takes a fresh and timely look at this rich period in English art The devastation of the First World War left the art world decentred and directionless This book is about its recovery Spalding explores how exciting new ideas co existed with a desire for continuity and a renewed interest in the past We see the challenge to English artists represented by C zanne and Picasso and the role played by museums and galleries in this period Women artists writers and curators contributed to the emergence of a new avant garde The English landscape was revisited in modern terms The 1930s marked a high point in the history of modernism in Britain but the mood darkened with the prospect of a return to war The former advance towards abstraction and internationalism was replaced by a renewed concern with history place memory and a sense of belonging Native traditions were revived in modern terms but in ways that also let in the past Surrealism further disturbed the ascetic purity of high modernism and fed into the British love of the strange Throughout these years the pursuit of the real was set against and sometimes merged with an inclination towards the romantic as English artists sought to respond to their subjects and their times
