Landscapes Beyond Land Arnar Árnason,Nicolas Ellison,Jo Vergunst,Andrew Whitehouse,2012-09-01 Land is embedded in a multitude of material and cultural contexts through which the human experience of landscape emerges Ethnographers with their participative methodologies long term co residence and concern with the quotidian aspects of the places where they work are well positioned to describe landscapes in this fullest of senses The contributors explore how landscapes become known primarily through movement and journeying rather than stasis Working across four continents they explain how landscapes are constituted and recollected in the stories people tell of their journeys through them and how in turn these stories are embedded in landscaped forms

Richard Scarry: A Biography Sidot Jean Avignon,2012-05-14 Richard Scarry was a prolific children s book author and illustrator who is best known for writing stories about animals who take on human characteristics In addition to featuring animals in his stories Scarry s writing often features minimal description focusing exclusively on the characters action of the moment This helps catch children s attention and makes the books more popular with children than similar children s books Despite its simplicity Scarry s work was not devoid of controversy He illustrated his stories using animals who wore clothes suited to what they were doing However until the late 1970s all of his female characters wore dresses and all his male characters wore pants In addition female characters dressed exactly like male ones if they were engaging in activities that were traditionally male oriented While Scarry maintained that there were no gender based undertones to his work and that he believed anyone who was doing certain activities such as driving a truck would wear similar clothes his attitudes did not sit well with some feminists
