Look At Leninism:

A Look at Leninism Ron Taber, 1988 Lenin and Leninism: Lenin as the Organizer and Leader of the Russian Communist Party Joseph Stalin, 2024-05-09

In April 1920 Stalin wrote a commemorative article titled Lenin as the Organizer and Leader of the Russian Communist Party often grouped under Lenin and Leninism. Delivered on Lenin's 50th birthday at a Moscow Party Committee meeting, it was published soon afterward. In it, Stalin praised Lenin's personal role in building and guiding the Bolshevik Party, attributing to him almost all strategic and organizational achievements of the Revolution. The piece takes on a reverential tone common in Soviet cult of personality, later and sought to remind readers of Lenin's indispensable contribution. This article appeared in 1920 in Moscow, likely in party newspapers or bulletins. It has two sections: the organizer and the leader, though the subtitle used by the Collected Works suggests it was one article. Stalin recounts Lenin's early underground work, the foundation of Bolshevik newspapers, victory in factional struggles, and leadership during the Civil War. The core content is laudatory biography; for example, Stalin writes of Lenin's strategy in the October Revolution, his unifying tactics for Soviets, and his influence on policy. Alternative titles are usually not used in English, except Lenin as Organizer; some later editions simply list it under Lenin and Leninism. The style is hagiographic rather than analytical, reflecting its purpose as a eulogy. Its historical importance is mainly in how it set a tone for Stalin's own image making. Published during Lenin's lifetime, it helped inaugurate the narrative that Stalin was Lenin's right hand man and successor, thus bolstering Stalin's standing. In Soviet history, it has been widely cited as evidence of Stalin's loyalty and ideological continuity with Lenin. After Stalin's death, the article was included in Stalin's Works, Vol. 4 (1917-1920), as noted by the official editors. Today, it is viewed as a propagandistic piece reflecting early Soviet efforts to mythologize Lenin; nevertheless, its depictions of events such as Lenin's role in party congresses have sometimes served historians as a source, albeit a very partisan one. This modern Critical Reader's Edition includes an illuminating afterword tracing Stalin's intellectual relationships with revolutionary philosophers and politicians, including Hegel, Feuerbach, Engels, and Ricardo, containing unique research into his intellectual development and economic metaphysical theories, religious impulses masquerading as materialism, a comprehensive timeline of his life and works, a glossary of Lenin-Stalinist terminology, and a detailed index of his work.

Works Combined with the scholarly amplifying material, this professional translation is an indispensable exploration of Stalin's world-changing philosophy, which he manifested into one of the most terrifying authoritarian regimes ever created.

This first full-length treatment of Lenin's studies of Hegel presents Lenin as a major figure in Hegelian Marxism, providing a more nuanced portrait of his work than that of either official Marxist-Leninism or most Western accounts. With impressive argumentation and wide-ranging scholarship, Anderson presents us with a Lenin that no one seriously interested in current debates over the relevance of Marxist theory to socialist practice can afford to miss. Soviet Scholasticism J.E. Blakeley,2012-12-06 The present work is a study of the method of contemporary Soviet philosophy By Soviet philosophy we mean philosophy as published in the Soviet Union For practical purposes we have limited our attention to Soviet sources in Russian in spite of the fact that Soviet philosophical works are also published in other languages see B 2029 21 38 The term method is taken in the sense usual in Western books on methodology 1 In view of the content of the first chapter it will be useful to explain the last term a little more fully By method we mean a procedure and it is obvious that the principles according to which a procedure is carried out are rules i.e. imperatives which tell us not what is but what should be done Such imperatives may or may not be connected with and founded on certain descriptive statements the fact that every rule of formal logic is based on a corresponding law has been well known since Husserl's Logische Untersuchungen and is generally accepted in contemporary logic but such a foundation is irrelevant to a methodological study The object of such a study is to find out what these rules are why they are accepted and how they are interconnected and applied This is how methodology the science of method is conceived in Western treatises on the subject and this is also the standpoint assumed here
