Man Time Fossils The Story Of Evolution:

Paleoneurology 1804-1966 T. Edinger, 2012-12-06 Dr Tilly Edinger's first published paper dealt with a brain cast in more exact terms an endocast of the cranial cavity of Nothosaurus a Triassic relative of the plesiosaurs With this she embarked on a working lifetime of devotion to paleoneurology a field of study that she was to transform A daughter of the famous neurologist Ludwig Edinger it was appropriate as well as fortunate that her early interest in fossil vertebrates should have become focused upon the recovery of such information concerning the history of the central nervous system as could be obtained from fossil material Her father evidently had no direct influence upon her choice of this then obscure and difficult subject although within the family circle she presumably absorbed from him some appreciation of paleoneurology Indirectly however through his accumulation in Frankfurt of an outstanding collection of recent brains he provided the comparative material essential to her studies during the years she spent there Early in her career she published Die Fossilen Gehirne 1929 Here was gathered together for the first time nearly all the widely scattered information on the topic It had an immediate effect As one author justly remarked this invaluable review serves not only as a basis for continuing and systematizing research on brain casts but also as an indication of the more serious gaps in present knowledge Simpson 1933 The bibliography appended to it listed 250 titles A bibliography she published in 1937 included 160 additional titles

Time Matters Michael Leddra, 2010-04-09 Time Matters provides an invaluable insight into the background behind some of the key concepts we use in Earth science today It shows the historical context in which these ideas were developed the important contributions of individual scientists and thinkers and how these ideas continue to shape our view of science and the world in which we live The book covers subjects such as the age of the earth catastrophism vs uniformitarianism evolution vs creationism plutonism vs neptunism continental drift and plate tectonics It explores the people involved their ideas and the scientific and religious power politics involved in the development. It is effectively partly a review of the way in which science works or does not work. The text includes questions and comment boxes which help the reader to appreciate and understand the ideas and concepts that have been included and their problems, strengths or weaknesses. Accessible introduction does not assume prior knowledge. Teaches scientific thought particularly the use of evidence. Topic based. Uses a set of key geological theories. This book is written for anyone with an interest in geology and the history of science but will be particularly valuable to university or high school students beginning a study of earth science for the first time.

Ancient Pakistan - An Archaeological History Mukhtar Ahmed, 2014-05-29

Ancient Pakistan An Archaeological History deals with the prehistory of Pakistan from the Stone Age to the end of the Indus Civilization. This particular volume The Stone Age concerns with the first appearance of man in northern Pakistan more than a million years ago and traces his cultural history up to the emergence of agriculture and sedentary living in this region. The book is written for students of ancient history, anthropology and archaeology. The material is generously illustrated with a large number of maps, tables, drawings and colored photographs. Each Section is provided with extensive references to the text and a comprehensive bibliography is provided for those who want to dig deeper into the subject. Although the book primarily deals with the Greater Indus Valley, its scope is much wider; the subject has been discussed in context with the paleolithic of India, Central Asia and Iran. The story of human evolution provides a constant background.

Anthropology Ram Nath Sharma, Rajendra K. Sharma, 1997
