from writers both past and present who have presented some particular vision of what curriculum could be like for Pre-K-12 schools and have sought to convince others to adopt their proposal for use in some actual school situation. The proposals differ from one another in a variety of ways, including in their purposes their contents and their perspectives and thus pose a wealth of options for consideration by those who are planning to change their school curriculum to something new and more suitable for their particular clientele Readers will need to weigh the appeal of various proposals presented here against criteria they have for locating an optimum model for their particular situation The proposals selected for inclusion in this book address the whole of the curriculum all levels all subjects all age groups they deal with entire program change rather than with incidental changes in content program arrangements teaching approaches or other limited alterations This book is intended to be a useful resource for those responsible for making decisions in a particular school or school district or at a broader policy making level about what the entire curriculum should be and should include It draws attention to the work of many thoughtful persons who have dealt with the issue of what a coherent curriculum might be like and who in some instances have set up actual programs based on their ideas

Rickert's Relevance Zijderveld,2021-10-18 In the wake of the renewed interest in the philosophy of Immanuel Kant the neo Kantian theories of Heinrich Rickert 1863 1936 are increasingly drawing attention This monograph is an attempt to rescue Rickert from an undeserved oblivion by an analysis of his systematic philosophy of values The author discusses Rickert s epistemology and ontology which lay the foundation for a methodology of the Natural Sciences and the Humanities In Rickert s view these types of science are not in opposition to each other but operate on a continuum between two extremes a generalizing natural scientific and an individualizing cultural scientific approach to reality The social sciences in particular operate on this continuum in a flexible manner sometimes close to the natural scientific pole as in the case of experimental psychology or econometrics sometimes close to the cultural scientific approach as in the case of cultural sociology or cultural history Thus there is in Rickert s logic of science no room for any methodological quarrel

Through a Lens Darkly Marjorie Hewitt Suchocki,2015-01-16 What if we ask questions concerning sin and redemption outside of the religious or theological milieu After all sin functions something like religious code language for that which is problematic in human existence But all humans deal with our fragility and our penchant for harming ourselves or others and all humans seek to resolve these issues Might the religious community learn from those outside our gates Accordingly in this book a theologian seeks to gain insight from the way seven outstanding filmmakers of our time set up the problems of human existence and seek to resolve them over a series of their films Explore with her how Clint Eastwood Woody Allen Spike Lee the Coen brothers John Sayles Ang Lee and Terrence Malick define human problems and explore resolutions mark the overlap with Christianity but more importantly ponder the contrasts You ll never watch films the same way again
